Sophomore Tea Discussed By Girls' Leaguers

To discuss the forthcoming sophomore girls' tea, the Girls' league of the Medford high school called a special meeting of the council Monday. Committees were appointed and plans made for a Girls' league party. The tea, a new innovation to the league calendar, will be held on Thursday, and is being given for the incoming junior high girls. The new students will be given an opportunity to meet their "big sisters" and become acquainted with the high school and faculty.

Each member of the Girls' league council will invite a member of the school faculty. The decoration committee for the tea will be made up of council representatives and will be directed by Joyce Banish. Alene Ray, head of the school improvement committee, is chairman of the invitations committee. The preparation committee has been chosen from the girls enrolled in the home economics classes. It was suggested at the meeting that the league dance, scheduled for February 9, be postponed and a party given on that date. No decision was reached.

The secretary, Bethel Nigale, announced that a letter had been received from Clita Walden Haight, former teacher in Medford, expressing her appreciation of the card sent her by the Girls' league during her recent illness.

CARPER TO HEAD GENERAL 'PET' IN MEDFORD REGION

Word was received today that W. F. Carper, well known figure in the oil industry, has been appointed manager for General Petroleum corporation of a district including Medford, Grants Pass and Klamath Falls. His headquarters will be in Medford. The appointment, announced by Ralph G. Bowman, assistant general sales manager and director of the corporation, comes to Carper as a new year's gift in the form of important promotion, a h a r e d throughout the Pacific Coast territory by many others among General Petroleum's personnel. Carper has been with the corporation since February of 1926 and is one of the older employees of the company in point of service. He joined the General forces as a salesman in Seattle and has climbed steadily through the ranks of the sales department to his present position. In addition to the above named member of the company, the promotions, reassignment of sales personnel and creation of new executive positions will affect General Petroleum employees from the Mexican to the Canadian border. "They have been made necessary by the heavy increase in the corporation's business during 1933," the oil official said. "This increase has resulted in much heavier responsibility devolving upon our sales representatives and accordingly we are making the promotions both as an appreciation of excellent work done by the recipients and to better the company's service to its customers in 1934."

TAX COLLECTIONS DECLINE SHARPLY

Tax collections by the sheriff's office for the year 1933, totaled $867,859.92. For 1932 the collections amounted to $1,920,770.07. The figures show a decrease. Chief Tax Deputy Gertrude Martin says this is due to a decrease in the amount of property in the tax rolls and a decline in valuation. She estimates that the 1933 delinquency is three per cent greater than in 1932. Under a new Oregon law, tax payments are made quarterly, starting March 5, two months earlier than usual, with rebates for payments in full or installments.

HOG RAISERS HEAR PLANS TO REDUCE COUNTRY'S OUTPUT

H. A. Lindgren of the animal husbandry department of the Oregon State college explained the Corn-Hog Production Adjustment plan of the government to 100 hog raisers of the county, at a meeting held in the courthouse auditorium Tuesday afternoon. It was described by the county agent as one of the most successful meets of its kind held in the county during the recovery program. Hog raisers at the meet were given work sheets, contracts and a pamphlet which outlines the purposes of the meet. Questions were asked and answered for two hours, and considerable interest shown.

County Agent Robert G. Fowler said a schedule of community meetings would be held, and the schedule would be announced by the end of the week. Hog raisers of the valley are urged to attend this meeting, in their own district. In the meantime they are requested to study the contracts and pamphlet.

It was brought out at the meeting that approximately 20,000 hogs are raised in Jackson county annually, and that they are fattened on peas and barley instead of corn, by most producers.

Under the hog-corn program, the hog output would be reduced to 15,000. Benefits under the program would be paid $5 per hog, $2 upon the approval of the contract, and the balance in two other payments, extending to February, 1935.

NEW LAW BOON TO OWNERS OF DOGS

Oregon's new dog license law—rated as "the most sensible dog law in the history of the state"—and secured largely through the efforts of County Judge Earl B. Day when he was a member of the legislature, is now ready for payment and operation.

The law provides a $1 license for male dogs and $1.50 for female dogs, which is in lieu of all other licenses heretofore effective against dog owners. Under the new law there is no distinction between a city dog and a country dog.

Heretofore the dog has been assessed on the property rolls at $10. He was also assessed from $1 to $2 to take care of sheep losses, and the cities required a license.

"All owners of dogs should appreciate the change, and if they operate as they should the law will stand for all time," said County Judge today. "The license tags are in the hands of the county clerk and the payment is due. The county

BURGLAR SUSPECT HAS LONG RECORD

Robert Minor, 33, arrested last Friday night, while attempting to gain entrance to Strang's drug store through the skylight, was released October 18 last, from Oregon state prison, where he served four years for burglary committed in Clatskanie county in 1931. Minor now faces prosecution under the Oregon habitual criminal act, which provides life imprisonment for four convictions of a felony.

Records of the California bureau of identification show that Minor has served prison terms at San Quentin and Folsom prisons, besides the Salem "Nitch," and has a long prison record, starting as a boy. He served two terms in the California reformatory and a half dozen other county jail terms, for larceny.

Minor, arrested by Officer Joe Care, following the discovery of the attempted burglary by Virgil Strang, attempted to seize the officer's pistol, and put up a spirited battle before he was subdued.

He is charged with burglary not in a dwelling, and his case is now before the grand jury.

FIVE CENT BEER AT LOCAL BARS

Five cent beer is here to stay! That's the declaration made this morning by numerous Medford dispensers, who placed the nickel sign on the door at an early hour with a definite hint of permanency in the swish of the brush.

A few were still charging a "dime a glass," it was learned upon investigation. But the great majority had adopted the new price.

"The world has been crying for nickel beer," one dispenser explained the action. "So here it is, froth and all for happy days—five cents, please."

It means something

..that Chesterfield has a modern up-to-date Tobacco Factory in far-off historic Smyrna

So important is the handling of Turkish tobacco in making Chesterfield cigarettes that Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co., maintains this specially equipped plant right in the heart of the famous Smyrna tobacco section. It is the largest and most modern tobacco factory in the Near East.

Turkish tobacco, you know, is the best "seasoning" there is for cigarettes. At all times Chesterfield has in storage—at this plant and in America—about 350,000 bales of the right kinds of Turkish tobacco.
