

Football Film at Craterian Wednesday Will Benefit Local Team

PROCEEDS WILL SWELL FUND FOR NEW EQUIPMENT

Thoughts of Medford high school students will turn from doings of their football squad tomorrow for a gridiron picture of the screen, "Saturday's Millions" which will be staged at Hunt's Craterian theater as a benefit for the equipment fund for the local team.

Backers of the Medford Tigers are anxious to see their boys in brand new uniforms this season and among other money raising stunts secured the co-operation of George Hunt to help swell the fund being raised for the purpose.

The picture is most appropriate for the occasion, being a screen version of Lucien Cary's story which ran in the Saturday evening Post recently. Robert Young has the role of Jim Fowler and Lella Hyams is the girl. Johnny Mack Brown, Andy Devine, Grant Mitchell, Mary Carlisle and Lucille Lund, the latter chosen as the all-American girl in a nationwide contest, are also featured in the cast.

The football scenes are handled by a group of all-American football stars.

FRANKLIN LAUDED BY MEN OF TROY AS BEST PLAYER

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 24.—(AP)—University of Southern California's football team returned home yesterday from Portland where it was held to a scoreless tie Saturday by Oregon State, with nothing but praise for Coach Louie Stiner's team.

The Trojan squad was met at the depot by the band, and escorted to the campus where a big rally was held.

"The game was just like a couple of automobiles meeting at an intersection," said Willis O. Hunter, athletic director. "Southern California and Oregon State hit head-on and nothing but a tie could result. That was all."

Southern California's players said Norman Franklin, Beaver, best back, was the best football player they had come up against this year and that he lived up to advance reports completely.

Aaron Rosenberg, guard, who suffered a broken cheek bone, and Haskell Workins, fullback, who hurt his side, were taken to a hospital for observation, but each was expected to be ready to start against California at Berkeley Saturday.

Captain Orr and Captain Gill will line up their teams for a battle on the Elks' alleys tonight.

City League.
Bowman's Barber Shop bowlers made a clean sweep of their match with the Copco team in the City League last night at the Nat alleys. Diamond, Gates and Erickson rolled in the 300 class for the barbers, while Dick Smith of the lightkeepers was alone in the charmed circle for his team. Frank Husong of Copco was high game man for the evening with 206 in the middle range.

The Mail Tribune and Office Boys meet tonight in the City League.

KLAMATH GIRDLING FOR FRIDAY GAME WITH TIGER TEAM

By HAROLD GROVE.
Reports from Klamath Falls indicate that the Pelicans are working hard to round into shape for the Medford Tigers Friday in that city, and that the Pelicans will not be a push over. So far this season the Pelicans have held their own. Recently they held the strong Corvallis high school squad to a 0 to 0 tie. Corvallis has defeated Eugene high, rated a state contender.

their daily two and a half hours of practice cheerfully. The win over Marshfield put new life in the squad. It acted as a tonic to both the inexperienced and experienced players. Those that were inexperienced gained a feeling of self-assurance. They are no longer scared of making a mistake or to fight when sent into the game. They have learned that no matter how much experience a player has, he must possess the spirit of the game and have the ginger to back it up.

Coach D. K. Burgher and Assistant Coach E. M. Kirtley are drilling the boys hard on grid tactics. Mr. Burgher and Mr. Kirtley both stated that the only way Medford has been able to stay on the winning side of the Southern Oregon football ledger is by hard fighting in the games and hard, energetic practice in preparation. Although Klamath is not rated very high this year in comparison of scores, she does possess a lot of big, strong country lads, who will fight like wildcats to keep from going down

Medford Hunter Bags 3 "Chinks" With One Shot

That little saying about killing two birds with one stone will have to be revised slightly, for today's edition. It seems that L. G. Morthland of the Medford Flower shop was pheasant hunting in the Talent district yesterday, and with one shot brought three fine pheasants down.

He didn't shoot a second time, for fear of being arrested. For two shots equal six birds, when there should be only for to comply with the hunting laws.

WARBURTON LOST THIRTEEN POUNDS AT GRID SHOW-UP

LOS ANGELES.—(AP)—It took a year, but finally the truth concerning Irvine Warburton's loss of 13 pounds in weight the first day of football practice in 1932 is out.

"Scooter" Warburton, University of Southern California's 145 pounds of quarterback, can safely tell about it now that he is the first string alternate on the Trojan team this year.

"I had always heard that Coach Howard Jones wouldn't consider a quarterback unless he was big," said Scooter. "So I waited until no one was looking and after tipping the scales at 148 wrote down 161 after my name."

"When I weighed in again after practice, Bill Hunter, the athletic director, was there, and I couldn't do anything about it. He looked at me kind of funny, but never said anything.

"I didn't say anything either. We just let it go at that."

The tow-headed San Diego youth whose wild runs were important factors in the defeat of Notre Dame and Pittsburgh last year, admits that he became rather obese after working in the motion picture studios the past summer.

Hunter was on hand when he came in this season at a legitimate 153, but it didn't last long. Scooter is back to 145, the weight at which he won the state quarter-mile title several years ago and the same weight at which he ran on the Trojan relay team last spring.

So, explains Warburton, the added weight won't cut his speed down much. He is a junior this season, which Trojan opponents of next year probably will regret very much.

To Consider Budget—At a special meeting got the city council, October 31, in the city hall, the public is being invited to attend the session, when the budget will be gone over, and adopted. Any complaints or objections will be considered by the budget committee and the city council.

CUE ARTIST WILL PERFORM TONIGHT

R. C. Downes, known throughout the country as a wizard of the billiard cue, will give an exhibition of trick and novel shots at the Estes billiard parlors on Front street this evening. Downes, who hails from Detroit, Mich., has traveled throughout the country for many years, displaying his skill in an intricate repertoire which features the balancing of 24 balls on two cues.

Following his performance here, which incidentally will mark his fourth visit to Medford, Downes will continue his journey south, stopping in Ashland for an exhibition, probably Wednesday.

BOWLING

Elks.
Captain Sherwood's team rolled over the Bowman quintet like a forest fire last night to inaugurate the bowling tournament at the Elks' club, taking three straight games by substantial margins. With a total of 2677 for the match, the Sherwood outfit has a good chance for the weekly high-match total prize.
