LEGION ENDORSES STATE SALES TAX TO SAVE SCHOOLS

Medford Post of the Legion met in regular session last evening with a full calendar of work to be handled. Perhaps the most interesting feature of the evening was a discussion of the newly passed sales tax for the benefit of the public schools. After a short discussion of the reasons for the application of this measure it was endorsed by unanimous vote of the post.

Announcement was made of the Legion's annual Christmas day dance, Monday evening, December 25, at the Oriental Gardens. Special decorations and music have been arranged for. As next regular meeting of the post would fall upon Christmas day, it has been set ahead one week and will be held Tuesday, December 19. That same evening the ladies of the auxiliary will stage a Christmas tree and party to which all children of legionnaires and auxiliary are invited. This party will be held at the armory from 8 to 10 p. m. Adjutant Ray Wright has established his office with E. J. Feldman at the White Sewing Machine store next to the Peerless market on North Bartlett street.

JASPER THOMASON DIES, CENTRAL PT.

Jasper Thomason passed away at the home of his brother, C. P. Thomason, in Central Point at 9 a. m. Tuesday at the age of 66. He was born in Boone county, Arkansas, January 18, 1867. He had been a resident of Central Point since coming here from Seattle in 1932.

Besides his wife, Mary Thomason, he leaves two daughters, Mrs. Ollie Wyatt of Clarkston, Wash., and Carrie Estorn, of Oakland, Cal.; also his mother, Laura A. Thomason of Central Point; three brothers and two sisters: C. P. Thomason, of Central Point; A. R. Thomason, Rockingham, N. C.; Mrs. M. D. Hood, Central Point, and Mrs. Hattie Tower, of Palouse, Wash.; also one son.

He was a member of the Christian church of Central Point. Announcement of services will be made by Conger Funeral Parlors at a later date.

Mrs. Martha Nell of Memphis, Tenn., owns a Bible printed by the Cambridge university press in 1875.

JACK HOLT STAR OF 'WOMAN I STOLE'

A picture with an ending entirely unconventional and unexpected is "The Woman I Stole," adaptation of Joseph Hergesheimer's story "Rampage," now playing at the Rialto theater. Jack Holt, Fay Wray, Raquel Torres and Noah Beery are featured.

DOUBLE FEATURE POLICY AT STUDIO

"The Past of Mary Holmes," a film made from the Rex Beach story, "The Goose Woman," with Eric Linden, Jean Arthur and Richard "Sheets" Gallagher in the cast, will be one-half of the program on the double feature policy which starts at the Studio theater tomorrow. The other feature picture, "Frisco Jenny," Ruth Chatterton's starring vehicle, is a stirring tale of the Barbary coast of San Francisco, when it was running at the height of its wild orgies during the quake days.
