ground while Somerville P. Tuck, first secretary, and press officers of the embassy, introduced each person.

The colonel shook hands with each, including the novelist, Ernest Hemingway, who happened to be in the embassy, but restricted himself to saying "How do you do?" and the interview was over.

Two Recognize Lindy. Then, bareheaded, and with Mrs. Lindbergh, he strode through the rain across the street to the hotel, noticed only by two women who stopped in their tracks and stared in amazement.

In contrast with his 1927 trip, when he flew alone, he came out of the night-shrouded foggy sky last night accompanied by Mrs. Lindbergh, to alight at the Les Mureaux naval airport on the Seine, 25 miles west of here.

The takeoff had been made at Inverness, Scotland.

The couple then was brought to the Hotel Crillon in this city, recognized only by airport officers, who had been ordered to maintain secrecy.

Inspects Plane. The colonel's first daylight view of Paris when it was not cheering him, was a fleeting glimpse as he returned to Les Mureaux in the automobile of Pierre Cot, air minister, to look over his plane.

He slipped, almost unobserved and bareheaded, out a side door of the hotel, strode quickly to the automobile, crossed the city, remained 20 minutes at the airport and then returned to Paris.

The Lindberghs slept until nearly 9 o'clock and then had breakfast in their room. Then they received a visit from American embassy officials and planned what Lindbergh was said to have described as a "few days' visit."

Mrs. Lindbergh remained in her room while the colonel went to view his plane, but left the hotel a few minutes after noon, wearing a light brown checked suit and a black felt hat.

Future Plans Veiled. Both the colonel and Mrs. Lindbergh kept their silence. Lindbergh, when approached at Les Mureaux and asked concerning his plans, replied only with a smile.

His wife, when leaving the hotel, also answered questions with a smile and a shake of her head.

SALVATION ARMY TO BENEFIT FROM CHEST

The Salvation Army will be among participants in the Community Chest this year. The name was accidentally eliminated from the list of participants given yesterday, but the Salvation Army leaders were among the first to adopt the Community Chest as the best means of caring for the local welfare and relief problem this year.

Other organizations participating are: Red Cross, Jackson County Health association, Welfare Exchange, Y. W. C. A., Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts.

Has Injured Hand—Ed Nelson of the Crater Lake national park, was brought to the Community hospital Wednesday for treatment of his left hand, which was badly injured when caught in a wood saw which he was operating. Several stitches were taken in the wound and his condition was described as much improved today.

Miss Wheeler Killed—Word has been received in the valley that Miss Ethel Wheeler, English instructor at Ashland from 1923-25, was killed Saturday in an automobile accident in New York.

COUNTY BUDGET DRAFTERS GIVEN RAP BY GRANGE

A resolution adopted last Saturday, purportedly signed by Sams Valley Grange No. 666, concerning the county budget committee, and sponsored by L. M. Sweet of Beagle, and reported as signed by five people, is as follows:

Whereas, the Jackson county court and budget committee has seen fit to materially pyramid the county budget for the coming year, by diverse and devious ways a o m e inexcusable, unthinkable and reprehensible to the intelligence of the already overburdened taxpayers, financially struggling to save their homes from confiscation - the most serious economic crisis in our national history, when all relief agencies are appealing for aid, for food, hospitalization, clothing and shelter for the millions of our unfortunate; be it Resolved, that Sams Valley Grange No. 666 demands that every item of said budget be reduced to the minimum and all county employes be made to realize that an emergency exists in county affairs; rather than assuming the air of the "buck-passer" and insolently imposing upon the already distressed and bankrupt taxpayers by seeking wages entirely incomparable with the ability of those who have to pay.

We also demand that the salary of all chief deputies be reduced to $80 per month and no other deputy more than $70 per month for the coming year. We also call the attention of the county court and budget committee to the fact that scores of competent clerical applications for these positions at the above salaries are now on file, with more ready, awaiting an opportunity; be it also Resolved, that our master and legislative committee be empowered to serve a copy of this resolution upon the county court and budget committee.

L. M. SWEET, Passed, signed and sealed in regular session this 21st day of October, 1933.

The resolution is signed only by Sweet. It is understood that the document will be rescinded. The burden of the resolution recites that county deputies in the various offices are receiving too much money, and asks that chief deputies be paid $80 and other deputies $70 per month.

Goldstine Offers Auction Service For Rogue Valley

Having established offices in the Jackson County bank building, Samuel Goldstine, local auctioneer, has announced that he is now offering a new service to people of the Rogue River valley.

Mr. Goldstine will conduct auction sales for individuals who wish to dispose of their furniture and household goods at public auction in their homes.

During the past several years Mr. Goldstine has handled auction sales for the Medford Furniture & Hardware Co., McPherson's clothing store, dealers' co-operative automobile sales in Medford, as well as numerous auctions on the coast.

Visitors in Medford—Adolph D. Schmidt, vice-president and director of sales for the Olympia Brewing company of Olympia, Wash., accompanied by T. E. Tucker, sales manager for the same company, which brews Olympia beer, was a visitor in Medford Wednesday. The men stated that the brewery under construction in Washington at the present time is nearing completion, and will be one of the finest equipped breweries on the coast.

Dr. C. H. Paake will resume his practice of Dentistry at 319 Liberty Bldg., beginning Oct. 16. Phone 533.
