

EAST ANXIOUS TO SEE IRON MEN OF O. S. C. IN ACTION

Feats of Endurance Arouse Widespread Interest — Saturday Tilt With Fordham Is Third in Series

BY HERBERT W. BARKER (Associated Press Sports Writer.) NEW YORK, Nov. 14. — (AP) — The Fordham team and the Pitt Panthers, whose schedules annually give them a large share of the task of upholding eastern football prestige in intercollegiate games, stand by again this week to repel invaders of no inconsiderable power.

Fordham, victor over Alabama but beaten by St. Mary's Gaels, winds up a highly successful season against the Beavers of Oregon State. Pitt, beaten only by Minnesota, and conqueror of Notre Dame and Centre from other seasons, hopes to add Nebraska's undefeated and untied Cornhuskers to the list.

Fordham seeks revenge. Fordham wants revenge on the far west for that St. Mary's defeat, and may get it at Oregon State's expense, but Jimmy Crowley will be ready for the closest kind of a battle. Len Eilers, in his first season as head coach, has developed the Beavers into a formidable array of "iron men." Their only defeat so far came last week when they dropped a 13-3 decision to Oregon's unbeaten and untied outfit, their opponent to the Pacific coast throne.

The Beavers' feats of endurance have aroused widespread interest, not only in the far west but throughout the country. They used only 11 men in holding Southern California to a scoreless tie and made only one substitution in a hard-fought 12-7 victory over San Francisco, and only when they nosed out Washington State 2-0.

O. S. C. Lost Last Year. Saturday's game will mark the third New York appearance of the Oregon State team. The Beavers of 1928 faced New York university, 25-13. Last year they were noosed out by Fordham, 8-6.

Although Nebraska travels eastward with a perfect record and its third successive Big Six championship safely stowed away, the Huskers, probably will be conceded no better than an even chance against Pitt. There will be two reasons for that: First, some doubt as to the quality of the opposition through which the Cornhuskers have paraded so far; second, the fact that Nebraska teams have had little luck against Pitt since the schools put their football relations on an annual basis in 1927.

Nebraska, in fact, hasn't won a game from the Panthers in that time, although the games of 1928-30-32 ended in scoreless ties. Pitt won 21-13 in 1927, 12-7 in 1929, and 40-0 in 1931. This is another odd year and precedent calls for a Panther victory.

Nebraska can take considerable cheer out of the fact, however, that this has been a poor year for precedents.

OREGON BUTTER GOING TO ARMY

PORTLAND, Nov. 14. — (AP) — Rejection of an Australian bid in favor of an Oregon proposal resulted in the sale of 111,000 pounds of Oregon butter to the United States army in 32 months. The sale amounts to about $24,000.

The sale was announced here Monday by Interstate Associated Creameries, and the shipment will remove one-tenth of the state's butter surplus. The butter will move within two months.

Governor Meier and Congressman Martin had telegraphed the secretary of war and the quartermaster general, requesting that Oregon producers be given the contract.

TRUCK OPERATORS MEET IN SALEM

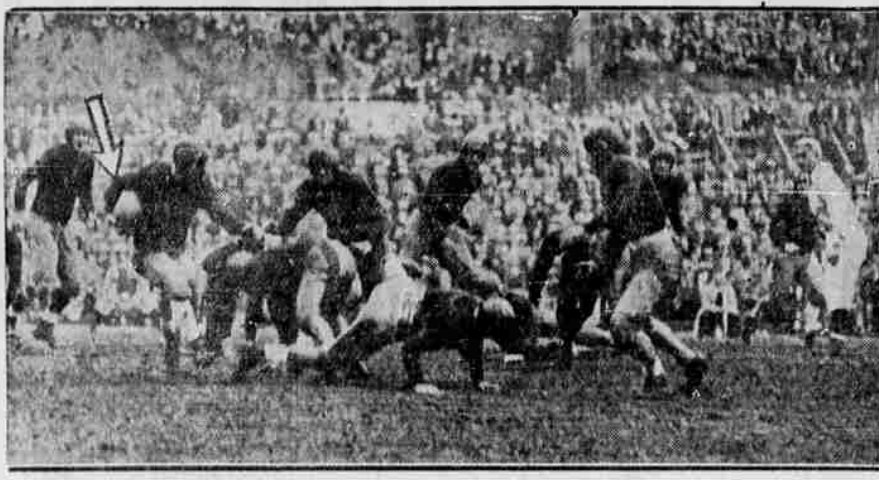

SALEM, Nov. 14. — (AP) — Members of the Oregon Truck Owners and Farmers' Protective association will meet here Thursday night to consider legislative recommendations. President A. C. Anderson announced. The meeting was previously scheduled for tonight.

Anderson intervened yesterday in the mandamus action brought by the allied truck owners to prohibit Public Utilities Commissioner C. M. Thomas from issuing temporary P. U. C. permits to truckers.

After the mandamus was filed, Thomas ceased issuing the permits. Anderson proposes through the intervention to fight the case for protection of members of the Truck Owners and Farmers' Protective association.

Portland sells Oana for players and coin. PORTLAND, Nov. 14. — (AP) — In a baseball trade with the Philadelphia Nationals, by which they obtained Prince Henry Oana, outfielder, the Portland club of the Pacific Coast league will receive three players and cash. Frank Ragland, pitcher, and Jimmy McLeod, infielder, are two of the players. The third man has not been announced. The amount of cash was not stated.

TROJAN COACH DISGUSTED KICKS THREE OFF SQUAD

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 14. — (AP) — One man had been ordered off the varsity squad and two others were demoted today as Coach Howard Jones collected his Southern California football remnants together to begin all over again.

Johnny Dye, senior second team center, was told to turn in his suit because of failure to live up to training rules. Homer Griffith, quarterback and fullback, and Gordon Clark, blocking halfback of the first eleven, were set down to the third eleven.

There was no secrecy about the fact that Coach Jones was disgusted with the way his team performed against Stanford Saturday.

"We were outplayed, outfought and outconditioned by Stanford," the head man told his players. "I have accordingly made changes which are likely to stick for a long time to come."

"I am making these changes because some of our older players have become self-satisfied and are therefore of less value to us than those who are still seeking to improve."

"Now that our winning streak has been broken we can start from the ground up, and that's what I intend to do."

So, as the Trojans went into their second day of practice for their game with the Oregon eleven, conference leaders, here Saturday, the first team lined up as follows:

- Besock, left end.
- Erskine, left tackle.
- Rosenberg, left guard.
- Yonel, center.
- Stevens, right guard.
- Harper, right tackle.
- Palmer, right end.
- Warburton, quarterback.
- McNeish, left half.
- Clemens, right half.
- Propp, fullback.

There was some question of whether Bob Erskine would be able to play even against Oregon here Saturday, in which case Bright probably will go back to college. Haskell Wolkyns is expected to be able to play, however. He has been out since the Oregon State game.

Coroner's Inquest Scheduled Today in Plane Crackup
PORTLAND, Nov. 14. — (AP) — Dr. Robert C. Coffey, 65, a surgeon of international repute, was buried here Monday at the same hour that final services were being held for Alfred W. Davis of Seattle, airplane pilot who was at the controls when Dr. Coffey, two other passengers and crew were killed in a plane crash here Thursday night.

Services were held Sunday for Herman Cohn of Portland, and the body of Arthur A. Trostler of Chicago and New York was cremated, and the ashes sent to New York for final sites.

Coroner R. N. Erwin said an inquest will be held today to determine the facts in connection with the accident. The southbound plane crashed against a hillside in dense fog. Some investigators said the plane went into a ground loop as it started down the runway, cut off at an angle without the pilot becoming aware of the change of direction, and that while he believed he was heading over level country, the ship crashed into the hillside.

Among the witnesses expected to testify at the inquest are H. B. Woodworth, co-pilot; Miss Libby Wurgoff, stewardess on the plane; four other surviving passenger and airline officials.

Accident Monday — Mrs. Ester M. Sanderson of Central Point suffered bruises Monday afternoon when the automobile she was driving collided with the car driven by Walter L. Purdy of Ashland, at the corner of South Bartlett and Eighth streets at 2:15 o'clock. Mrs. Sanderson's report states that she was traveling north on South Bartlett when the Purdy car, coming from the left on Eighth street, struck her car. Mr. Purdy did not see her machine, she stated.

ELK SLAUGHTER NOT AS PAINTED SAY GAME HEADS

PORTLAND, Nov. 14. — (AP) — The conclusion that reports of wabson destruction of elk during the opening season in eastern Oregon were "greatly exaggerated," has been reached by the state game commission.

The commission, which conducted an investigation in Union, Wallowa, Baker and Umatilla counties, said it found, on the contrary, that hunters who participated in the three-day shooting "upheld in practically all instances the finer traditions of the sportsman."

The report of the investigation was made at the regular monthly meeting of the game commission here Monday.

"Wild stories regarding the wholesale slaughter of domestic cattle during the open season are without foundation in fact," the investigating group further reported.

"A thorough investigation has failed to reveal a single case of the killing of domestic livestock during the hunting season."

"Sentiment rather than facts have colored the early reports on the recent elk season," the commission concluded.

The report stated that contrary to affidavits filed by residents in the open area, "there was no excessive waste of elk meat." Some of the affiants accompanied officers into the area and their statements were found to have been erroneous, the commission said.

The report did point to some unfavorable conditions and circumstances, however. These included the following observations:

"Some hunters used guns of too small caliber."
"Many hunters were inadequately prepared to care for the carcasses of bull elk when it was killed."
"Extremely high temperatures, reaching 70 degrees, were recorded during the three-day open season. These high temperatures complicated the situation and made it most difficult to care for the meat."

"Most of the bull elk were not in as good condition during the open period as they would have been as a later date."

INVITE GOLFERS TO JOHNSON DAY AT LOCAL LINKS

Final arrangements have been completed and all details worked out by the tournament committee composed of Don Clark, Larry Schade, J. B. Kirk, Flay West and Harry McMahon, to make the "Augie Johnson day" at the Rogue River Valley Golf club next Sunday, November 19, a real success.

This tournament is open to all golfers in southern Oregon. The entry fee is $4 but 30 cents.

Prizes will be awarded on the basis of 18 holes of play, low net with full handicap.

In addition to the day's winner having his name engraved on the plaque, trophies as well as other suitable prizes will be awarded to the runners-up.

If possible, Augie Johnson will be present to participate in the affair. His intentions are to come up by plane, either Saturday or Sunday morning.

In any event, the day promises to be an outstanding one in the annals of the club, and every golfer in this section is invited to attend, regardless of whether he is a club member or not.

Further details will be announced later of the added attractions for the day.

FUNDS WILL FLOW IN NEW JOB PLAN AFTER THURSDAY

There are 424 persons in each family and that the immediate effect of their plan, if it succeeds, will be to put 8,000,000 in a position to get off the relief rolls.

Work 30 Hours Week. The plan now calls for the men to work 30 hours a week at prevailing wages of their community. Those already employed by the relief administration have been working only a few hours a week for enough money to supply bare subsistence.

About $100,000,000 a month until February will be used along with federal and state relief funds for building and repairing highways and streets, draining swamps, constructing sewers and any other work that can be started at once and will use the greatest number of men.

Wide Cooperation
The civil works administration, the federal emergency relief administration and the federal surplus relief corporation, all three of which Hopkins heads, and the public works administration, the public health service, and other government bureaus will cooperate with states and communities on the plan.

Very few of the projects are expected to come to Washington for approval. The idea, Hopkins added, is to get the work under way in a hurry, and for this reason he has designated the state relief boards as the civil works administration for the individual states.

There will be no letting of contracts. The work all will be done on what is known as "force account." Machinery owned by cities, counties and states is to be used where it is needed.

NERVOUS, BACKACHE

Mrs. H. C. Wickham of 233 Main St., Springfield, Ore., said: "When I was growing into womanhood I was miserable. Monthly I would be dreadfully sick. My nerves were ragged, I had sick-headaches, also pains in my back, and I was weak and tired all the time. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription relieved me of all pains and I was soon vigorous and healthy."
