

CONTRACTOR SUES FOR DAMAGES ON ASHLAND ARREST

E. C. Hall of Eugene, a member of the contracting firm of Washburn and Hall, today filed suit in circuit court here for $25,822.50 alleged damages against C. J. Perrine, merchant, of Ashland, and one of the owners of the right-of-way, involved in the straightening of the Pacific highway last spring and summer. Hall alleges "malicious prosecution."

Hall went forth in his complaint that June 1 last, he was arrested upon a grand larceny complaint signed by Perrine, charging the theft of 50 planks of the value of $36.25.

The plaintiff charges that the warrant was served upon him at Eugene, and he was "held by the sheriff, in the night time," pending the arranging of $1000 bonds. He returned to Ashland, and on June 5 the case was dismissed by Justice of the Peace L. A. Roberts of Ashland. Hall alleges that the legal action was launched "willfully and maliciously."

Hall further declares that for 14 years he has been engaged in contracting on a large scale and that the filing by Perrine of the grand larceny charge caused him delay and expense in proceeding to a government road contract in Wyoming, involving $540,000, and also that the work was delayed. At the time the warrant was served, Hall says he was en route to Wyoming.

General damages of $20,000, punitive damages of $5000 and special damages of $822.50 for attorneys' fees, loss of time, and additional expense are sought.

Attorney William Briggs of Ashland appears as counsel for Hall.

MUSIC LOVERS ENJOY TREAT IN RECITAL OF MRS. LYDIA GUETZLAFF

An appreciative audience of genuine music lovers and their friends, gathered at the Baldwin recital hall last night to listen to the program of classic music presented by Mrs. Rosa Blackmore Willett and her talented pupil, Mrs. Lydia Guetzlaff, of Clatsop Falls.

It is always a joy to hear Mrs. Guetzlaff, as she is an ambitious and hard working student, and her friends are much interested in watching her conception of art mature. She played two groups, one of modern compositions, and a group by Chopin, the pianist's composer. Each offering was equally delightful and played with mutual intelligence.

The opportunity to hear Mrs. Willett was much appreciated both in this country and Europe, does not appear often enough in public recital. Her Chopin group was distinguished by musicianship and understanding while the magic Fire Scene was played with vigor and spirit reminiscent of the opera Valkyrie, for which this music was written.

The compositions were:

Prelude, G Minor.....Rachmaninoff
Sous Bois.....Victor Straub
Liebestraum.....Liszt

In Chopin group:

Etude in A Flat.
Etude Butterfly.
Raindrop Prelude.
Scherzo, B Flat Minor.
Mrs. Lydia Guetzlaff.
Etude in F and Nocturne F. Sharp Chopin
Berceuse.
Magico Fire Scene from Valkyrie.....Brassin-Wagner
Mrs. Rosa Blackmore Willett

FOX TERRIER TRACED BY LICENSE NUMBER

The county clerk this morning received a letter from C. A. Hunt, Salem, Ore., stating that a fox terrier bearing Jackson county license 491 came to his place several weeks ago. "It is a very intelligent animal and seems valuable enough to look into."

Dog license records show that the dog belongs to Mrs. Bethel Hart, 140 Seventh street, Ashland.

All northern Brazil is excited over the possibility of the colonel's flight.

MOUNTAIN FIRE BURNS HOMES NEAR LOS ANGELES

Damage of approximately $3,000,000 was done by a brush fire which burned over 4000 acres and destroyed a winery and a score of small homes and cabins in the Tujunga district near Los Angeles. A general view of the fierce blaze with some of the threatened homes is shown. (Associated Press Photo)

COMMUNITY CELEBRATES FIRST WINE SHIPMENT

Huge casks of wine were opened and served in Asti, Calif., as it celebrated its comeback as a wine-growing center after 14 years of prohibition. The celebration marked the departure of the Swiss-Italian of wine to leave California since 1919. Thirty-five school girls, dressed in costumes of their Swiss-Italian ancestors served the free wine. The ribboned engine and part of the crowd gathered around it are shown. (Associated Press Photo)

LOCAL IRRIGATION AREAS APPRAISED FOR REFINANCING

Appraisal of Rogue River valley irrigation districts, as a basis for loans under the Reconstruction Finance corporation, is now underway and will be completed within the next ten days.

T. W. Meredith of Buhl, Idaho, is appraising the Talent district, and F. E. Thompson of Bonanza, Ore., the Medford and other districts. Both are practical irrigators of experience. Meredith has constructed irrigation projects in Idaho, and Thompson the same in this state.

The appraisals are under direction of the irrigation, drainage and levee branch of the reconstruction corporation, Emil Schramm, chief. The appraisals will be upon a sound and meritorious basis, and are part of President Roosevelt's program to provide substantial, lasting and far-reaching relief to landowners. They are also made under orders for speed, consistent with thoroughness and efficiency. The appraisals will be forwarded to Washington, D. C., as soon as possible, and an early decision is anticipated.

Appraiser Thompson and Meredith arrived here for their work quicker than expected, and the usual federal red tape was clipped rapidly.

Dr. Charles T. Sweeney has moved his offices from the Phelps Bldg. to the Medford Center Bldg., Rooms 405, 406 and 407. Tel. 39.

YOUTH BRAGS OF LEADING MOB IN LYNCHING PARTY

us inside there and lock us up for good."

But once the screen crashed, I dashed in and ran up the stairs after some deputy sheriffs. I was the first one of the gang to get on the second floor, where Thurmond was located.

Four or five of us made the first rush for the cell. The deputies pleaded with us not to take the prisoners. Deputy Buffington, the jailer, with tears streaming down his face, said: "Boys, let us kneel in prayer and pray to God in heaven that you take the right man."

One fellow dropped down on all fours at once in the aisle and all the rest of us fellows of the gang all knelt in silent prayer. Then the prayer was broken up when a drunk guy yelled, "Amen, brother Ben—"

We took the keys away from the deputies and broke into Thurmond's cell on the second floor. We missed seeing him the first two times that we looked. He was hiding up on top of the closet.

When we found him one of the guys took him down and he fell, struck his head on the floor.

Thurmond never said a word from the time we seized him until he was dead. I think he was faking unconsciousness.

Two officers identified him for us. We dragged him to the park and tried to make him talk. I lifted his eyelids, and his eyes flickered, and he showed very plainly that he knew everything that was happening.

He was just playing dead or something.

Part of the gang rushed Holmes' cell and he told us he was Pierce, but we had the goods on him.

There was a fellow in the party who knew him and a deputy sheriff also whispered: "Boys, you've got the right fellow."

He said afterwards his name was Johnson, but finally admitted he was Holmes.

The tear gas didn't seem to bother me very much.

The word got spread around that it was going to be a Santa Clara university student lynching. But I'm not a Santa Clara student. I didn't go to college. Probably some of the college boys joined us, but I think we got most of our recruits from speakings.

I knew Brooke Hart by sight, but never had spoken to him. I thought that his terrible murder should be avenged.

I found that several hundred others thought the same thing.

New Russian contingent. A hundred are already pulling wires for the job.

The return to Tokyo of Japanese Ambassador Debutchi had been delayed more than a year so as not to appear to be a sharp recall. The root of the trouble was that Japanese militarists thought he was not militaristic enough for them. Also there may have been some current feeling in Tokyo that Debutchi should have blocked Russian recognition. The Japanese expect a lot.

Perhaps it should be recalled in connection with the Welles yarn that the switch had been in the making since last spring, but that had nothing to do with the exigencies of the present situation.

What perturbed the distillers most was the fact that the man who was running the case for the government appeared to them to be not more than 32 years old.

That federal reserve board advisory report shooting at the Roosevelt dollar policy alluded to in New York and not in Washington. Those who know the reserve board setup can have only one guess as to who gave it out.

FARMERS OF FRANCE THREATEN TO STRIKE

PARIS, Nov. 28.—(UP)—The farmers of France in a series of mass meetings throughout the country today protested against the low prices of farm products and adopted resolutions threatening a nationwide strike of farmers unless they receive government aid.

The temper of the farmers was so tense that the authorities feared uprisings might occur. Action on farm relief measures was believed imperative to prevent serious outbreaks.
