

POLICE AND FIRE ANNUAL REPORTS HANDED COUNCIL

515 Persons Locked Up During Year — $1186 Assessed in Fines — Low Fire Loss Shown by Chief

There were 515 prisoners held in the Medford city jail during the year 1933, when law enforcement officers found their business on the increase. Chief of Police Clatous McCredie reported to the city council in summary of the past year's work last night.

Of this number 96 were held for state police, 168 in city court, not including prisoners held on traffic charges. There were 281 held by city police or city and state, which were dismissed or taken into state, federal or juvenile courts or for officers of other counties.

The report was read by Councilman C. C. Furnas and was followed by much praise for the police department, voiced by Mayor E. M. Wilson. It showed 127 persons arrested for being drunk in a public place, 30 for disorderly conduct, four for disturbing the peace, four for begging on the streets, one for selling beer without license, one for dumping garbage in the city, and one for delivering milk without a license.

$1186 in Fines.
The fines assessed for these cases totalled $1186 and jail sentences of 315 days.

Investigations made by the police department totaled 591. There were four holdups recorded during the year, 63 burglaries and 173 petty larcenies cases. Thirty-two runaway boys and girls were reported to police, and 21 animals strayed or stolen. Juveniles arrested or investigated numbered 47, stolen bicycles 75. There were 29 cars stolen and all were recovered.

In the 50 traffic cases reported fines of $495 were assessed and jail sentences of 28 days.

Low Fire Loss.
The report of Fire Chief Roy Elliott, which showed a fire loss of less than one-fifth of the preceding year for 1933 in Medford, was also received by the mayor, with much commendation for the department.

During the year 1933 the fire department responded to 119 alarms, as listed below:

Flue fires	30
Grass fires	23
Residences	13
False alarms	10
Automobiles	7
Roof fires	5

Total 119
The department used 227 1/2 gallons of chemical and laid 8950 feet of 2 1/2 inch hose and 1200 feet of 1 1/2 inch hose.

The total fire loss for the year was $16,388.48, on which $16,308.48 insurance was paid, a loss per capita of 1 1/3 dollars per person.

Insurance carried on the above property was $623,426. The estimated value of property where there actually was fire was $801,000.

The department received cash as follows:
Recharging extinguishers $16.50
Sale of old couplings 2.60
Total $19.10

All cash received has been turned over to the city treasurer and his receipts are on file.

Buildings Inspected.
The fire chief made 670 personal inspections of buildings and property during the past year, with recommendations to remedy conditions where fire hazards were found. Inspection of all schools of the city was made and a fire drill called in each one. Chief Elliott reported all well organized on fire drill and fire equipment in good condition in each school.

The remainder of the report follows: "Medford's fire loss this year is less than one-fifth of last year, and with the exception of 1928 and 29 it is the lowest in 11 years, and from what information we can obtain our loss is among the lowest in the state for cities of our size.

"The fire prevention bureau installed last year has proven to be of great value to this department and the state fire marshal's office.

"We had 10 false alarms this past year, and we urge people to turn in an alarm promptly where there is fire, but many false alarms are smoke seen from a distance where others are burning grass or rubbish or fog in front of an electric sign. We ask the people to make sure there is a fire before turning in an alarm.

"I wish to thank the volunteer firemen for their support and willingness to aid whenever possible to do so, whether they are called or not. I also wish to thank the public for their heavy co-operation toward the prevention of fire by keeping waste and rubbish cleaned up.

"We desire to thank the mayor and city council and the fire committee for their support and co-operation with the fire department.

"Respectfully submitted,
"ROY ELLIOTT,
"Chief."

He called upon the government to suppress organized crime, mentioning "banditry, cold blooded shooting, lynching and kidnaping."

Gold Policy Reviewed.
Reviewing his ten months in the White House, he briefly described his gold monetary program as designed at strengthening the financial structure "and of arriving eventually at a medium of exchange which will have over the years less variable purchasing and debt paying power for our people."

"Careful investigation and constant study," he added, "prove that in the matter of foreign exchange rates, certain of our sister nations find themselves so handicapped by internal and other conditions that they feel unable at this time to enter into stabilization discussions based on permanent and world-wide objectives."

Recovery Draws Lines.
"Now that we are definitely in the process of recovery," he said, "lines have been rightly drawn between those to whom this recovery means a return to old methods—and the number of these people is small—and those for whom recovery means a reform of many old methods, a permanent readjustment of many of our ways of thinking and therefore of many of our social and economic arrangements..."

LUCKY STRIKE

So round, so firm, so fully packed

no loose ends to spill out or cling to lips

On every fine tobacco plant there are only a few leaves that we buy for Lucky Strike. Not the top leaves—because they are under-developed. Not the bottom leaves—because those are inferior in quality. We select only the center leaves—because the center leaves are the mildest and fully ripe for perfect smoking. Only the center leaves are used in making Luckies—so round, so firm, so fully packed—free from loose ends that spill out, that cling to lips. Is it any wonder Luckies are mild and smooth? And remember, "It's toasted"—for throat protection—for finer taste.
