DEATH, VIOLENCE IN FARM STRIKE

By PAUL MALLOS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—The Welles press probably has been the greatest influence in undermining the Grau San Martin government of Cuba.

It has been one of those things about which statesmen cannot talk openly, because in private they speak rather freely about it, and give great credit to our ambassador.

A diplomat has to be good to get away with the things Welles did down there. If he were caught in any open or official act he would have been branded as a meddler in Cuban affairs. Latin-America would have been aroused. The consequences might have been serious.

The state department was about ready to run out on Welles a few weeks ago. He led it up a blind alley by sponsoring the De Cespedes regime, which was swiftly overthrown.

Some departmental officials wanted to recognize the revolutionary Grau San Martin government, but Welles held them off. He furnished private reports indicating each succeeding week would be Grau San Martin's last. The officials grew suspicious and getting Welles out of Cuba.

During the past few days, it began to appear that his promise was finally coming true. The departmental officials began cheering for him—good old Welles, they knew he would come through.

A highly trustworthy insider in Wall Street asserts he knows that the Hearst estate sold out its holdings in the Homestead gold mine some time ago.

The buyer was supposed to be a prominent investment banking firm, unquestionably acting for a customer who wanted to keep his name quiet.

You will not see General Johnson in the movies much from now on. He has decided they do not do justice to his beauty and he is settling up correct.

Not long ago the newscasts set up their cameras in his office to photograph the dispatch of an NRA flag by Johnson's plane.

The dispatch of the Byrd flag was photographed by still cameras only. The movie men were somewhat displeased at Johnson's attitude.

Our currency talks with the British were NOT handled through the British war debt mission here.

Some incidental matters may have been taken up through it, but the real discussions were conducted via long distance telephone between Governor Harrison of the New York Federal Reserve Bank and his friend Montagu Norman, head of the Bank of England.

TROOPERS READY TO HALT CLASHES ALONG HIGHWAYS

Mid-west Seethes As Johnson Enters On Speaking Tour In Behalf Of NRA—One Killed, Several Hurt.

SIoux CITY, Ia., Nov. 6.—(AP)—SIOUX CITY, Nov. 6.—(AP)—The National Guard is being called into this center of farm strike violence today requested the aid of National Guard troops following numerous acts of violence. Burning of a Great Northern railway bridge near here was attributed by authorities to farm pickets who sought to halt a freight train.

By The Associated Press
The farm strike situation was a seething temp today with troops standing by in Iowa awaiting a call to arms as General Hugh S. Johnson, recovery administrator, turned to his middle west speaking tour.

There was a bright spot in the industrial picture, however, when John D. Moore, New York, technical adviser of the national labor board, last night said he hoped that instead of a general anthracite coal strike today in Pennsylvania, the miners would be back on their jobs.

One farm picket was killed and several were injured yesterday near Dakota City, Neb., when an automobile crashed into a truck farmers were dumping.

In Wisconsin 40,000 pounds of milk were destroyed and highways in Racine county were strewn with nails and glass to impede the moving products to market.

Governor Clyde Herring of Iowa, said he would call out troops to preserve peace, if necessary. Eight carloads of cattle were turned loose at Lawton.

WAHOO, Neb., Nov. 6.—(AP)—Three hundred farmers today picketed bridges on roads leading from this county to Iowa. Loaded trucks were permitted to pass if the driver agreed not to haul another load of farm products to market.

Members of the Saunders county farmers holiday association and the taxpayers league agreed Saturday to withhold all livestock, grains and produce from market until further notice.

COUNTY BUDGET HEARING NOV. 8

Public hearing on the 1934 budget for the courthouse auditorium Wednesday, with O. O. Alender, chairman, and the other members of the budget committee, consisting of County Commissioners R. E. Nealon and Ralph Billings, County Judge Earl B. Day and Fred E. Wald of this city, and George Alfred of Phoenix.

The budget will be read item by item, and discussed, and explained in detail. In this way, it is believed, much of the misunderstanding in the rural areas will be cleared up.

Delegations from all parts of the county will attend the meeting.

By her death, the night life of New York lost one of its most distinctive personalities. For she was in a class by herself. There was only one Texas Guinan and that meant sharp wisecracks, raucous gaiety, rowdy mirth.

BANKS EXCEPTIONS ARGUMENT IS SET FOR NOVEMBER 25

Saturday, November 25, has been set by Circuit Judge George F. Skipworth of Lane county, as the date for the argument before him, of the bill of exceptions filed in the proposed appeal to the supreme court of L. A. Banks, local agitator, now serving a life sentence in state prison for murder.

The state holds that the full transcript of the testimony should be included in the bill of exception, and not just bits of the testimony, as advanced by the defense. The defense was given until the above date to prepare the transcript.

Exceptions are based upon the claims that the introduction of a .38 calibre pistol, found in the Banks in home after the killing, as an exhibit was prejudicial, and that the closing remarks of the assistant attorney general, which he referred to Banks, as "a woman, hiding behind the skirts of a woman, to commit murder" were also prejudicial.

The murder was committed with an "elephant gun," owned by Banks. The .38 calibre pistol was introduced to show, that Banks was "an arsenal," and that he wore a pistol to the breakfast table, on the morning of the slaying, all tending to support the state's contention that the crime was premeditated. The "defense" charge was made in reply to "Defense Counsel F. J. Lomenagan likening Banks to 'Christ,' as the climax of his plea. Conduct of a woman balliff, and alleged errors of law by the court, and giving final instructions to the jury are also cited by Banks.

SALEM, Nov. 6.—(AP)—The state treasury announced today that $95,239 general fund warrants issued September 1 and 2 will be called for payment tomorrow.

Queen of Night Clubs Dies During Stage Tour

VANCOUVER, B. C., Nov. 6.—(AP)—The bizarre career of Texas Guinan has been ended by death. Far from the glittering Broadway where she found fortune, the queen of the night clubs died yesterday after an operation necessitated by an intestinal ailment.

She had been making a theatrical tour with her troupe of forty girls and entered a hospital here last Monday suffering from colitis. She had been stricken in Portland, Ore., a month ago, but had carried on until the pain forced her to leave the show.

Until Saturday she made satisfactory progress, but then complications set in, an operation was performed and she sank rapidly to her death. She lost consciousness several hours before the end came.

CHEST WORKERS GET FINAL WORD ON EVE OF DRIVE

92 Present At Luncheon And Optimism Prevails—Need For Full Co-operation Seen—Jas. Mott Is Guest.

An important broadcast featuring the Community Chest campaign, will be presented from 7:30 till 8 o'clock tonight over KMED. Pather Bill will deliver a radio address which will be of vital interest to the citizens of this community.

Mobilizing to care for Jackson County's human needs in response to the national appeal of President Roosevelt for community relief to supplement federal aid, workers in the 1933 Community Chest drive met at the Hotel Medford for luncheon today, which marked the final preparation for the drive, opening tomorrow morning.

There were 92 workers present and a spirit of optimism prevailed and individual reports, which announced that local people realize the need for immediate aid and are in a mood for giving.

Congressman James W. Mott, a special guest at the luncheon, explained the relation of the fund, community relief and the necessity for all communities to give to the fullest extent possible.

An inspiring talk was also given by Rev. W. J. Howell, who read the advertisement, released under President Roosevelt's signature asking for the mobilization of all relief agencies to care for the needs of humanly thru-out the land.

Hamilton Patton, general of the workers, outlined the various phases of the drive, which will start at 8:30 o'clock tomorrow, when all workers gather at the county court house auditorium for materials.

The slogan of this year's drive, will be "enlistment to all citizens as the mobilization begins. The progress of the drive will be indicated on the thermometer erected near the chamber of commerce.

The list of workers was announced in Sunday's Mail Tribune and in John Moffat's group Miss Frances Sparrow should have been named instead of Mrs. Alex Sparrow, as the former is a member of the S. E. Blue group. Mrs. Sparrow is not participating in the drive.

NEW YORK VOTERS GET FINAL PLEAS

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—(AP)—The New York City mayoral campaign closed today after an uproarious three-cornered race fought out amid the uncertainties of national political cross currents and the confusion of tangled party allegiances.

A banker, a Tammany politician and the son of an immigrant Italian gangmaster are the principals.

Tomorrow, some 2,300,000 voters will choose among Joseph V. McKee, independent Democrat running on the ticket of the "reform party"; Mayor John F. O'Brien, the regular Democratic nominee; and former Representative Florence H. Laguardia, progressive Republican on the Fusion ticket.

$4000 Hidden In Davenport "Safe" Goes Up In Smoke

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 6.—(AP)—A cigarette, believed by firemen to have started a fire in a davenport, cost Ward F. Dean $4000 in currency here Sunday.

Called to the Dean residence in answer to an alarm, the fire-fighters found the davenport in flames and after extinguishing the blaze, which they believed had caused but slight damage, they were informed that the article or furniture had been used by Dean as a hiding place for his savings.

FEHL IS REFUSED EXONERATION BY EX-BANKS GUARD

Earl H. Fehl, former Jackson county prisoner for conviction of ballot-theft, has been endeavoring to have Wesley McKittick, an ex-prison mate, serving one year sentence, sign an affidavit, exonerating Fehl, according to Deputy District Attorney George W. Neilson, who has returned from a week's stay in Salem, on business connected with the turnoff case.

McKittick, "captain of the Banks guards," turned state's evidence, and according to the prosecution, "gave information that undoubtedly prevented wholesale bloodshed in Jackson county." McKittick plead guilty but was ineligible for parole because of previous conviction of a felony.

McKittick is now a prison trustee. He has refused to sign the affidavit. He will be eligible for parole in eight months.

Tom L. Brecheen of Ashland, serving 18 months in state prison upon a plea of guilty of ballot-theft, has also declined to sign the affidavit. Brecheen is said to be aggrieved that he did not get a parole. He was a "bosom friend" of the turnoff leaders and one of those who were frequent guests at the county jail table, last January and February. Brecheen entered a plea of guilty, after Fehl's speedy conviction.

Both McKittick and Brecheen, the (Continued on Page Eight)

ARTIST KAYOED IN HOLLYWOOD BRAWL

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 6.—(AP)—Peter Arno, noted New York cartoonist, was knocked unconscious in a fist fight with a fashionable Embassy club early today in a dispute in which Buddy O'Neill, actor and prominent Philadelphia, figured.

Steel, claimed the knockout blow was delivered by his business manager, Gordon Butler, and Miss O'Neill denied a report made by other witnesses that she had evened matters by rapping Steel over the head with a chair.

Many of Hollywood's celebrities and Duke Duke, fortune to the $20,000,000 Doris tobacco fortune, were among the witnesses to the fight. They included Joan Crawford and Panchoy Tone, Mr. and Mrs. Clark Gable and others.

Arno, who two years ago was engaged in a similar fight with Cornelius Vanderbilt, Jr., was unavailable for a statement.

SEVEN DIE WHEN PLANE PLUNGES THROUGH HOUSE

Terrific Explosion Follows Plowing Of Machine Through Home Into Basement—Residents Burned.

SHREWSBURY, N. J., Nov. 6.—(AP)—An airplane accident which sent a National Guard craft hurtling into a bungalow killing two airmen and five others, was under a four-fold investigation today.

A terrific explosion followed the plunge of the plane into the basement of the house yesterday, and flames, sweeping upward, burned to death the five negro occupants.

The dead: Lieutenant George R. Johnson, 32, South American explorer and aerial photographer. Sergeant Alfred Poole, 35. Mrs. Margaret King, 28. June King, 5. Patricia King, 2. Edward Wilson, 38. Cora Haglund, 35.

The last four named were all negroes. They were trapped as flames, resulting from a gasoline explosion, destroyed their flimsy home.

Taking off from Red Bank airport for a photographic flight, the plane soon got out of control. It plunged through the rear wall of the King bungalow. The roof and wall splintered and collapsed, then the tank exploded with a roar and in a moment, the house was a pyre.

A neighbor said she heard a child scream, then silence. Another plane, carrying newsmen to the scene from New York, ripped off its wing when it hit an apple tree in landing. The three occupants were slightly shaken up.

Johnson, who was co-pilot of the Shippee, Johnson expedition to Peru, was president of the Aerial Exploration company of New York. Poole was married and the father of an 11-year old daughter.

DR. SALADE UNDERGOES EMERGENCY OPERATION

Suffering an acute attack of appendicitis, Dr. L. A. Salade of Seven Oaks was operated on at the Community hospital early this morning by Dr. Robert C. Coffey of Portland, who arrived at midnight by airplane. At present time Dr. Salade's condition was pronounced as serious but not alarming, and barring complications a steady recovery toward complete recovery is expected. Mrs. Wm. Crowell, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Salade arrived by plane from Los Angeles yesterday morning, after several months residence in southern California, entirely unaware of her father's illness until her arrival.

O'HANLON VISITOR ON JOURNEY TO NEW POST

A. M. (Dell) O'Hanlon, formerly the district manager of the Gilmore Oil company, with headquarters in Medford, was a visitor here today, on route to California, where he will accept an advancement from his present position.

For some time past, Mr. O'Hanlon has been assistant division manager, for the company with headquarters in Seattle, and his many friends in this section will be interested in knowing that his new position will be an advancement.

Why I Favor The Chest

The campaign for Community Chest funds tomorrow will be supported by Medford people. The citizens of this city have never failed in fulfilling their obligations and this year they have a very definite obligation to help those in need and contribute toward character-building activities. In my opinion, the Chest offers a practical and business-like method of distributing welfare funds so that the maximum may be derived.

FINAL RESPECTS PAID DR. JOHN F. REDDY AT SACRED HEART RITES

Friends from all sections of the Medford valley and a number from more distant points, came to the Sacred Heart Catholic church today to pay final respects to Dr. John Francis Reddy, prominent mine man and former mayor of Medford, at the funeral services conducted at 9 o'clock.

An abundance of floral pieces expressed further the city's appreciation of one who gave generously of his time and fortune for the development of Medford over a period of 30 years.

The Requiem high mass was celebrated by Father Francis W. Black, Fallbeers, conducting the body to its final resting place, were: Dr. James C. Hayes, Larry Schade, Gus Conner, Robert Duff, Jens Jensen and John Wilkinson.

Interment was in the pioneer cemetery at Jacksonville. Relatives from out of town here for the services were Owen Reddy of Eugene, and the late Dr. Reddy, and the following sons and daughters: Mr. and Mrs. Paul Reddy of Hollywood, Dorothea Reddy of San Francisco and John Reddy of Gonzaga college.

ARMY RECRUITING OFFICES OPENED

Colonel W. A. Covington of the Presidio, San Francisco is in Medford today assisting Sergeant Jennings O. Lowman in establishing recruiting offices for the regular army here. An announcement was made today that Sergeant Lowman will be in charge of the office, which will be located in the Medford armory.

While in this section, Colonel Covington will also assist in establishing a recruiting station at Klamath Falls. Sergeant Lowman has been on duty here for the past several months, in the COC headquarters.

HIGHER EDUCATION HEAD SAYS DEAN'S ATTACK UNWORTHY

U. of O. Law Professor Will Feel Remorse On Sober Second Thought, Avers Nelson—No Resignation.

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 6.—(AP)—Declaring that he awaits "the effect of sober second thought in the fair-minded men and women of Oregon," Roscoe C. Nelson, president of the state board of higher education, had today apparently tentatively disclaimed from consideration an attack launched at him by Dean Wayne L. Morse of the University of Oregon school of law.

"Mr. Morse seemed to think he could frighten me by calling for my resignation," Nelson said. "The sooner I get away from this noxious miasma of ignominious hatred and brain free air against the better I shall be satisfied."

No Resignation Seen
There was no immediate indication, however, that Nelson planned to sever his connection with the high education board.

He declared he believed that "in the cool dawn of some morning, when the partisan cheers subside, Mr. Morse will feel ashamed of his unworthy assault."

In an address before faculty members and alumni of the university Saturday, Dean Morse spoke of what he described as "Mr. Nelson's insulting, insinuating, unfair and vicious attack upon the faculty of the University of Oregon" at recent appearances of the board's new president at the university and at Oregon State college.

Morse alleged that Morse declared "We have stood by and witnessed the selection of a Chancellor (Dr. W. J. Kerr) by a plot so rotten that it stinks to high heaven." He criticized Chancellor Kerr for reputed failure to cooperate with the Oregon faculty. He said "The budgets of the two major institutions reek with partiality to the college."

President Nelson responded with the declaration that "It is this type of scandal-mongering that insinuates hate which I have declared and again declare to be unworthy of Oregon's great university."

Dean Morse, who was loudly applauded at the conclusion of his remarks, stated that Nelson, in his address on the Eugene campus, "which was surpassed in awfulness" only by his address on the Corvallis campus, charged that there exists on your faculty (University of Oregon) a little coterie of faculty men whose opposition to the administration row in disinterested ambitions and frustrated desire. See War On Faculty.

He charged "Mr. Nelson has declared war on the faculty, and the faculty will respond fearlessly." The board president "attack on the university," he continued, "has made it impossible for self-respecting faculty men and women to work in harmony with him."

In the address he demanded that Nelson "meet with the faculty, name his grievances and prove his case against them. If he cannot do so, then let him, like the gentleman I know him to be at heart, apologize to the faculty."

WILL ROGERS says: BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., Nov. 4.—We are awful glad those two strong-minded men, Ford and Johnson, arbitrated and made up. Your REC can buy the gold crown off King George's head, your dollar can go to a dime, your Republican can come dragging, cut and bleeding, back to his old party; you can take the rouge from the female lips, the cigarettes from the raised hands, the hot dog from the tourist's greasy paw, but when you start jerking the Fords from under the traveling public you are monkeying with the very fundamentals of American life.
