Friends Gather At Favorite Firesides To Express Thanks

Reunion of friends and relatives, always one of the brightest features of a holiday, added much pleasure to the social round of things here last week, before, after and on Thanksgiving day. Guests were coming from schools, distant cities, and neighboring towns, while a number of local folk also found pleasure in going places.

The guest coming from the most distant land was Miss Alice Church Bartlett of Geneva, Switzerland, house guest of the Misses Carlton at their home on the Old Stage road. As one of the librarians for the League of Nations, Miss Bartlett lives with her mother in Switzerland. She is in the states on a short leave of absence and arrived in the Rogue River valley last week from California, where she visited the Paul Shoups. She has been a friend of the Carltons for many years, having resided near them in the east before they came to Oregon. She had not seen them, however, since 1919 in New York, having gone to Switzerland in 1920. Miss Bartlett is the sister of Lieut. Colonel G. Gordon Bartlett, United States army, retired.

Guests at the G. M. Roberts home were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Maentz and Don Maentz of Palo Alto, Cal., and Miss Dorothy Roberts, student at the University of Oregon. The Messrs. Maentz are Stanford university students. They were joined at Thanksgiving dinner by Mr. and Mrs. T. Slater Johnston, Miss Orbie Natwick and A. S. Rosenbaum. The visiting students were also feted at dinner at the R. G. Bardwell home here Friday evening.

The F. Corning Kenlys entertained at dinner Thanksgiving day, Colonel and Mrs. Gordon Voorhies, Mr. and Mrs. Sprague Riegel, Charles Voorhies, Mr. and Mrs. Robt. W. Ruhl and daughter, Alicia, and Miss Charity Hart. The same evening the Voorhies' entertained the Kenlys and Ruhls at their home south of the city.

Among local folk enjoying the holiday in other cities was Miss Frances Sparrow, who is visiting friends in Portland, among them Miss Gretchen Corbett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elliott Corbett with whom she went abroad a few years ago. She has also been guest of the F. L. Brewers, formerly of this city, and will remain in Portland for the Chi Psi dance December 23, returning to this city Christmas eve.

The H. Chandler Egans have left Medford for their winter home at Pebble Beach, Cal., and A. R. Livingston and sister, Miss Anne Livingston, have gone to La Jolla for the season.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Reames, who spent several days in Palo Alto and San Francisco, visiting their son, Edward, student at Stanford university, returned to Medford Thanksgiving day.

New York Beauty From This City Will Make Debut

In a New York dispatch in the San Francisco Chronicle is found a news note of interest to many Medford folk who remember the Frank Owen family. For it is about Miss Shelby Owen daughter of the late Frank Owen and Mrs. Owen, now of New York.

The Owens lived in Medford a number of years ago, where the James H. Owens now make their home on Siskiyou Heights, Mr. Frank Owen being a nephew of James Owen. Their young daughter, who has become one of the outstanding beauties of the east, was then a student at the Valley school.

She has been living in New York with her mother for some time, and will make her debut in society this winter, the following item reveals:

"One of the winter debutantes in New York is Miss Shelby Owen, the daughter of Mrs. Frank Gilchrist Owen, who was Miss Leila Shelby of San Francisco and Portland before her marriage. Miss Owen is a strikingly beautiful girl who was educated at Ogonts and whose beauty has been painted by Howard Chandler Christy. Mrs. Owen and her daughter have an apartment, at Fifty-third street and Park avenue for the winter."

Both Mrs. Kelly and Mrs. Greiner will be greatly missed in local social and church circles, where they have filled prominent places since coming to this city. Mrs. Kelly has also been prominently allied with the newspaper and theater life of Medford, having led the little theater movement here a few years ago. She was a reporter on The Mail Tribune before her marriage and has since done considerable writing for the newspaper, particularly theater reviews. Apollo Students Please in Recital

One of the most enjoyable events of the past week, musically speaking, was the recital in which Sebastian Apollo presented a number of piano pupils, assisted by Miss GGrace Burnett, soloist, at the Baldwin recital hall, filled to capacity, Friday evening.

Outstanding in the program, if applause may be accepted as any criterion, were the Concerto by Mendelssohn, played by Mr. Apollo and Cyril Sander, and the latters interpretation of Lavallee's "The Butterfly." The lightness of touch exhibited by the pupil and his obvious love of music, combined with a fine ability, won the audience over when he played his first number. His playing of the concerto with Mr. Apollo then came as a fine climax to a thoroughly enjoyable evening of music. An encore granted was the crowd's reward.

Solos by Miss Burnett, accomplished soprano, were also greeted with enthusiasm by the audience.

The complete program follows:

"Rockabye Baby"—Janice Pettitt.
