A. Hanscom, as plaintiff, recovered judgment against Alfred John Milkowski and Velma Opal Milkowski, the defendants, for the sum of One Thousand Eight Hundred Eight and 67-100 ($1808.67) Dollars, with interest from this date at 8% per annum, with costs and disbursements taxed at Twenty-six and 80-100 ($26.80) Dollars, and the further sum of One Hundred and no-100 ($100.00) Dollars, as attorney's fees, which judgment was enrolled and docketed in the Clerk's office of said Court in said County on the 2nd day of December, 1933.

'DEATH HOUSE MISTRESS' JAILED

NINE DEAD AND HEAVY DAMAGE IN FLOOD PATH

lieved to have drowned in an effort to save marooned cattle. His empty rowboat was found.

Desolation Bared

Over a wide area, in the southern Puget Sound, the Centralia and cowlitz river and the Grays Harbor county districts, the waters were receding today for the most part, leaving behind scenes of desolation.

Numerous highway and railroad bridges were twisted and broken, the roadways washed away or dangerously undermined and farm lands were covered with silt.

Several hundred homes, over the entire flooded area, were damaged or wrecked.

The puyallup river valley and Tacoma, where two square miles of territory were submerged, counted their losses near the $2,000,000 mark. King county damage, mainly in the White River valleys and around the cities of Kent and Auburn, were placed at near $500,000.

Cowlitz Still Rising

The Cowlitz river was still at the 21.1 foot level last night at Kelso, and the water was still rising 30 miles up-river. Two hundred men were at work on dikes east of Longview and at Castle Rock.

At Aberdeen and Hoquiam, in Grays Harbor county, officials of the three railroad lines declined to promise any rail service until tomorrow. The main Olympic highway to Puget Sound cities was six feet under water last night.

In northeastern Idaho, numerous streams of the Coeur d'Alene region left their banks, menacing highways, washing out several bridges and threatening other property.

FOE OF VOLIVA VICTIM OF FIRE

ZION, Ill., Dec. 12.—(AP)—Deaconess Marlantoinette Huber, 78, who was a follower of the late Alexander Dowie, founder of the Zion religious colony, was burned to death today in her home.

Firemen found the roof had already caved in when they reached the house where she lived alone. The aged woman lay on the floor in the midst of blazing newspapers and leaflets.

Deaconess Huber was a bitter foe of Wilbur Glenn Voliva, who succeeded Dowie as business and religious dictator of Zion, and on parade days during the feast of the tabernacle she would always stand on a street corner waving old copies of the Zion newspaper with Dowie's picture on the front page. She never destroyed her newspapers, and firemen had warned her that a house full of papers was a fire hazard.

GOLD PRICE REMAINS AT PREVIOUS LEVEL

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12. — (AP) — The government's gold price was set at $34.01 an ounce today for the tenth consecutive time.

London's price today was $32.13 an ounce on the basis of sterling opening at $5.08½.

The RFC quotation for domestic gold has remained unchanged since the day after thanksgiving, but treasury officials insist the gold policy is continuing unchanged and all newly mined domestic gold is being purchased at this price.

ROASTING IDEAS

Estella Dorgan.

Every housewife has her own "best way" to roast a turkey. One will tell you to make a "blanket" of dough, another uses a "sheet" for steaming. A newer version is a paper covering. Then, there is the simple method of just baking the fowl in a moist oven, using moderate heat, controlled and even, for sufficient time to penetrate throughout. This is the method recommended for users of electric ranges as easiest and thoroughly dependable.

First, choose a young bird, wash it thoroughly after the preliminary cleansing, then stuff it sparingly so that the dressing will have space to expand and will not be soggy and underdone. Now it is ready to sew up loosely and grease well and season lightly. Press into shape, truss and place on the rack in your roasting pan, breast down. If you wish, this fowl may be set in a coin oven, the heat set to maintain 275 degrees and 30 minutes allowed for each pound of meat. Or, you may sear the fowl for about 20 minutes at 500 degrees, then lower the heat control so as to maintain 275 degrees and bake 25 minutes per pound of meat. Just before removing from the oven, the bird may be turned over and browned slightly more on the breast if a deep color is desired. Basting is unnecessary, of course, in the electric range, but in ovens where this is part of the roasting process, open the door as seldom as possible, since it always slows up the cooking.

These instructions apply to roasting chickens and domestic geese also.

Baked Ham

Select ham which is prepared for roasting—without soaking. Wipe it off with cloth wrung out of cold water then place in the roaster, fat side up. Cut the fat in sections and stick whole cloves in these slices. Cover all with a thin paste made of brown sugar, cinnamon mustard and cooking wine or cider. (Orange juice or pineapple juice are good). Bake at 275 degrees, allowing 25 minutes for each pound of ham.

Roast Beef

Select a standing rib, or such a piece of meat so that it may be rather festive for the occasion. Wipe it with a damp cloth, season slightly and sprinkle lightly with flour. Place in roasting pan with a piece of fat on top for extra moisture and flavor. Again you are given the choice of searing for 20 minutes or placing in a cold oven. However you start it, the greater part of the cooking should be done at a moderate heat (350 degrees to 375 degrees), allowing 25 minutes for each pound if you like it roasted to the "well done" stage. (If you desire to protect a "brown roast" from scorching the ribs while cooking, cap each rib with a piece of uncooked potato while cooking. Then decorate with paper frills for serving.)

STUFFINGS

Plain Bread Stuffing

2 cups bread cubes.
4 tablespoons melted butter.
½ teaspoon sage.
1 teaspoon salt.
¼ cup chopped celery.
1 tablespoon minced onion.
¼ teaspoon pepper.
2 tablespoons stock.

Use rather stale bread, mix all well with a fork and pack lightly in the bird. (Thyme may be used instead of onion in any of these dressings).

Oyster Stuffing

Omit the sage, celery, onion and stock and add one pint of carefully cleaned oysters to the plain bread stuffing.

Pineapple Stuffing

2 cups soft bread cubes.
1 whole egg.
1 tablespoon melted butter.
½ cup chopped celery.
1 cup crushed pineapple.
2 slices bacon, shredded.
Salt and pepper to taste.

Beat egg slightly then mix all other ingredients in, using only as much juice of pineapple as necessary.

New Orleans Paint Knew.

NEW ORLEANS.—(UP)—Just as the 36th state voted ratification of the 21st amendment, paint peeled off the side of a building here and revealed the word "Whisky," which was part of an old sign painted years before the repeal.

Candidates Kept Promise.

BREMERTON, Wash.—(UP)—When Jesse Knabb ran for mayor he bet his friend Charlie Barowski he would either beat him, or would jump off the dock. He lost, and jumped into the cold waters of Puget Sound.
