Zasu Pitts in Craterian Show

"Aggie Appleby, Maker of Men," is the title of the picture featuring Zasu Pitts, Wynne Gibson and Chas. Farrell, which comes to the Craterian theater for tomorrow only. On the same program "My Woman," a story of the "inside life" of a huge broadcasting station, will also be shown.

"Aggie Appleby" is from a world of eternal struggle where bad men and bad whiskey are all part of the game. Into her life comes Adoniram Schlump, who descends on the great city in a fawn-like demeanor and is taken in hand by Aggie of the East Side to be taught how to battle and

Sally Eilers in Rialto Picture

The local showing Sunday of the Joe E. Brown farce will be the Pacific Coast premiere of the picture. It is a story of the adventure of a sailor whose imagination outruns his discretion. The many scrapes he gets into because of this, which he gets out of through extraordinary good luck, make for uproarious laughter. "My Lips Betray" gives Lillian Harvey a splendid opportunity for the perfect display of her versatility as an actress of note, and for her singing and dancing, which proved so popular in her last screen appearance in "My Weakness," shown here a few weeks ago. John Boles is her leading man, and it is of interest to know he was personally selected by Miss Harvey for this role.

In Studio Comedy

Laurel and Hardy's feature length comedy, "The Devil's Brother," is a part of the big double bill now at the Studio.
