FARMING ACREAGE CONTROL VISIONED AS COMING STEP

Only Richest Lands Will Be Tilled Says Secretary Wallace—Rest Used for Forests and Recreation

CHICAGO, Nov. 14.—(AP)—Secretary Wallace envisioned today the complete control, acre by acre, of all America's farm land with only rich soil used for farming and the remainder devoted to forests, recreation, residence and the like.

"The things which this administration has done thus far in 1933 may seem spectacular but they are only a faint foreshadowing of some of the things which will ultimately be necessary before the United States new true place in the family of nations," Wallace said.

"The secretary of agriculture addressed the association of land grant colleges and universities.

Farmers Strive Hard.
He described farmers over the past few years as "striving as desperately as the slaves of Pharaoh to produce the maximum," which he said combined with "a battle of trade barriers which in the last four years has wrought as much havoc as the world war itself" to build up vast overproduction and stagnate agriculture under low prices and mounting debts.
