"Elysia" To Open At Rialto Friday

The opening Friday of "Elysia," filmed in a nudist colony in California, at the Rialto theater recalls a news item which appeared a couple of days ago.

It seems that an announcement in Shanghai that the Nudist association of Hongkong intends to start branch organizations at Shanghai, Canton and Singapore caused considerable consternation.

A large number of members of the Hongkong association are Chinese. The whole group take outdoor exercises and excursions together.

Outsiders are allowed to visit the camps of the cult, but the visitors are required to attend in pairs, man and wife or boy and girl friend.

"Elysia" depicts nudism in actual practice at Camp Elysia, a nudist colony situated about 85 miles from Los Angeles.

In Double Bill

Comedy, pathos and smashing drama are blended in "Made on Broadway," the sensational expose of Manhattan's maddest administration with Sally Eilers in leading roles, which opens today at the Studio theater.

On the same double bill comes "Magic Night," starring Jack Buchanan, international stage and screen star.

The picture is a distinctly first-rate production, principally for the work in it of Buchanan and his leading woman, Anna Neagle, who is England's reigning cinema queen.

Here Saturday

Marie Dressler, beloved star of numerous successes, returns to Medford Saturday and will be seen at the Craterian theater for four days in "Christopher Bean." Lionel Barrymore has the leading male role with Helen Mack, Jean Herholt and Beulah Bondi also featured.

The local showing will also be the Pacific coast premiere of this picture.

Craterian Has "Wild Boys" Film

"Wild Boys of the Road," which brings to the screen a story of the homeless boys and girls wandering this country today, opened a three-day run at the Craterian theater this afternoon. Frankie Darrow, Dorothy Coonan and Rochelle Hudson are featured players in this startling story of Young America, who live in "jungles," drift from one city to another and use the "roads" as their means of transportation.

On the same program is a three-reel subject "Krakatoa," which has the actual shots of the wild volcano of the Pacific ocean and is the first of its type to ever be actually filmed without resorting to trickery.

Standard Torture Car Will Appear In City Thursday

What automotive engineers call the world's champion glutton for punishment will visit Medford on November 23, 1933. It is an automobile, designed for water cooling, which performs endurance runs without a drop of water in the cooling system. The car, known as the "torture-test" car, prepares for its stunts by leaving its radiator home in the garage. The car is equipped with temperature recording instruments so that those who ride can see what is happening in the engine at all times. A tour of the Pacific west is being made under the auspices of the Standard Oil company of California, the "torture test" being a demonstration of new grades of 100 per cent Pennsylvania Mobiloil.

The fact that the car's cooling system is not in operation means that enormously high temperatures are developed in the engine, the gasoline and lubricants being subjected to conditions far more arduous than could be met in ordinary service. While the engineers do not suggest that motorists should emulate them by running without water, their tests demonstrate the extent of the progress which has recently been made in the development of fuel and lubricants.

The high temperatures developed with safety in the "torture test" car indicate a degree of protection afforded by modern gasoline and lubricating oil that would have been called impossible a few years, or even months, ago. The "torture test" car, when it appears on Thursday, may easily be identified. It is painted gray, with the words "Mobiloil Torture Test" appearing on the side. Both hood and radiator have been removed. Phone 315. Ends Transfer for modern, quick Fuel Oil delivery service.
