

INFANT KIDNAPED BY WHITE WOMAN FOR NEGRO HUBBY

NEW YORK, Jan. 12.—(AP)—Fulfilling a promise to her negro husband that she would present him with a child put Mrs. Margaret Stackhouse, middle-aged white woman, in jail today, charged with kidnaping 24-day-old Patricia Luciano. The husband is held on the same charge.

Patricia was taken from her east side home last Tuesday by a woman who represented herself as a nurse from the home relief bureau. She left with Mrs. Luciano a typewritten note telling of an "infants' party" at which Patricia was to receive clothing. She promised to return the baby within an hour. When she did not come back, police were notified.

Yesterday Mrs. Stackhouse's husband, a CWA worker, called a negro physician to attend his wife. The physician was told the baby was only three days old. He had read of the Luciano kidnaping, became suspicious of the negro's story, and notified police.

The Luciano identified Patricia by scratches on her body. A blanket found in the Stockhouse apartment was identified by Mrs. Luciano as one in which the baby had been wrapped when taken away.

Mrs. Stackhouse at first maintained the baby was her child, but when a blood test was made to determine the parentage of the infant, she admitted part of her story was false. She still contends she received the baby from a woman to whom she gave $4.

Mrs. Luciano identified the woman as the actual kidnaper. Assistant District Attorney McCarthy said.

For Hard Coughs or Colds That Worry You

Cromulsion is made to give supreme help for coughs or colds. It combines seven helps in one—the best helps known to science. It is for quick relief, for safety. But careful people, more and more, use it for every cough that starts. No one knows where a cough may lead. No one can tell which factor will do most. That depends on the type of cold. Cromulsion costs a little more than lesser help. But it means the utmost help. And it costs you nothing if it fails to bring the quick relief you seek. Your druggist guarantees it. Use it for safety's sake. (Adv.)
