

SALE OF LIQUOR TO MINORS WILL BE STAMPED OUT

County and State Police Plan Steps to Curb Roadhouse Visits by Young People—'Hot Spots' Are Watched

The district attorney, sheriff and state police took steps today to curb the Jackson county roadhouses, under the Oregon law, which prohibits the sale of intoxicating liquors to minors.

Conviction calls for not less than one, nor more than four years in state prison, for the seller. The minor faces the reform school and juvenile court.

The officials stressed the fact that, under the law, the minor purchasing the liquor, as well as the one who sells it, is subject to arrest. The minor being required as a witness, to make the case valid in court. Parents are asked by the authorities to consider this and impress it upon their young. The cooperation of parents is urgently sought in the campaign.

Trouble Factors. Young boys and girls have been frequenting the resorts the past two or three months, with a number of distressing cases arising as a result, officials say. Complaints have been filed against the roadhouses by parents recently.

The state police and sheriff's office have been watching the "hot spots" the past month, and their investigations under the guise of "rumming" and "go in groups." Several questioned admitted "their mothers did not know they were out," or "their folks thought they were at the movies, or a house party."

It also developed that youth comes home from the roadhouses too fast, and that the "bathtub gin" and gasoline fall to mix.

Some Caution Patrons. The authorities state that since the fatal auto accident at Stewart avenue and Kings highway, a month ago, most of the roadhouse proprietors have cautioned patrons to "be careful, and use their heads, or Oregon will be dry in two years." Some of the places have "chased" minors away when they called. Others have not been able to lose sight of their cash registers, and take the coins of all comers.

A meeting is scheduled for this afternoon between county and city authorities to consider further plans for curbing the roadhouse evil. Those present will be County Judge Earl B. Day, Captain Lee M. Brown of the state police, District Attorney George A. Coddling, Mayor E. M. Wilson, Sheriff Walter J. Olmstead and Superintendent of City Schools E. H. Hedrick.

Control Laws Needed. Recommendations to the legislature for liquor control will also be considered. Upstate counties, confronted with the same problem, favor excise license fees, police supervision, limitation of sales in roadhouses, and non-issuance of permits to persons convicted of a liquor law violation.

"The law provides a way to take care of the seller of intoxicants to minors," said District Attorney Coddling, "but the cooperation of parents is needed, and urged, as a means of keeping youth from visiting the resorts. If they don't go, they can't get in trouble, the officers pointed out.

Authorities estimate there are between 15 and 20 "roadhouses" of one kind and another, operating in the county. Some law claims to prevent "holes-in-the-wall," where "home-brew" and "moonshine" are sold, and for the most part are of a low grade.

Ye Poet's Corner

Autumn Leaves. (By Mary O. Carey) As I sauntered down the pathway, On a lovely autumn day, I saw a leaf all golden, Let loose and fly away.

It left its bright companions "That fluttered in the sun, And seemed to gently say: "My short, sweet life is done.

Farewell, my dear companions, All clothed in colors bright, I grieve to have to leave you: And take my downward flight."

And as I saw the leaflet fall, To earth to fade and die, The thought of mortals falling In death seemed then to cry.

Each soul is just one more leaf, Falling in autumn blast, One more race is run: Death claims them all at last.

NAUGHTY WORDS BARRED BY NEW PRO GOLF CODE

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—(P)—Tournament golfers will operate under a new code of decorum if present plans of the Professional Golfers' association of America are adopted by the membership. Coincident with publication of a schedule of 16 open tournaments in the south and far west for the forthcoming winter season, the P. G. A. announced it had drawn up a code of conduct for the players. They will discuss it when they gather for the opening competition of the winter season at the Kenwood club, Bethesda, Md., November 11-12, but final action will await the P. G. A.'s annual meeting in Chicago, November 21.

Punishing violations by banishment of the offender from participation in tournaments over which the P. G. A. exercises control, the code would make it mandatory for players to observe the rules for each event and the etiquette of golf.

GILL LACKS ONE PIN FOR PERFECT GAME IN BOWLING

Jack Gill, one of the Elks club bowling stars, missed entering the charmed circle of perfect performers—a 300 game—by one pin last night, when he rolled 299 in leading his team to a victory over Captain George Rade's aggregation in a match in the lodge tonight. Gill smashed the maple for 11 straight strikes, but failed to connect for the entire ten on his last ball.

The phenomenal score, added to 181 and 209 chalked up in the first two games, gave Gill a total of 683 for the match.

Rade was also in fine form, rolling 215 in the first game, 202 in the second and 245 in the windup for a total of 662.

Summerville and Pitts Coming In Craterian Comedy

Speed and tempo are the most necessary things in directing a comedy, according to Eddie Buzzell, former stage star and stage director, who recently completed "Love, Honor and Oh, Baby!" the hilarious comedy of breach of promise suits starring Slim Summerville and Zasu Pitts, coming Thursday to the Craterian theater. Buzzell, known for his direction of both comedy and drama, as well as for his gift at "gagging" or making jokes on the spur of the moment, has successfully worked these into the latest Summerville-Pitts film. From the opening scene until the fade-out, the story develops like a bunch of firecrackers in a tin pail. Critics who have seen the picture claim that it is the fastest moving comedy in which the ever-popular comic acts have appeared.

Buzzell, during the taking of the picture, revealed his ability to "ad lib"—that is, to insert funny lines and gestures into the picture on the spur of the moment—and this is said to heighten the laugh climaxes. Whole appears as a lawyer who has a whole jail populated with his clients, and Zasu as a filing clerk who wants to save working girls from having to go to Rochester, a nearby town, with the local banker, a lecherous old vegetarian.

TIGERS TO LEAVE IN FULL STRENGTH FOR EUGENE TILT

By Harold Grote. With his football squad in full strength again, Darrin K. Burgher, Medford high school coach, will leave either Thursday or Friday morning for Eugene to meet the strong Eugene high school eleven either in a night game starting at 7:30 o'clock or an afternoon game starting at 2:30 o'clock on Friday.

Eugene high is rated as a good offensive and defensive team. Although they have only won one game this season, they are slated to give Medford a hard battle. Eugene has only been beaten once, the rest of its games having been played to a tie. Eugene depends mostly upon a two-man passing attack from Brown to Wright.

Coach D. K. Burgher announced that 22 men would be selected to make the trip. Boys eligible for the trip are: Bill Bates, Ronald Baker, Ed Bennett, Russell Brown, Keith Estes, Ray Ettinger, Bob Fowler, Alan Gebhardt, Herbert Gifford, Max Gilinsky, Lloyd Hammack, Bob Hinman, Burdette Kindred, Galen Knox, Junior Kuehnle, Sam Kroschell, Stan Kuzman, Blondy Lewis, Bob Ottoman, Joe Pizer, Bill Prentice, Orlaf Severson, Al Simmons, Pat Shaw, Don Stewart, Elmer Walker, Tommy White.

meet in Chicago today, preparatory to the Washington trip.

Quick Action Needed. Commending the President for "his earnest efforts to find an effective and just solution of the farm problem," and for progress "thus far made," the midwestern executives added their belief that "certain immediate action, supplementary to action taken by the national administration is imperative."

This immediate action, the executives asserted, includes: An NRA code for agriculture—authorizing federal determination of minimum prices for basic commodities to allow cost of production plus a reasonable profit; regulating marketing to encourage ultimate control by co-operatives and to "eliminate the speculative sale of farm commodities"; determining the amount of products to be sold on the domestic market; and providing for licensing of producers, processors and dealers in farm commodities.

Pending adoption of the NRA code, the governors recommended that the government immediately fix prices for basic farm commodities "to restore the farm commodity price index to the same level as the all-commodity price index." Inflation "under proper safeguards and control," and payment of the Fourth Liberty Loan in new currency "instead of refunding with another interest bearing bond issue," were urged.

LIQUOR CONTROL BUDGET OF CITY FUND ADDED TO

Levy Increase Seen. Although the total amount included in the budget is only slightly higher than last year, the levy will show a greater increase, was the opinion of M. L. Alford, recorder, today, due to the lower assessed valuation of property.

The levy last year was 20.7 mills. Mr. Alford anticipates a levy of 21 1/2 mills this year.

Speaking of the need to add an extra $500 to the budget for police protection, Mayor E. M. Wilson declared this morning that if Medford needed a clean-up, "and reports indicate that it does," we are going to have one.

$500 Not Enough. He also expressed the doubt that an extra $500 would care for the situation, since no legislation has been provided to care for liquor regulation, following repeal of prohibition. The last states vote on repeal November 7. The special session of the Oregon legislature is not scheduled to convene until November 20. What will occur during that two weeks period no one has volunteered to say.
