

MAY LOWER BAR TO FOREIGN RUM AS PRICES RISE

Federal Officials Would Aid Domestic Supply to Keep Drinkables Within Reach of Slim American Purses

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—(AP)—Determined to bring the prices for whiskeys, ryes and other newly legalized potables into easier reach of slim pocketbooks, federal officials today contemplated increasing liquor importations to swell the domestic supply.

The administration also prepared to use as a club if necessary, its authority over the prices charged by distillers, wholesalers, importers, rectifiers and blenders.

Prices Must Tumble. Although direct power over retail prices was lacking, the work emanating today from authoritative quarters was that, unless charges to consumers tumbled sharply after the present immediate period of expected confusion, the government would wield its authority drastically to bring about what was termed a better competitive condition.

Indications of official displeasure over present high prices were numerous. Representative Cochran, Missouri Democrat, went so far as to urge a drinkers' strike unless quotations came down. Asserting holders of warehouse receipts were gouging the public, he declared "a quart for whiskey, no matter how old, is outrageous."

Import Authorized. In the matter of increasing imports to enlarge the domestic supply, authority already is out for bringing in a large quantity of Canadian bourbon and rye for blending and other purposes. Blanket licenses also have been issued to importers for immediate shipment into the country of 3,600,000 gallons of spirits and wines.

In addition, negotiations were pressed today with foreign nations for increasing their liquor imports into the United States in exchange for increased importations by them of American products.

Secretary Wallace disclosed the first specific negotiation yesterday in speaking of his corn-hog program. He said efforts were under way to allow England to increase its exports to here of Irish and Scotch whiskeys in exchange for that country raising its import limit on meat and other farm products.

Distillers Promise Cut. From the private liquor authorities, meanwhile, came assurances that prices would come down. Dr. James H. Doran, former commissioner of industrial alcohol, and now spokesman for the association of distilled spirits industry, said he felt sure prices would drop as distribution difficulties lessened. Doran said that as soon as his staff was organized he would submit to the federal alcohol control administration a list of distillers prices. The FACA could reject these prices should they be considered too high.

STREET WORK UNDER CWA MAKES PROGRESS

Street work in Medford, made possible under the Civil Works Administration, was progressing rapidly today, City Superintendent Fred Schiefel announced. Lindley avenue and Monroe street, which takes off Holly toward the new high school building on Oakdale, is also being improved, the object being to relieve traffic on Oakdale, increased by location of the school.

WARDEN TOO LENIENT; IS OUSTED BY IDAHO

BOISE, Idaho, Dec. 8.—(AP)—After a stormy session, the state prison board on a divided vote today ousted George Rind as warden of the Idaho penitentiary because of alleged excessive leniency to prisoners, including Mrs. Lydia Southard, serving a 10-year life sentence for poisoning her fourth husband.

WEST OVERLOOKED WHEN CHECKS FOR WHEAT GIVEN OUT

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—(AP)—Although Oregon, Washington and Idaho are among wheat producing states of the country, they failed to place in the list of recipients of checks mailed prior to December 1 to farmers co-operating in the agricultural administration wheat program.

Checks totaling $3,316,589 have been mailed to 51,909 farmers in 19 states, but only Utah of the northern Rocky Mountain and Pacific Coast states was listed as having received a portion of the funds. Weber county in that state received $36,292 divided among 162 farmers.

Nevada and Colorado of the Rocky Mountain area received a total of $595 and $3219 respectively. Checks for the first of two payments to farmers who have agreed to reduce their 1934 acreage by 15 per cent will be sent out throughout the winter, amounting to 20 cents a bushel on each farmer's reduction allotment. A second payment of 8 cents a bushel, out of which will come administration costs in each county, will be made next spring. It is estimated the payments will total approximately $102,000. The AAA said approximately 80

PATH CLEAR FOR BRIDGE PROJECTS

SALEM, Dec. 8.—(AP) What is believed to be the last obstacle to approval of Oregon's application for $5,000,000 of PWA loan and grant funds for the construction of five bridges on the Coast highway was believed removed when Governor Meier attached his signature to house bill 78 and filed it with the secretary of state.

The bill authorizes the highway commission to contract with the federal government for a loan in the amount of $4,500,000 to be repaid out of tolls imposed on traffic over the bridges. Immediately upon receipt of word that the bill had been signed, J. M. Devera, attorney for the highway commission, prepared to submit resolutions carrying the contracts into effect to the highway commission.

PROFS COMPLETE UNIVERSITY PROBE

EUGENE, Dec. 8.—(AP)—Investigation into the University of Oregon situation, conducted by a special committee of the American Association of University Professors, was finished late yesterday and a "preliminary report" which the committee said it hoped would serve as a basis for a settlement is understood to have been prepared. The committee consisted of Dr. George P. Adams, Dr. F. M. Padelford and Dr. Charles V. Taylor.

It is understood that their complete report will be filed in Washington, D. C. and it may not be made public. Members of the committee said that in the past the report of the A. U. P. investigators has served to settle difficulties arising in universities and colleges. On the basis of this statement, it was thought that the present report may go far toward ironing out difficulties in Oregon.
