

Chest Participants Give Brief Resume of Effort

The Jackson County Red Cross, working jointly with the county court, has assisted 1995 families and 78 individuals living in this county in its social service work in the following ways:

1. Helping families to adjust budgets; find employment; assisting with direct relief if necessary to help family to help itself.
2. Working out plans with parents for their children's welfare.
3. Reporting needs discovered to the health department for all health problems.
4. Placing homeless old people where they can be taken care of.
5. Assisting with claims and hospitalization for the disabled soldier.
6. Taking care of the juvenile problems of the girls of our county as a service for the county court.
7. Giving advice and help to hundreds of travelers through the year.
8. And numerous other problems have been untangled through the services of the office.

This is what your chapter has done this year:

Four thousand two hundred sacks of flour, valued at $3275 have been received and flour valued at $4900 has been given to 1995 families.

Cotton garments and yardage valued at $923.90 were received and $3584.70 worth have been given to 811 families.

Five hundred and forty blankets and comforts have been received and bedding has been furnished 25 families in the county.

All of this has been sent to Jackson county by the National Red Cross from the government commodities given that organization for distribution over the country.

Altogether Jackson county has received $15,098.90 valuation in the flour and cotton goods and clothing. National Red Cross has sent it in an expense of 1 per cent overhead to the Washington office.

Through the fine co-operation of women, clubs and groups, this cotton has been made into children's garments in cases where the mother has been unable to sew.

Your chapter has helped 60 veteran families with adjustments of the disabled veterans claims or with other aid.

One hundred and seven people in the county have been taught first aid (2477 in the state).

Five senior and three junior life savers have won their certificates and many others have been taught to swim safely (917 in the state).

Y. W. C. A.

Free employment bureau contacts a large number of women and girls and furnishes a place where prospective employer and employee may meet.

When funds are available girls out of employment and without a home are cared for until they can look out for themselves.

Rooms are rented at very nominal cost to girls who are working, but are not able to pay much for rent or living.

Club room is used for weekly Bible study classes composed of men and women of all churches and of no church.

Groups of young people under competent adult Christian leadership have parties and meetings there regularly.

Countless unfortunate transient women and girls have been cared for for a night or two.

Ladies from out of town find it a convenient place for waiting during shopping tours in the city and for meeting each other by appointment.

All this besides the regular Y. W. C. A. activities and classes when funds permit.

Girl Scouts.

Medford Girl Scout and Boy Scout activities are now centered upon Christmas projects and community welfare work. Many unfortunate families will feel the Scout spirit and be cheered.

Scouting provides opportunities for social development and education, as well as training in special fields. Over two hundred girls are now benefiting from the Girl Scout program.

All Scouts and mothers will meet together for the first time this year tonight, Friday, November 3, at a banquet and court of awards. The January court of awards will be held at the court house, and the public is cordially invited.

MRS. CHAS. BATEMAN, Local Girl Scout Director.

Welfare Exchange.

The Welfare Exchange sewing room is conducted for the benefit of self-respecting women who prefer to earn the necessities of life rather than accept charity. Last year 100 a month were given work thereby securing comfortable, garments or food; 144 comfortable, men's women's and children's garments were made.

The expressions of appreciation for help thus received urged the committee of volunteers to carry on if you will give us $200, which will pay for supplies.

HELEN J. CARLTON, Chairman of Committee.

Boy Scouts.

Registered in 12 troops in Medford and immediate vicinity are 275 Boy Scouts—Boy Scouts who are enthusiastic in the work of Scouting.

These boys faithfully attend each troop meeting, working hard to live the Scout oath and law. They see being trained in body and mind to be clean and straight and upright—and to "Be Prepared."

LARRY SWINER, District Scoutmaster.
