3509 OF SCHOOL AGE IN MEDFORD SHOWN BY CENSUS

There are 3509 boys and girls in the city of Medford, between the ages of four and 20 years, completion of the school census showed today. This number constitutes an increase of approximately four per cent over last year.

The 1933 census revealed 58 married women under 20 years of age, but only four married men still coming under the school census age limit. There are 25 pairs of twins in the city between the ages of four and 20, and there are more Smiths than anything else in the city (just as a lot of folks suspected). There are 12 nationalities represented in the 3509 people, and next to the letter "S," which heads the Smiths, more names start with "M" than any other letter of the alphabet.

There are 200 pupils attending the Medford schools, who are not included in the census, since they are non-residents. All of them, however, pay tuition to the district. In the case of high school students, the tuition is set at the exact cost per pupil per year of their education. This amount is paid by the county, following submission of the bill by the Medford school district, at the end of the school year. In the case of elementary pupils, the tuition for the most part is paid by the district from which they come to the Medford district. A few pupils attend the schools here, whose tuition is paid by parents to the district.

The census this year was taken by Minnie Bryant, Nora Kirkpatrick, Katherine Gaddis and Prue Angle Platt.

Northern Wedding of Interest to Medfordites

Many members of the local university set will read with interest the announcement from Oregon City of the wedding of Miss Agnes Petzold and Carl Klippel, as both bride and groom were formerly well-known students on the Eugene campus.

The press announcement reads:

"A beautiful wedding took place the night of October 29 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Petzold, when their youngest daughter, Miss Agnes Gabrielle Petzold, became the bride of Carl Foster Klippel of Klamath Falls, son of Mrs. Florence E. Klippel of Portland.

"Mighells Burleigh sang before the ceremony. Miss Lucille Cummings of Portland, his accompanist, also played the wedding music.

"Rev. William R. Kreeberger, pastor of the Zion Lutheran church, read the service.

"The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a handsome dress of white satin, made with tight-fitting sleeves puffed to the elbow. Her long tulle veil fell from a halo of tulle. She carried a cascadian bouquet of gardenias and bouvardia.

"Her two attendants, Miss Erna Petzold, sister of the bride, and Miss Thelma Ryckman, were dressed alike in cherry red chiffon velvet. They carried Talisman roses.

"Clark Walsh of Portland was best man for Mr. Klippel."

CONNER HAS JOB AS SHEEP HERDER

C. Jean Conner, "the bright boy of Pinehurst," under a three-year sentence with parole, for his confessed part in the ballot-theft, is herding sheep on the broad and rolling ranges of Harney county, according to Attorney H. Von Schmalz of Burns, to whom he was paroled by the court.

The former vice-president of the self-styled "Good Government Congress," and reputed leader of the "Green Spring Mountain Boys," "is a very good boy, and hard worker," according to his parole guardian. "He is not in town," said Attorney Von Schmalz, who is here as associate counsel in a circuit court case.

The terms of the parole provide that Conner remain out of Jackson county for a year, returning during that period only with the permission of the court.

FRAZIER ESTATE REVALUING ASKED

Petition for an amended inventory and appraisal of the Jackson county property in the estate of the late Frank D. Frazier of Chicago, millionaire, and a figure in the "boom days" of the valley, was granted in probate court yesterday. Frazier died last summer. He purchased orchard property here in 1910.

In the motion for the right to file an amended inventory it is cited that the appraisers based the valuation, not on the "actual market value in this vicinity, and that it is higher than the actual cash value." The petition sets forth that the appraisal is upon past and possible future value. The appraisers are listed as R. R. Reter, Robert G. Norris and L. R. Baker.

The value of the Frazier estate here is placed at $17,600, as follows: Real property, $13,250; personal property, $550 and $450 from the fruit harvest.

FINAL ARGUMENTS IN HOLZGANG SUIT

Final arguments were under way today, in the damage suit of Victor Holzgang, 10, against Mrs. F. L. Ward of Red Bluff, Calif. The defense closed with rebuttal testimony.

Young Holzgang, through his mother as guardian, is seeking $25,000 damages, as the result of an auto accident on the Jacksonville highway last September, when he was struck by an auto driven by Mrs. Ward.

The defense contended that the lad was injured when he suddenly darted from a truck, in the path of the Ward auto, and was struck before the car could be stopped, and that the accident was unavoidable.

The plaintiff holds that the accident was due to careless driving, and high speed.

BEST CCC CAMP TO BE HONORED

EUGENE, Ore., Nov. 7.—(AP)—Formal honors for their part in winning the coveted award as the best CCC camp in the ninth corps area will be paid members of the Wolf Creek company at a celebration to be staged at the camp Wednesday, November 15.

Plans for the affair are being completed under the direction of Major Charles H. Corlett, district commander, in co-operation with the American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars and chamber of commerce of Roseburg.

Dignitaries from all over the state will be invited to attend the celebration to honor the camp, one of the nine best civilian conservation corps camps in the United States.

Girl and Rooster Solemnly Wed In Chinese Ceremony

CANTON, China, Nov. 7.—(AP)—A wedding in which a pretty Cantonese girl married a rooster was solemnized today.

Although her fiance, Shih Kwang Tung, was living in Singapore, the girl's parents decided her marriage must be performed while they were still alive.

Accordingly, a graceful appearing bird from a neighboring poultry farm was selected to act as the bridegroom.

All of the elaborate ritual accompanying an old-fashioned Chinese marriage was observed while the beautiful bride, 18 years old, received the congratulations of friends, and the rooster must remain her "husband."

STOCK EXCHANGE CLOSED FOR DAY

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—(AP)—Election day, a legal holiday in this state, found the New York stock and security markets, as well as the banks, closed. The Chicago grain and New Orleans cotton exchanges were open.

Although business failures have been increasing slightly from week to week, Dun & Bradstreet, Inc., says the rise is below the seasonal average. The total for the year to date is far under a year ago, aggregating 17,927 from January 1 to November 2, against 27,204 for the corresponding period of 1932.

REPORT EPIDEMIC OF CHOLERA HERE

An outbreak of hog cholera in the valley has been reported in the southwestern section of Jackson county, Dr. G. A. Gitzen, county veterinarian, said today. The epidemic, which has just been noted, has killed quite a few hogs already, he stated.

Vaccination is the only known means of prevention, the doctor said, and advised farmers who have hogs to aid in stamping out the disease.

This is the first time in three or four years that the epidemic has been found in Jackson county, Dr. Gitzen stated.

PUPILS, PARENTS BEHIND FACULTY IN OUSTER MOVE

yesterday said the group of Eugene men mentioned by Dean Wayne Morse as assuming to speak for the townspeople and the faculty, had in fact "spoken for the business men of Eugene and many of its citizens."

The editorial stated that a group of university students conducted a poll of Eugene business men last June at which time three questions were asked: "Were you interviewed at the time the deal was mad?" "Were you in favor of Dr. Kerr at that time?" "Do you favor Dr. Kerr now?"

On the first question 78 answered no and 21 yes. On the second 56 said no and 30 yes. On the third question 43 said no and 24 yes.

EUGENE, Ore., Nov. 7.—(AP)—A feeling of tenseness was apparent on the University of Oregon campus today as faculty members and students alike watched for any developments that might result from the demand of the school's faculty that Roscoe C. Nelson, Portland attorney, resign as president of the state board of higher education.

Declaring that Nelson, in addresses he delivered last Thursday at the university and at Oregon State college, had "built up as all but impassable social barrier" between Chancellor W. J. Kerr and the university "by his violent partisanship and intimidating language," the faculty unanimously adopted a resolution demanding the resignation of the new president, only recently appointed by Governor Julius L. Meier.

Nelson, informed of the faculty action, issued a statement in Portland yesterday which indicated he did not intend immediately to resign.

"I shall be guided solely by my conception of what the public interest requires," he stated.

More than 100 voting members attended the faculty meeting. It was announced that the vote demanding Nelson's resignation was unanimous.

The resolution which demanded that the board president quit, also deplored the appointment of Dr. Kerr as chancellor.

BUDET HEARING WEDNESDAY WILL AIR ALL ITEMS

last year cost much more than it was worth.

The turmoil trials and county commissary of last winter and spring entailed an expense of approximately $52,000, which the last budget committee could not foresee. Absorption of this expense in the present budget is provided.

No provision is made in the budget for the old age pension, passed by the last legislature. However, $5000 is allowed to show good intent. Practically all of the counties of the state have taken the same course, owing to stringent financial conditions. The $52,000 expended in quieting the agitators, under normal conditions could have been devoted to aiding the worthy poor, it is pointed out. It would not have covered the entire $180,000 estimated cost per year of the old age pension, but it would have helped.

The budget committee is composed of O. O. Alenderfer, Fred Wahl of this city, George Alford of Phoenix, and the county court. The county court and Alford, are all farmers and stockmen.
