- Italian Serenade—Dorothy Baughman.
- Santa Lucia—The Chorus.
- Roses of Picardy — Mrs. Doris Nealon.
- Amaryllis—The Chorus.
- A Native Japanese Song.
- Japanese Love Songs—The Chorus.
- A Russian Dance—Ethel Houston.
- Dark Eyes; The Sleigh—Ellow Mae Wilson.
- My Scotch Lullaby—Eleanor Curry.
- Auld Lang Syne—The Ladies' Sextet.
- Brown's Lullaby—The Chorus.
- Katrina and Sharley—A duet by Mrs. Lois Young and Mr. Dentner.
- A Gypsy Maiden—Effie Herbert Yeoman.
- A Spanish Dance—Ethel Reeder.
- Carmena—The Chorus.

A small admission will be charged. The proceeds to be used for the purchase of new music, which is badly needed by the chorus.

Wives of Activists Enjoy Evening at Cards

Mrs. Hilding Bengtson was hostess Tuesday evening to the Wives of Activists at her home, where there were four tables of bridge in play. Prizes at cards went to Mrs. B. C. Wilson and Mrs. Paul Woods.

Assisting Mrs. Bengtson in entertaining were Mrs. Harold Larsen and Mrs. Leslie Van Doren. The three hostesses appeared in old-fashioned costumes of the Puritan period, appropriate to the Thanksgiving season, to greet their guests.

Wenonah Club Plans Card Party

The Wenonah club is sponsoring a card party Friday night, November 17, at the Redmen hall on Apple street.

It is the first one of a series to be held during the winter months and there will be prizes in bridge, 800, and pinochle.

Carnation Club Meets This Evening

Mrs. J. F. Conrad will be hostess this evening to the Carnation club at her home, 652 West Palm street. Members are asked to arrive at 7:30 o'clock and to bring needles and thimbles.

Westonka Council Host To Californians

Westonka council No. 20, Degree of Pochontas, had a guests at regular meeting Friday evening a number of members of the northern California councils. The degree team put on the work with well trained precision, that evoked much praise for the members and their captain, Jack Dooms. Miss Viola Sberer was taken into the council. The evening was completed with dancing and refreshments.

Local members are asked to be at the hall early Friday, November 17, as the meeting will be open at 7:30 o'clock, to be followed at 8:30 o'clock by the first of a series of eight card parties, planned by the Wenonka club. An invitation to the parties is extended all friends of members.

Excelsior Club Meets At the "X" Friday

There will be a meeting of the Excelsior club at the Y. W. C. A. building Friday evening, November 17, at 7 o'clock. The social committee from the senior group will take charge of the entertainment and all young people are extended an invitation. It was announced today that games will be followed by a short talk by Mrs. O. P. Mann. The newly elected officers will preside. They are: Irwin Doty, president; Paul Nelson, vice-president and Dorothy Montiel, secretary-treasurer. At the last meeting Perry Johnson, president of the senior group, gave a short talk, which was much enjoyed.

Several meetings are planned by the club for the near future.

Guild Party Attended By Many Card Players

There were 11 tables of cards in play last evening at St. Mark's Guild hall of the Episcopal church, when the Guild entertained in a setting colorful with autumn leaves and fragrant chrysanthemums of many shades. Prizes were won by Mrs. J. A. McDougall at pivot, Mrs. Morrison at contract, and Miss C. M. McDougall at progressive bridge.

The committee for the occasion was composed by Mrs. McDougall, chairman; Mrs. C. W. Ellis, Mrs. Wm. B. Hamilton, Mrs. Thompson and Mrs. Charles Strang.

Guest of Mrs. Burelson

Mrs. M. J. McMillin of Portland was the guest Sunday of Mrs. E. T. Burelson, en route to her home in the north. Mrs. McMillin has been spending the past month in Los Angeles.

Turkey Supper Announced By Talent M. E. Church

The Methodist Episcopal church of Talent will entertain tomorrow evening with a turkey supper at the Talent city hall. It was announced today with an invitation to the public to attend. Supper will be served from 5 until 8 o'clock. The committee for the affair is composed of Mesdames Walters, White and Borg.

Mrs. Black Returns To San Francisco

Mrs. C. N. Black has returned to San Francisco for the winter from her lodge on Rogue River, which was a popular gathering place of society folk during the summer and fall. Before her departure she was the inspiration of considerable entertaining. Among hostesses at events was Mrs. G. M. Roberts, who returned Tuesday from Portland, where she attended the all-Oregon game with Mr. Roberts Saturday.

NEW YORK DAY BY DAY

By O. O. McIntyre

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—Fish markets — along the Seine, Billingsgate and Fulton street—have always increased. I think, because of the harmony and discord of a small Fulton Market in this musical metaphor is a cat walking across a piano. A blare of odors.

The stranger there, if he has a keen nose, can distinguish the strains of the mass effect, just as a music lover is able to discern himself to the symphony and follow the steady notes of an individual "cello. He knows the haddock from the cod several stails away.

But the hardened Fulton Market fishmonger—and you cannot talk to one five minutes without being told at Smith began life there—smells nothing. His nose becomes atrophied. After several years he becomes entirely immune from fishy spiridra. How wonderful nature is!

It is at dusk that the aromas fairly assault the senses. For men in high-heeled rubber boots begin flushing stalls for next day. The gutters run with chopped oddments, some already in a state of decay. Another thing I learned. Fishmongers as a class are fond of fish as food.

At 5 a. m. big hotel and restaurant buyers wander in and out Fulton's rows of dead fish. Nothing can look so dead as a fish. It is difficult to believe these beautiful specimens, along with the comic monstrosities with shiny green whalers, have ever sported gallantly in the sea, making love, building homes and seeing to it the world is generously supplied with their flabby corpses.

She is one of those vague hovering women who stand at street corners when Broadway becomes an empty tunnel of light. She seemed bewildered, minced shyly toward me, stopped, then came on. Rather breathlessly she said: "Walk toward the subway with me, please. There's a policeman down the block. I'm not what you think, although I was about to be." She went down the subway steps. I went on wondering!

Thingumbobs: Roy W. Howard was once an E-flat cornetist in an Indianapolis newsboy band. . . . Judge Samuel Seabury's grandfather was the first Episcopal bishop in America. . . . John Golden can play any tune he ever heard on the piano by ear. . . . Richard Whitney, of the Stock Ex-

There are 6 types of home-grown tobaccos that are best for cigarettes

- BRIGHT TOBACCOS
U. S. Types 11, 12, 13, 14.
- BURLEY TOBACCO
U. S. Type 31.
- SOUTHERN MARYLAND TOBACCO
U. S. Type 32.
- U. S. Type 11 is produced in the Piedmont Belt of Virginia and part of North Carolina.
- U. S. Type 12 is produced in eastern North Carolina.
- U. S. Type 13 grows in South Carolina.
- U. S. Type 14 is produced mostly in southern Georgia—a few million pounds in northern Florida and Alabama.
- U. S. Type 31 includes what is called White Burley tobacco. It was first produced by George Webb in 1864. It is light in color and body, and is milder than the Burley used for pipes.

U. S. Type 32, Maryland tobacco, is noted for its "burn". In this respect Maryland excels most other tobaccos.
These are the kinds of home-grown tobaccos used for making Chesterfield Cigarettes.
Then Chesterfield adds aromatic Turkish tobacco to give just the right seasoning or spice.
Chesterfield ages these tobaccos for 30 months—2 1/2 years—to make sure that they are milder and taste better.
