

ROOSEVELT SAYS BUSINESS UPTURN WILL PAY COSTS

We have so far seen will become cumulative.

"The cornerstone of this foundation is the good credit of the government.

"If we maintain the course I have outlined, we can confidently look forward to cumulative beneficial forces represented by increased volume of business, more general profit, greater employment, a diminution of relief expenditures, larger governmental receipts and repayments, and greater human happiness."

It had been pointed out by him earlier in a supplemental talk with newspapermen that the more than ten billion dollars to be spent this fiscal year is not up to the limit authorized by congress.

Results Seen.

"The results of expenditures already made," his message read, "show themselves in concrete form in better prices for farm commodities, in renewed business activity, in increased employment, in reopening of and restored confidence in banks, and in well-organized relief."

The prospective seven billion dollar deficit for this year includes $1,116,000,000 additional to be asked from congress for continuing until summer the vast civil works administration and financing the home loan bank system.

Mr. Roosevelt told newspapermen he would just as soon have the two billion dollar recovery fund he has asked for next year in a lump sum. If congress prefers to itemize it, he does not want authority to switch funds from one item to another.

Relief Funds Needed.

His ideas for use of this two billion dollars next year are, roughly, $500,000,000 to supplement for the reconstruction finance corporation; $300,000,000 to continue another year the civilian conservation corps, and $200,000,000 to $300,000,000 for unemployment relief.

"It is clear," said the president, "that the necessity for relief and recovery will still be with us during the year 1934-35. Additional relief funds will be necessary.

"Further needs of the country prohibit the abrupt termination of the recovery program.

"No person can on this date definitely predict the total amount that will be needed, nor the itemizing of such an amount.

"It is my best judgment at this time that a total appropriation of not to exceed two billion dollars will, with the expenditures still to be made next year out of existing appropriations, be sufficient.

RFC Gets Big Sum.

The huge reconstruction corporation, called upon to finance much of the business and banking structure of the nation, is charged with almost $4,000,000,000 of the $7,000,000,000 deficit for this year.

This money is in loans. A credit of $480,000,000 in repayments is counted upon next year. The president hinted to newspapermen possible, but unforeseen loans to business next year.

The public works administration is charged with $1,477,190,800 of the "emergency" expenditures for this year. Another $1,069,883,100 of the $3,300,000,000 fund is expected to be spent next year.

Civilian conservation work, the federal deposit insurance corporation and the agriculture adjustment administration accounted for most of the remainder of the emergency outlay for this year.

Next year's emergency budget allows an additional $31,000,000 for the Tennessee valley authority; $65,190,000 for emergency conservation work; $12,650,000 for federal land banks, and $5,000,000 for the agriculture adjustment administration.

Ordinary Budget Lower.

The president's message stated that if the RFC loaning authority is extended beyond next June 30, "it is contemplated that any additional loans by it would thereafter be taken from the new and additional recovery fund hereinafter referred to."

The president announced the issuance of executive orders extending the authority of director of the budget—Lewis Douglas—over all extraordinary expenditures hereafter, and also the audit authority of the comptroller general over these items.

In his message, he noted that the budget for the new year—the first he has submitted to congress—shows a reduction of $664,913,167 in the regular ordinary expenditures over the budget submitted a year ago by the outgoing administration.

LEGION BROADCASTING PATRIOTIC PROGRAMS

A statewide American Legion radio broadcast, featuring particularly Americanism and good citizenship, started November 9th, has attracted wide interest over the state. The programs are broadcast every Thursday from 7:30 to 8:00 p. m. from radio station KOAC at Corvallis, Oregon. This station being state owned, carries no advertising or commercial announcements and consequently a full half hour of entertainment combined with a short talk on good citizenship is assured the listener.

Various American Legion Posts throughout the state are sponsoring the programs. The list for January is as follows:

January 4th, McMinnville post No. 21.

January 11, Corvallis Post, No. 11.

January 18, Santiam Post No. 18, of Lebanon.

January 25, Capital Post No. 9 of Salem.

High school students of California made agricultural profits of $112,000 in future farming projects during the last fiscal year.

Where Money Will Go

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—(AP)—President Roosevelt's estimates of where the money is going in this fiscal year—ending June 30—and next:

Expenditures	1933	1934
General—	193	1934
Departmental	$2,899,116,200	$3,202,074,900
Legislative	17,718,500	18,734,500
Independent offices	916,837,067	824,466,600
Total	$3,822,691,767	$3,763,276,000
Less debt retirement	458,171,500	526,763,800
Total general	$3,364,520,267	$3,236,512,200
Emergency—
Public works	$1,677,190,800	$1,069,883,100
Agricultural adjustment	103,250,000	5,000,000
Farm credit	40,000,000
Conservation corps	341,705,000	65,190,000
Reconstruction corporation	3,969,740,300	*480,436,600
Tennessee Valley	19,000,000	31,000,000
Land banks	52,350,000	12,650,000
Deposit insurance	150,000,000
NEA	4,250,000
Total emergency	$6,257,466,700	$723,286,500
Total all expenditures less debt retirement	$4,403,009,967	$3,960,798,700

*This RFC figure is deducted since it represents an excess of repayment on loans above new loans. The RFC figure is contingent on extension of the corporation's authority.

The above tables do not include President Roosevelt's extra-budget request for $1,166,000,000 in 1934 and $2,000,000,000 in 1935.

SEARCH OF DEBRIS ADDS SIX VICTIMS TO TOLL OF FLOOD

pointed out, that many of the missing may be buried under the 10 or 12 feet of mud, sand, boulders and splinters of wrecked homes that cover some sections.

Scenes that gripped even men accustomed to the horrors of widespread tragedy were revealed as 5,000 men, county laborers, OWA and OCC workers, bent their backs to the work of reconstruction. The crushed body of a little girl was retrieved from one pile of debris before the eyes of Gov. Rolph, who made a survey of the stricken districts.

Workers Kept at Task.

Although shaken by the sufferings of grief-stricken relatives, workmen labored on doggedly looking for those who lost their lives when a terrific rainstorm poured a 25-foot wall of water down Pickens canyon upon the picturesque communities of Montrose, La Crescenta and La Canada, built under the shadow of the Verdugo mountains.

The Red Cross made an appeal for $75,000 to aid those rendered destitute by the storm, and Gov. Rolph instructed state highway funds to make immediate plans for the rebuilding of highways and bridges washed out by the flood waters.

American Legion posts, Salvation Army workers and others had established a group of relief stations, where clothing and food were distributed. A close check was being kept on health conditions to prevent any outbreak of disease, and authorities said no alarming infections had developed.

All schools were opened today and virtually all highways were passable with the exception of a few in the Montrose district. Rail transportation had been returned to schedules.

MOODY REMAINS ON STATE WORK

"A report has been circulated that I am going to California and have severed my connection with the attorney general's office," said Ralph R. Moody, in a communication from Salem to friends here today.

"While it is true I am going to California for a short while to recuperate from an illness, I have not severed connection with the attorney general's office, but will act in an advisory capacity to the attorney general's office while in California, and during that time will write the briefs in the Banks and Schermerhorn appeals, which will not be due until some time in February.

Moody has been granted leave of absence with pay during which to regain his health, but will continue his work as above mentioned. He will not leave Salem for a few days.

C. P. CHEESE PLANT PREPARES TO OPEN

Thomas Quast, manager of the Rogie Valley Dairy Products company at Central Point, is getting the plant in shape for opening January 10, when they will begin to receive milk.

Mr. Quast says they will pay the San Francisco butterfat quotations for milk delivery at the plant and want all the milk they can get. The plant has two 1100-gallon vats. He also says all cheese will be held until properly cured and they want to market locally all the cheese they possibly can.

The plant was recently purchased by Edw. Seufert of The Dalles, has been improved and the name has been changed. Mr. Seufert has operated a cannery at The Dalles for years.

REAPPOINT FOUR COUNTY OFFICIALS

At a meeting of the county court yesterday, reappointments were made to four county positions as follows:

County engineer, Paul B. Rynning; machine shop foreman, Thomas Roeberry; Mrs. Irene Wells, superintendent of the poor farm, and Howard Warner, fruit inspector.

Selection of janitors for the courthouse was deferred to a future session.

The Mail Tribune and Ashland Tidings were designated as the official papers of the county.

Green Lantern To Re-Open on Main

H. E. Wharton has leased the building, corner of Main and Holly streets, recently occupied by the Park grocery, and will reopen the Green Lantern thereabout January 15th or 20th.

The building is being rearranged, painted and put in shape for the only up-to-date sea food cafe in southern Oregon. They will also serve lunches and dinners.
