

PILOT FLETCHER KILLED IN CRASH NEAR KENNEWICK

PASCO, Wash., Nov. 11.—(AP)—W. J. Fletcher, an oil company pilot of Seattle, was killed and Claude C. Van Fleet, his companion, was injured when their plane crashed in the Horse Heaven hills about eight miles south of Kennewick early tonight.

An employe at the Pasco airport said the plane had not been scheduled to land there, but he understood Fletcher had decided to attempt it, after finding other northwest airports shrouded in fog.

There was good visibility at Pasco, the airport said, but a heavy fog clung close to the rugged dry hills which skirt the Columbia south of Kennewick. It was back in these hills where the plane crashed.

Van Fleet told rescuers that the plane had left Klamath Falls earlier in the day for Seattle, but finding the airport there fog-covered, they flew to Wenatchee and on to Spokane, but met with the same conditions.

W. J. (Bill) Fletcher was well known in Medford as pilot of the Shell Oil company's publicity planes, which made frequent visits to the Medford airport.

This summer Fletcher stopped here both on his trip south and return from the national air races conducted in Los Angeles. Earlier in the season, when flying the Shell ship, he took members of the city council, and other local persons on short trips about the valley.

COLORFUL PARADE MARKS ARMISTICE CELEBRATION HERE

son, with hundreds of American Legion members, children of the Legionnaires and Legion auxiliary also in marching order.

Spanish American War veterans were represented in the long procession and one of the interesting floats was that of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, which had a miniature Flanders' field on a truck. A banner requested the public to honor the dead by aiding the living.

The auxiliary of the Veterans of Foreign Wars also had a good representation. The Daughters of the American Revolution rode in the procession, preceding the Elks band, in uniform.

Presbyterian Young People were represented and a "Health" float was entered by the Jackson County Health association. Mrs. Don Clark was chairman of the arrangements for the float, and was assisted by Mrs. I. E. Schuler. A group of children, each wearing a little "Health" sign were seated on the platform of the truck.

Children on float

Betty Villm was the nurse, and the other children participating were Nancy Clark, Barbara Jean Schuler, Jean Salade, Grace Turnquist, Barbara Inakeep, Jean Bolger and Phyllis Tengwald.

In their colorful attire, the Knights of Pythias and Pythian Sisters added a brilliant touch to the display with the Tiger Guard from Medford high school preceding the high school band in red and black.

Ladies' auxiliary and members of the Fraternal Order of Eagles were well represented, and a group of "Indians" in feathers and paint represented the Improved Order of Redmen.

A car, decorated in fall flowers represented the Medford Garden club, and a large sedan, cleverly decorated in orange and black, was entered by the Medford Junior high school. The Degree or Honor participated in the Armistice parade, and the Red Cross had a float which was interestingly arranged with children as soldiers and nurses.

There were also a number of Boy Scouts in the procession which started at the city park, continued to Riverside, and returned to the park via Sixth street.

The day's celebration closed with a dance at the fairgrounds, sponsored by the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

WAR NOT OVER SAYS NRA HEAD

FORT WORTH, Tex., Nov. 11.—(AP)—General Hugh S. Johnson, administrator of President Roosevelt's recovery program, told an audience in the Fort Worth stock show coliseum tonight that although this is Armistice day, "the war is not over."

The administrator spoke after a busy day in which he expressed the belief Comptroller General McCarl may have "misinterpreted" a presidential order in ruling Henry Ford was eligible to receive government contracts despite the fact the motor car manufacturer has not signed the NRA code.

Tracing the history and effect of the world war, he said tonight, "last March our defenses were almost destroyed."

First Inhabitants of Peiping Cavern Prehistoric Baboon

PEIPING, Nov. 11.—(AP)—Important discoveries made in the cave 40 miles from Peiping which yielded a prehistoric fossil of the Peking man were announced today by Dr. Davidson Black, research worker for the Rockefeller Institute.

The discoveries were described before the congress of the China Geological society, meeting at the American-owned Tsinghua university.

They show, Dr. Black said, that the first inhabitants of the cave were prehistoric baboons, a species of hyena and other animals now extinct.

COUGARS TAKE AIR FOR 14-6 VICTORY

MOSCOW, Idaho, Nov. 11.—(AP)—Washington State college took to the air today to defeat the University of Idaho, 14 to 6, in one of the most sensational football games in their thirty-year history.

More than 9,000 homecoming fans, including Clarence D. Martin, governor of Washington, witnessed one of the wildest passing games ever played on MacLean field. The field was dry and fast, ideal for this type of football.

Washington State scored both its touchdowns with passes, the first in the opening period when Bendele took Sorboe's heave and ran 20 yards, and the second in the third when Sorboe passed to Klawitter in the end zone, Idaho's only touchdown, an 85-yard runback of a quick kick by Wee Willis Smith, quarterback, in the second period, was the high spot in the game.

CHICAGO ORIGIN OF RARE DISEASE

CHICAGO, Nov. 11.—(AP)—An outbreak of a rare tropical disease has caused 15 deaths in Chicago and elsewhere in the United States, it was announced today by Dr. Herman N. Henserson, president of the Chicago board of health.

At least 100 other persons are suffering from the disease, known as amoebic dysentery, it was revealed and an official of the United States public health service has been sent here to help stop the outbreak.

Dr. Henserson said the source of the disease had been traced to several hotels and restaurants and that the situation was now under control.

NEGRO SNIPER KILLS ONE, COMMITS SUICIDE

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 11.—(AP)—A sniper, who, police said, stood in his backyard and took pot shots at human targets with a rifle killed an 18 year old negro today and then inflicted fatal injuries to himself when authorities surrounded him.

The sniper was identified by police as John Brown, 60 year old negro, and his victim was Albert McArthur. Brown barricaded himself in a garage when police advanced and used the last bullet in his rifle to kill himself. Authorities said he apparently became insane suddenly.

WAR DAYS UNITY NEEDED TO WHIP DEPRESSION FOE

Over 260 veterans were guests Saturday noon at the annual American Legion "feed" at the Elks club, one of the principal features of the Armistice day celebration here.

Colonel E. E. Kelly in a brief, but fervent talk to the ex-soldiers drew a striking parallel between the united effort and organization required by the United States for their part in winning the world war, and the equally stupendous undertaking necessary to achieve victory over the forces of depression now besetting this country and the entire world.

"There were those, in 1917-18," said the speaker, "who went about criticizing, and giving voice to pessimistic prophecies that 'we can't do it.'"

"Well, we did do it. We organized our military forces, depleted ourselves, and sent over the men necessary to turn the scales.

"Today, we have the same pessimists, the same critics, who voice the prophecy 'we can't do it.' We can do it, and will do it. Already the depression is retreating. In due course we will win this battle, just as we won the battle of the Argonne," concluded the speaker who saw service in both the Spanish-American and world wars.

Toastmaster Paul McDonald introduced Polk Hull, oldest local member of the O. A. R., George Avertill of the Spanish-American and world wars, M. R. Walters of the Disabled American Veterans, A. S. Taylor, commander of the Ashland post of the American Legion and Commander Oliver Overmyer of the Medford post of the American Legion.

The annual "feed," which was spread by Chairman Goodwin Humphrey and an efficient detail of "kitchen police" of Medford Legion post, won the approval of the hungry veterans who filled by the "mess sergeants" to have their plates piled high with "chow" such as never graced the mess kits of hungry soldiers in war days.

At the conclusion of the banquet Commander Overmyer asked for Legion volunteers to come to the Elks club Monday evening and aid in cleaning up the basement "mess hall."

Commander I. R. Canfield of the Veterans of Foreign Wars called attention to the fact that National Commander Van Zandt of the V. F. W. will be in Medford November 23 and will deliver an address.

STATE PARK WORK WOULD USE 10,000

SALEM, Ore., Nov. 11.—(UP)—Immediate improvement of Oregon's state parks would put 10,000 men to work, S. H. Boardman, park superintendent with the state highway department, told Lawrence Merriam, national park service director in the interior department, today.

The wife to Merriam was in answer to an inquiry as to the number of men who could be employed in Oregon under the relief program announced by President Roosevelt on Wednesday.

According to Boardman, the men would be used in cutting brush, building trails and otherwise improving various Oregon state parks.

DEATH BY DOGS COSTS OWNER 7 THOUSAND

SANTA CRUZ, Calif., Nov. 11.—(UP)—A jury tonight awarded A. Parent $7,000 damages against Frank Clements for the death of Parent's five year old son, Pietro. The suit alleged that the boy was killed by a pack of dogs owned by Clements.

Pietro's body was found badly lacerated on Vine Hill road where the men had adjoining ranches. It was revealed in the testimony that two of Clements' dogs were seen nearby.

The jury deliberated five hours. Parent had asked $10,000.

BANKING LINK WITH SO. AMERICA HINTED

NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—(AP)—Through diplomatic channels came word today that a proposal to link the federal reserve bank of the United States with the national banks of Latin American nations is under consideration as Secretary of State Hull sails for Montevideo to the Pan-American conference.

From these sources it was learned that the establishment of an inter-American investment bureau to solve the economic problems of the Americas was undergoing an intense study in Latin America and that, apparently, the project had sympathetic support of the administration in Washington.

RECALL, INITIATIVE PETITION PEDDLING BECOMING RACKET

SALEM, Ore., Nov. 11.—(UP)—State officials today warned Oregonians to investigate before signing petitions and contributing money to aid recall and initiative movements.

According to reports from several states, petition distribution has practically reached the ricksteering stage. Many have been circulated, thousands of dollars have been collected from well meaning donors, but few petitions are filed.

Recall petition racketeers usually follow this method: They draw up petitions for recall of an unpopular state officer. The petitions form are given to circulators, usually poor persons, who are paid a high percentage of money collected to aid the "campaign." Circulators, when asking for signatures, also request a cash donation, probably a dime or a quarter.

Many persons sign and contribute, not bothering to determine whether the petitions were originated by responsible persons or organizations. Circulators pocket 40 to 80 per cent of the contributions and backers of the movement take the remainder. No attempt is made, in most cases, to file the petitions. In even a "show down" there would be the argument "we didn't get enough signatures." And contributors would not want to wish to fight over a dime or a quarter.

Bona fide petitions, it was pointed out, usually are sponsored by reputable persons, who do not ask for cash donations.

LOCAL ODD FELLOWS WILL OPEN WINTER ACTIVITIES NOV. 21

With the coming of the winter social season, activities in the various branches of the Odd Fellows' lodge are getting under way, and entertainment committees have been appointed to carry on the work.

From Medford Lodge No. 83, Noble Grand A. H. Pich has appointed as the committee from that branch, consisting of H. W. Keese, A. J. Hanby, and F. E. Hodden. From Rogue River Encampment No. 30, Chief Patriarch W. P. Rector has named A. J. Hanby, J. W. LaTourrette, A. M. Clark, Carl Pearson and D. M. McDannel to serve with the above committee, and the members of Olive Rebekah Lodge No. 28 will be contacted to assist in carrying on the work.

The date for the first entertainment, which will be a joint affair, will be Tuesday, November 21, and all Odd Fellows and Rebekahs, their families are invited and urged to be present and help make the affair the biggest of the kind in a long time.

The committees will begin soon to make arrangements for the yearly Christmas tree. Last year the affair was a "topper" from the standpoint of the kiddies, and this year each member will be expected to appear with some little folks who otherwise would not be able to shake hands with Santa Claus.
