

TIGERS MAY PLAY POST SEASON TILT FOR STATE TITLE

Mythical Title Contest Is Talked for State—Medford, Tillamook and Ashland Only Unbeaten Teams

Possibility that this city might be the scene of a high school football game for the mythical state title, came Monday with the announcement that the Portland high school association would this year invite an out-state team to come to Portland Thanksgiving day, for a shrine benefit game. This, however, would not prevent Oregon district outside of Portland from staging the title event. In fact, it is urged by Portland sport editors. The game would come after the close of the regular high school schedule.

Tillamook, Ashland and Medford teams are the only three in the state with records of no defeats or ties, and are advanced as the logical contenders, or sites for the contest. Bend and Ontario in eastern Oregon were among the leading undefeated teams of that section, but Ontario has a couple of games and Bend played a 15-16 tie with Salem. The game have eliminated many of the leading teams of the state.

Medford Outstanding. Tillamook has to play Astoria, which has been beaten by Salem and Hood River. Ashland has defeated Grants Pass, Weed and Yreka, and then laid off a couple of Saturdays for lack of games. They will play Crescent City next Saturday, which is not expected to offer much resistance with the ineligible barred.

The Medford team is one of the outstanding high school squads of the state, with victories over Klamath Falls, Marshfield and Eugene, and early season opponents.

The game, if arranged, would probably have to be played Saturday, December 8. The Thanksgiving game has been scheduled with Ashland high—an annual affair that the Tillamook city school would probably be loath to relinquish for a state title game, or anything else.

No formal notice of the plan has as yet been submitted to the high school authorities, and all the details would have to be worked out later.

May Play Here. One tentative plan advanced is, if Medford goes to the end of the season with an undefeated record, to stake the title game here, and have the Portland sport editors select the opponent from the rest of the state.

The Oregon State High School association has taken no formal action, but is said to be willing to sanction the mythical title game, inasmuch as no Portland game will be available.

The Medford high school team would like to play a post-season game. Assistant Coach Ed Kirtley said this morning that vague word had been received that a Washington state school intended to invite the strongest Oregon team outside of Portland, and had asked for submission of the records. No formal notice has been received locally. Kirtley thought the school issuing the invitation was Bellingham, Wash.

Would Be Novelty. A post-season game here, with the mythical title involved, would be a novelty for local fans. Local squads have journeyed far in the past, for similar contests. In 1926, they played Grant high of Portland, and won. In 1927, they traveled to Milton-

UNBEATEN TEAMS MEET IN PURDUE-CARNEGIE CLASH

The "engineering school football championship" of something or other will be at stake at Lafayette, Ind., November 4, when Carnegie Tech's Schlos, unbeaten and unscorred-upon though tied, meet Purdue's Bollermaker's, also unbeaten but tied once. In "Bunny" Burzio, Tech has one of the country's best guards and in Capt. Colin Stewart a star end and goal booter. Duane Purvis, Purdue halfback, is a spectacular ball-carrier and long range passer, while Capt. Dutch Fehring is a powerhouse at tackle. (Associated Press Photos)

Freewater to play McLaughlin, with the same result. In 1928, they played The Dalles and Benson high school away from home, and won a clear title to the state title. Last year Medford played Jefferson high at Portland, and was defeated, 33 to 0.

FOOTBALL GOERS SHOULD TELL S. P.

Indications of a general exodus from Medford to Portland Friday were reported today by A. S. Rosenbaum, district freight and passenger agent for the Southern Pacific, with announcement that the football train is filling up. All persons planning to attend the Oregon-Oregon State game and to make the trip north on the special are asked to call the local depot as soon as possible.

Whether planning to travel in Pullman, tourist, or chair car, morning or evening, Friday, all persons are advised to inform the local agent, so that adequate facilities may be supplied for caring for the crowd.

With betting on the outcome of the all-Oregon combat increasing and Prince L. Callison's team gaining a strong favoritism in the north, more Medfordites are whetting up their appetites for football, which can only be satisfied in the stadium next Saturday.

RING COMMISSION BOOKS KEPT OPEN FOR ALL TO SEE

In view of the general misunderstanding by veterans' organizations and others, as to the beneficiary of the funds derived by the Medford boxing commission from programs here, Joe Fiegel, who recently assumed the position of secretary, today explained the distribution of the money.

Since being installed, Mr. Fiegel has installed records and books of all transactions, which are open to inspection by anyone interested. The books, Mr. Fiegel said, not only show the proceeds received and disbursed, but a record of attendance and an itemized statement on each exhibition from which the commission receives a percentage provided by law.

The law provides that the commission first establish a sinking fund. Thereafter, this money shall be paid into a civic emergency fund, of which the treasurer of the city has the control and jurisdiction. The fund is to be disbursed by the mayor or the council for charitable purposes, provided further that 60 per cent of such monies in the civic emergency fund shall be distributed among nationally recognized veterans' organizations, in proportion to the membership in good standing.

At the present time, the proceeds are being used to establish the sinking fund, he said.

Members of the commission at the present time are: Larry Schade, chairman, F. C. Bigham, E. C. Jerome, Fred Erickson, J. F. Fiegel and Dr. A. F. W. Kress, examiner.

SPEARS TO COACH NOTRE DAME, HINT

MODISON, Wis., Nov. 7.—(AP)—The Madison Capital Times says that Coach Clarence Spera, football coach at the University of Wisconsin, "has received a letter in the form of a 'feeler' from one high in the councils of Notre Dame, which offers the post of football coach to the Badger coach at an increased salary."

The change, the newspaper said, will not materialize until 1934 and perhaps not until June of that year.

Discussing the possibility that Dr. Spera will leave Wisconsin, the Capital Times says that Spera is not entirely satisfied with conditions at

WEBFOOT-BEAVER CLASH WILL JAM MULTNOMAH FIELD

PORTLAND, Nov. 7.—(AP)—Both Oregon and Oregon State football players resumed intensive practice yesterday for their anticipated titanic struggle at Multnomah Civic Stadium here next Saturday before what is expected to be the largest crowd ever to witness a football game since the stadium was built.

Dummy scrimmage and defensive practice, particularly aimed at Norman Franklin, star Stater halfback, occupied the Webfoot at Eugene, while the Orangemen worked behind closed gates at Corvallis. It was believed Coach Lon Stiner was trying out a brand new offensive, after witnessing his rivals in action against Utah at Eugene last Saturday.

Oregon supporters were greatly cheered by the appearance of Mark Temple, flashy Pendleton halfback, and Bob Park, quarterback and punting star, who appeared for practice and ran through their paces with the team. The return of Biff Nilsson, two-year veteran at guard, who has been out of the game since October 7, was also predicted by Trainer Hayward.

Three thousand reserved seats were still available at the close of the box office last night. Tomorrow two thousand general admission tickets go on sale.

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 7.—(AP)—Loer in a quick revolver duel with Policeman Nick Persinger, Edgar McChristian, 32, negro, escaped slayer from Tennessee state penitentiary, was fatally wounded here last night. He died in a hospital an hour after the shooting.

Persinger questioned McChristian and another negro whom he confronted on an isolated downtown street. When he told them he would take them to police headquarters for further investigation, Persinger said, McChristian suddenly produced a revolver and began firing.

The shots missed the officer, who drew his own weapon and returned the fire. A bullet struck the negro in the head behind the ear. The other negro fled as Persinger fired his remaining shots after him. Police said the fugitive who gave the name of Hubert Scott, 33, of Denver, was later arrested in the railroad yards as he was trying to catch a train out of town.
