

HOLZGANG'S SUIT FOR DAMAGE PUT FIRST ON DOCKET

The personal injury suit of Victor Holzgang, 10, against Mrs. L. T. Ward of Red Bluff, Cal., for $25,000 general damages and $532 for medical and hospital services, was yesterday placed first on the calendar for the circuit court term scheduled to start Monday, November 6.

Suit of the Columbia River Paper company against W. H. Arnold and 27 other asserted members of the Medford Pear association, is listed as the second case. It is an action to recover $3,000 for fruit wrapping paper the company furnished, ostensibly for the association, upon orders of L. A. Banks, former local agitator. It is held by the defendants that the paper was used by Banks in his own enterprises, and that it was a private—not an association—sale, and collection should be sought from Banks, not the members.

The court held that the case was at issue yesterday, following arguments on various legal points, and an ultimatum from the bench that hereafter attorneys must be prepared to go to trial on calendar dates. The Holzgang damage suit is filed through his mother, as guardian ad litem. The complaint sets forth that on September 24 last, about 2:30 p. m., young Holzgang was proceeding on the Jacksonville highway to his home, which faces that thoroughfare, when he was struck by the auto driven by Mrs. Ward, at an allegedly imprudent rate of speed.

Mrs. Ward, in her answer, charges that young Holzgang was riding on the rear of a truck driven by his brother, and alighted from it a short time before the accident. It is alleged that the boy, without looking in either direction, darted across the highway and ran into the Ward auto, and that the accident was "unavoidable" by reason of this alleged negligence.

The third action scheduled is that of A. W. Pipes against R. L. Wynn, for money. The week of November 13 will be devoted to the regular Josephine county term, and Judge Norton will return here November 20 to resume the hearing of civil actions.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—WITHOUT CALOMEL And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rinin' to Go

If you feel sour and gunk and the world feels punk, don't waste a cent on calomel and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine. For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your discomfort is food that doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas floats up your stomach. You have a thick, sour, and your breath is foul. Your skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

283 SHEEP KILLED BY DOGS DURING YEAR IN COUNTY, CLAIMS SHOW

Dogs have killed 283 sheep on the ranges of Jackson county, according to records of the county clerk's office, so far this year. The ravage is blamed mostly upon police dogs, whose wolfish instincts have come to the front, causing them to run wild in the rural areas. The county pays $2 per head for each sheep killed, payment being made from the dog license fund.

Whenever a sheep owner gets a chance, he shoots the dog that is molesting his flock. Several have thus had their sheep-killing days and nights terminated. Reports of the county clerk show that so far, "no dog with a license tag" has been killed.

While the police dog gets all the odium, shepherds say that a hunting dog has strong inclinations in the same direction, and that most any dog, licensed or unlicensed, will slay a sheep when opportunity offers.

Phillip and Rohr, shepherds, filed a claim yesterday with the county court for 30 sheep killed last week, by raids of dogs. They have been the heaviest losers. C. J. Haas of the Beagle district has also suffered heavily, losing between 15 and 20 sheep. A number of shepherds from the Applegate district have also sustained losses.

BABY ANNOUNCEMENT FOR MOORES UNIQUE

Reporting the arrival of a baby daughter to Mr. and Mrs. James C. (Dinty) Moore of Oregon State college, Corvallis, clever announcements were received in this city today, in which a smart bit of peer advertising was combined with the family news.

A faster warm-up with winter 76. New Vaporization Control eliminates Cylinder Starvation

BEFORE AFTER. TWO Cylinders Firing SIX Cylinders Firing. X-ray view of cylinder head as you press starter button on cold morning—ordinary gasoline in the carburetor. The reason is an unbalanced volatility which causes uneven fuel distribution, especially at cold temperatures. The result is a balky motor—hard to start and requires a long warm-up. If your motor is in this class—change to Winter 76. X-ray view of cylinder head of same engine as you press starter button on cold morning—Winter 76 in the carburetor. Note the even charge of all cylinders and absence of cylinder starvation. The reason is that the balanced volatility of Winter 76 gives instant and uniform fuel distribution even at cold temperatures. The result is a quick start, less warm-up, fast "early morning" acceleration, and a sharp reduction in cold motor wear.

DOES your motor pop, sputter, or grind for a minute or two when you start up in the morning? If it does, the reason is CYLINDER STARVATION—so called because cylinders farthest from the carburetor are not getting a full charge of vaporized gasoline and only one or two cylinders fire when you touch the starter. HOW TO CORRECT The remedy is to use Winter 76—the gasoline refined to minimize Cylinder Starvation. Winter 76 contains more fractions which vaporize quickly at cold temperatures. Too, its volatility is properly balanced to insure an even flow of mixture to all cylinders instantly at starting. FAST "EARLY MORNING" ACCELERATION With all cylinders firing instantly the morning warm-up period is greatly shortened. Instead of your motor grinding and popping, you step right out in the various gears with a new burst of speed. OTHER BENEFITS With Winter 76 you start quicker because all cylinders fire. Less "choking" is required. Less gasoline is consumed. There is less wear on the engine because most motor wear takes place at starting and during the warm-up period. By shortening this period motor wear is sharply reduced. Dilution is minimized because there is less unburned gasoline to pass down cylinder walls and thin crankcase oil. HIGHER ANTI-KNOCK LEADER In addition to the extra winter features 76 contains more Pentanes (higher anti-knock fractions) than other gasolines and gives you the benefit of other premium qualities—the same superior mileage with more reserve power, NO vapor-lock, and greater acceleration. NO EXTRA COST Don't go through the winter with a balky motor that must be warmed up for several minutes before you can throw it into gear. Use Winter 76, the Higher Anti-knock Leader—the gasoline that gives you a faster warm-up by eliminating Cylinder Starvation. One test will demonstrate its advantages. Change NOW. NO EXTRA COST. ANOTHER GREATER GASOLINE VALUE. HIGHER ANTI-KNOCK LEADER 76 GASOLINE. A special fuel for use in extra high compression Motors.
