What the Girl Scouts Are Doing

At the meeting of Troop IV last Wednesday at the Junior High, Mrs. Ethel Willets, given as "Altair" to scout, gave special instruction on stars and trees in preparation for tests to be passed for the next Court of Awards, Feb. 9. Ruth Clark, lieutenant, and Mrs. Clark, Juvenant, helped the scouts with their patrol corner work.

Four new members were added to the roll of Troop VII when it met at the Washington school last Monday. Betty Daugherty, Rhea Anderson, Flodene Daugherty, and Veala Holbrook are the new scouts. Plans were made for a long Court of Honor which was held at the home of Mrs. C. G. Smith Saturday morning.

Miss Ethel Houston, Tawny Owl of the second Brownie pack of the Roosevelt school, passed her Brownies on their skipping test. This pack met last Tuesday.

At the meeting of the Roxy Ann Brownies who met at the Roosevelt school last Thursday a play was put on by Shirley Weisenburger, Betty Jane Johnson, and Jo Ann Humphrey. Instruction in telling time was given by Tawny Owl Edna Gillings and Robin Betty Paske.

New Sixers and Seconds were appointed at the meeting of the Dark Hollow Brownies, who met at the Washington school last Thursday.

Virginia Clegg is the sixer of the Elves with Phyllis Clevon as her second. The Fairy Sixer is Joan Tuttle and Cora Ella Havens is second. Natalie Parker is sixer and Odille Ann Persons is second of the Kelpie six. The Pixie sixer is Janet Turpin and the second is Mary Guther. Eva Hedrick rejoined the pack and is in the Kelpie six. The pack is without a Brown Owl now because Miss Amy Lynch is teaching school near Reedport.

At the meeting of the Girl Scout board last Wednesday reports from all the committee heads were heard. Mrs. W. A. Holloway announced that the annual audit had been made by E. M. Wilson, who volunteered his services without charges.

The W. C. T. U.

Dr. Mattie B. Shaw, prominent physician, will be the principal speaker at the afternoon session of the Jackson County Institute to be held at the Nazarene church on Central avenue Thursday, Jan. 25. It was announced yesterday. Her subject will be "Health and Alcohol, the Enemy of Health."

The regular monthly meeting of the Women's Christian Temperance Union attracted a good attendance on Thursday afternoon, Jan. 11th, at the Nazarene church on Central avenue. The program was supervised by Mrs. J. C. Woods.

Mrs. McCormick of Ashland, county president, was present and made final arrangements for the county institute to be held all day, January 25th, when all friends of the temperance cause are urged to attend.

There will be special musical numbers. White ribbons are urged to cooperate with leaders in advertising this important event, getting the word out to all parts of the county.

Clerence True Wilson speaks over KNX on Sunday evening, Jan. 14th at 8 p. m. on the temperance question. The next regular meeting of the Medford W. C. T. U. will be the second Thursday in February, at the "Y". This is an S. T. L. program. Visitors and friends will be welcome.

GLEEMEN CONCERT LAST OF MONTH

When the Medford Gleemen appear in concert the twenty-third of this month, the southern Oregon public will hear two special arrangements, which will provide rare treats even for jaded tastes. One will be an arrangement of "The Last Roundup" by Sebastian Apollo. Arranged especially for the Gleemen, it offers the organization splendid opportunity for the expression of the best their voices have to give.

Another number, composed and arranged by Almus Pruitt, includes a group of negro spirituals with an introduction of jungle music, depicting the type of music the Africans used to sing. Included in the group of songs will be "Nobody Knows What Trouble I Have," "Joshua Fits the Battle of Jericho," "Cruelifixion," "I Feel Like a Motherless Child," and "Auction Block."

Both arrangements express much talent on the part of the composers and at the same time offer inspiring vehicles in which Gleemen voices will ride to greater applause.

Opening a new era in the automotive and power industry, the mighty power of Diesel goes on exhibition the latter part of this month at the San Francisco Diesel Power Engineering School building located at the corner of Polson and 20th streets, San Francisco.

This event, the first exclusive display of its kind in the United States, will run for six days, January 22 to January 27, inclusive. The public is invited to attend both the afternoon and the evening sessions of this gigantic Diesel motor show.

Both the heavy duty and the high speed Diesel motors will augment the display. Marine, stationary, portable, tractor and the Packard Airplane Diesel will be exhibited. Skilled workmen will conduct the operation of the engines.

Realizing the vast demand for Diesel, the leading manufacturers and dealers are co-operating in the event by exhibiting their latest type Diesel motors. Spectators will have every opportunity to view the mighty influence that Diesel wields in the field of engineering.

Technical men, craftsmen, teachers, civic leaders, mechanics and professional men are all planning to attend.

"The Baptism and Temptation of Jesus" is the lesson title in the Bible schools this week. The Scripture text is in Matt. 3:1-11. Our school opens at 9:45, and all are invited.
Our young people are going into the new year with determination to make it the best year yet. You are invited to join in this splendid work. Devotional services at 8:30.
"As the Church Waits Upon God" will be the sermon topic in the morning service, and "God's Instrumentality: When and Where?" will be the evening sermon subject in the evangelistic service. All are urged to be of use in these great days.
Special evangelistic services will continue all next week; 7:30 is the hour.

Zion English Lutheran Church
Fourth St. at Oakdale Ave.
Geo. P. Kabele, D.D., pastor.
10 a. m. Sunday school. Adult Bible class taught by the pastor.
11 a. m. Morning service. Sermon subject: "The Jew, His Relation to the Present and the Future." The Jewish national history is the only one which has been prewritten in prophecy from its beginning through the centuries to the present and on into the centuries of the future. The prophecies concerning the past and present have been most remarkably fulfilled, assuring us that those relating to the future also will be. That future will be a glorious one and of great significance and consequence to all the nations of the earth. It is a subject to stir our souls.
7 p. m. Luther League. Topic: "Selecting My Friends." Leader, Miss Edna Brevold.
The general public is heartily invited to the church where The Way is Made Plain.

The First Methodist Church.
West Main and Laurel Streets.
Joseph Knotts, minister.
Sunday school, 9:45 a. m. E. J. Neumann, superintendent. Regular attendance and being on time is as important at Sunday school as the public schools. We have classes for all ages, good teachers. Come and study the Bible with us.
Morning worship, 11 a. m. Sermon theme, "Condemned Already." Anthem by the choir under the direction of Miss Grace Jo Burnett. The selection this Sunday is "The Heavens Are Declaring" by Dudley Buck.
The Epworth League and Intermediate League meet at 6:30 p. m.
Evening worship, 7:30 p. m. You will enjoy this service. C. A. Mesker will lead the gospel song service. Miss Grace Jo Bennett will lead the young people's choir in a delightful number. In the sermon on "Discarded Values," the pastor will deal with the questions: "What are we going to do about our inclination to discard moral and spiritual values?" and "What will happen when Christ comes again?"
Prayer meeting Wednesday 7:30 p. m.

The Federated Churches.
Joe M. Johnston, pastor.
Central Point, Oregon.
