Mystery Thriller at Studio

One of the strangest and most exciting thrillers, "The Mystery of the Wax Museum," opens the double feature program at the Studio theater today. "Flaming Gold," with Bill Boyd as an oil driller in the second picture.

Clara Bow Coming Sunday In Circus Hit At Craterian

Clara Bow, the fiery red-head of the movies, makes her latest screen appearance in "Hoopla," opening at the Craterian theater Sunday.

In this story of carnival life that dramatizes the hatreds, the desires, the romances and the loves of the "big top," Clara Bow is said to reach the "highest" point of achievement in her colorful career.

She plays the part of a carnival dancer, and the environment of the open-air circus form a kaleidoscopic background for her constantly changing emotions and the fire of her personality.

The story is built around this young dancer, who makes a wager that she can win the love of a certain young man. The young man happens to be the son of the carnival barker and he falls an easy prey to the wiles of the dazzling dancer. And that brings about some interesting developments.

The cast in support of Miss Bow is headed by Preston Foster, Richard Cromwell, Herbert Mundin, Minna Gombell and James Gleason. The story was adapted from the well-known play, "The Barker."

Craterian Offers Preview Saturday

The regular Saturday night preview at the Craterian theater tomorrow night has "Blind Adventure" and a extra feature to be shown after the 9 o'clock show.

"Blind Adventure" combines the melodrama and hokum of a multi-chapter serial into an hour's rousing entertainment filled with some great comedy. The whole thing rolls along in such a style that no one can imagine just what is going to happen next.

Bruce, a lonesome American, gets lost in the dense fog in London and discovers a corpse. He rushes for the bobbies and returns with them only to find the corpse has disappeared. Fun gets fast and furious as he bumps into a burglar while trying to get out of a haunted house and from them on the entire picture is one fast sequence after another.

Robert Armstrong, Helen Mack, Ralph Bellamy, Roland Young and John Miljan have the featured roles. "Man's Castle" is the regular feature on the Craterian program.

Some really dangerous stunts are featured in "When a Man Rides Alone" at the Roxy tomorrow.

Tom Tyler does everything—the harder it is apparently the better he likes it.

From riding beneath a moving stage coach to jumping on the top from an overhanging branch—while the vehicle is going pell-mell down the road—to riding like a greased lightning in the saddle—he leaves nothing undone!
