

BEAR AND BRUIN GAME SATURDAY HAS LIMELIGHT

Tilt Marks Long Negotiation To Bring Two Together—Oregon Plays Utah—Webfoots Long Favorites.

By RUSSELL J. NEWLAND Associated Press Sports Writer SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 30.—(AP)—Interseasonal engagements break in to the far western football schedule next Saturday while the only coast conference clash of the day will pit the big and little brothers of the circuit, California's Bears and the University of California at Los Angeles Bruins, against each other for the first time.

It took several years of negotiations to bring the two state institutions together on the gridiron and U. C. L. A. alumni will see their hopes fulfilled when the Bears journey to the south next week-end.

Both Going Bad Neither as yet has been able to break into the victory column of the conference. The Bruins lost to Oregon, 7-0, last Saturday and to Stanford, 3-0, earlier in the season. The Bears were defeated by Southern California, 6-3, last week end and on the preceding Saturday played a 6-6 tie with Washington State.

Rice Institute of Texas comes to San Francisco for an interseasonal tilt with University of Santa Clara's Broncos. While Santa Clara has had two discouraging setbacks through defeats by Stanford and the San Diego Marines, Coach Clipper Smith's eleven allowed a return to early season form with a 19-0 win over the Olympic club a week ago.

Oregon Plays Utah Oregon, coast conference leader with three wins and no defeats, will sidetrack its championship seeking plans for the day to meet University of Utah at Eugene.

The powerful Oregon squad will be favored to defeat the perennial champions of the Rocky Mountain conference although upsets have been the rule rather than the exception on coast gridirons this season. On the basis of comparative scores, Oregon defeated University of California at Los Angeles, 7-0, last Saturday while three weeks ago U. C. L. A. walloped Utah, 21-0.

W. S. C. Meets Gonzaga Washington State meets Gonzaga in a non-conference game at Spokane. The teams shape up on fairly even terms. Washington State lost to Oregon state, 2-0, last week and earlier in the year Oregon state and Gonzaga played a scoreless tie.

Beaten by Washington, 6-0, last week Stanford will take on the Olympic club in a game that has no bearing on the league standings. The Stanford boys hope to win as easily as possible. As on the following week they will meet Southern California in Los Angeles.

HARRIS TAKES HELM OF BOSTON RED SOX

BOSTON, Oct. 30.—(AP)—Stanley "Bucky" Harris—the boy who turned Washington up-side down by winning his first pennant—has come to Boston to manage the Red Sox.

He has signed for one year and is going to be a third base coaching box manager—not a bench manager as he was most of the time he spent with the Detroit Tigers.

Jiggs' Creator Tries His Favorite Dish

The smile on the face of George McManus at the left is one of apparent delight at the new way his favorite dish has been prepared. Oscar of the Waldorf-Astoria, shows how he fashions corned beef and cabbage, the dish McManus has made world famous in "Bringing Up Father."

As the world's greatest expert on corned beef and cabbage, George McManus, creator of the Mail Tribune's famous comic strip "Bringing Up Father," has found a recipe for the dish which raises it from its former plebeian estate to the aristocracy of the dining table. For this recipe is from Oscar, famed maitre d'hotel of the Waldorf-Astoria in New York, and one of the world's acknowledged geniuses in the art of cooking. Here is how Oscar prepared the treat:

Soak brisket of beef in cold water over night to remove sharpness of the salt and also to soften the meat. When ready to cook, place the corned beef in pot and cover with cold water. Boil over a slow fire for about 2 1/2 hours. Do not season as the meat is sufficiently salty. After the meat has been boiling for about one hour, add head of cabbage, a few medium sized carrots, potatoes and a whole onion. At the same time also add one whole clove, a few bay leaves and several pepper seeds. Cook for another hour and a half. Serve.

Sothorn Funeral Rites Kept Strictly Private

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—(AP)—The last rites for E. H. Sothorn, who devoted a lifetime to audiences will be performed without one Broadway celebratory anxious to do honor to the memory of the street's great romantic actor would have filled Manhattan's largest church but Julia Marlowe has decreed otherwise.

After the news of the 73-year old actor's death from pneumonia on Saturday was made public yesterday, his wife announced that the services would be private, attended only by herself and intimate friends. Even the time and place of the funeral was withheld. The body will be cremated.

When Sothorn retired in 1930 he brought to a close a stage career of half a century. He has started life as a painter and became the best-known Shakespearean actor of his time.

He was born in New Orleans on December 6, 1859, the son of an English actor, Edwin Askew Sothorn. His father determined that Sothorn should be a painter, and educated him accordingly. But the boy succumbed to the footlight lure in his blood. Success was assured when in 1885 Daniel Frohman asked him to join his famous Lyceum company as leading man.

By the time he turned to Shakespeare in 1900 he was already a tradition of the stage. In that year he played Hamlet with success both in New York and on the road. The next season he created his famous role of Francois Villon in "If I Were King." During that next quarter of a century it remained perhaps his most successful vehicle. Another was "The Prisoner of Zenda."

In 1904 he formed the famous partnership with Julia Marlowe. They played together until 1907, including a season in London. In 1910 Sothorn and his first wife, Virginia Harned, were divorced and he married Miss Marlowe. In 1913 they announced their retirement, migrated to England and bought a home.

But the lure of the stage was too strong. They returned to it together again and again. Finally Miss Marlowe died in 1924, but Sothorn appeared until 1930, when a heart attack finally forced him to end his brilliant career.

Those who attended the Antelope program October 27 from other districts were: Mr. and Mrs. Jim Owens, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Owens and son Eddie, Mr. and Mrs. L. Brown.

Miss Betty McEwell is staying in Medford this fall, attending high school. Miss Georgia Currier was an over night guest of Mrs. Helen Culbertson, October 26.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry returned from a few days hunting. They report that they killed a four-point buck.

DONS TRIM GONZAGA 6-0 IN SUNDAY TILT

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 30.—(AP)—Heartened by a 6-0 victory over Gonzaga, the hard-hitting University of San Francisco football dons nursed scars of battle cheerfully today.

The Dons put on a great third-period drive to defeat Gonzaga at Kezar stadium yesterday and hang up their first win of the season.

Because of rain only about 2000 spectators turned out to see San Francisco gain revenge for a 6-0 defeat at the hands of Gonzaga last year.

CHICAGO BEARS STILL UNBEATEN

CHICAGO, Oct. 30.—(AP)—Luck and a lot of smart football continued to favor the Chicago Bears and as result they stand today as the only undefeated team in the National Professional League and leaders of the western division.

The Bears pulled another of their last period rallies and, limmed the New York Giants, leaders of eastern half, 14 to 10 yesterday. Pittsburgh upset the dope by beating Boston, 16 to 14. In the other two games Brooklyn beat the Chicago Cardinals, 7 to 0, and the Green Bay pack triumphed over Philadelphia, 35 to 9.
