JENNINGS AMONG CHIEF ASPIRANTS FOR U. S. MARSHAL

Ralph G. Jennings, former sheriff of Jackson county, is one of the leading candidates for appointment as United States marshal for Oregon, and according to upstate and local reports has the active backing of some of the most influential democrats in the state.

Word has gone out that the marshalship "must go to some democrat south of Portland," and that the appointee must have qualifications other than a record as a "lifelong democrat."

There has not been much said about the Jennings candidacy since the Portland Journal spoke highly of it six months ago.

John T. Summerville of Portland, a former Medford resident, is also active for the federal plum. Summerville years ago ran a barber shop in this city, was a councilman and a party worker. Summerville is now reported in Washington, D. C., tending to his political fences. He has been in the insurance business in Portland for the past ten years, and during the Wilson administration was an internal revenue department appointee.

Jennings is popular in this county, and in the Willamette valley districts, where he bears a high reputation as a law enforcement officer. He was never very strong with the Jackson county democracy, but was the only democratic candidate who could poll republican votes in winning quantities.

In the 1932 primaries he was defeated by Gordon L. Schermhorn for sheriff. In the fall election he polled more than 5000 votes in a "write-in" campaign. Schermhorn apparently being elected by 123 votes. A recount was ordered, and the ballots stolen and destroyed on the night before the count was scheduled to start in circuit court. Schermhorn later was ousted as sheriff, and convicted of ballot box conspiracy, now being under a three year prison sentence, and at liberty pending a supreme court appeal.

ASHLANDER HELD FOR GRAND JURY AS GOAT KILLER

Gene Hastings of Ashland, charged with W. B. Chipman, also of Ashland, with "grand larceny of livestock," was ordered held to the grand jury yesterday by Justice of the Peace William R. Coleman, following a preliminary hearing. Hastings was released on $250 bonds furnished by Henry G. Enders, W. H. McNair and Dr. C. T. Haines of Ashland.

Chipman, jointly accused with Hastings, waived preliminary hearing. The court, in ordering Hastings held for the grand jury, said: "It is a painful duty, but the evidence justifies holding the defendant to the grand jury for further inquiry. It will work no hardship on Mr. Hastings, who has plenty of friends waiting and anxious to go his bonds."

According to the testimony, Hastings and Chipman went on a fishing trip to Rogue river, near the Bybee bridge, last week. They passed through a pasture in which a number of goats belonging to L. G. Hamilton were pastured. On their return from the river the men are alleged to have chased one of the goats into a fence corner, slit its throat and then dragged the carcass into the brush and drove away. A Mr. and Mrs. Glass saw the proceedings and so testified.

Hastings, through his attorney, William Briggs, contended that he crawled over the fence and went to his parked auto 50 or 60 feet away and had nothing to do with the alleged slaughter. He alleged that while seated in his auto with the engine running, Chipman came and said:

DR. A. F. KRESSE
Has moved from Palmer Bldg. to MEDFORD CENTER BLD.
Rooms 403 and 404

"I've killed a goat," and Hastings replied: "My God, what did you do that for?" District Attorney Coddling, in his argument, held that Hastings was an accessory to the goat killing, and "anybody who ever had anything to do with a goat, knows that they are too much for one man to handle when about to have its throat slit." The district attorney intimated the task was a two-man or more job. Attorney Briggs further argued that Hastings observed a "gentleman's code" and through a "false loyalty" protected his companion. The defense counsel said he was at a loss to explain any reason for the goat killing.

A number of character witnesses were subpoenaed but not called, when the district attorney stipulated that the character and reputation of Hastings was excellent. The court remarked: "I know his reputation is good."

Both Hastings and Chipman are well known and highly respected residents of Ashland, where they have lived for many years. Hastings, during the hearing, sat with bowed head and appeared sad.
