

DIAMOND JUBILEE COMMITTEES GET GO AHEAD SIGNAL

Normal School Placed in Charge Historic Pageant —Home Products Exhibit Will Be Largest Yet

One of the most enthusiastic committee meetings held in recent months was conducted last night at the Chamber of Commerce when the general committee for Oregon's Diamond Jubilee celebration met to further formulate plans for the celebration. It was announced this morning by E. C. (Jerry) Jerome, chairman of the committee for Oregon's Diamond Jubilee celebration met to further formulate plans for the celebration.

The most important phase of the celebration will be the historic pageant which will be conducted under the chairmanship of Professor Irving E. Vining of Ashland. Arrangements have been made for the pageant to be staged by the Southern Oregon Normal school, and the theme of the entire pageant will be written and directed by Professor Angus Bowmer.

While definite arrangements have not been made as to where the pageant will be held, it is expected that it will be staged either at the Junior high school football grounds or at the grounds of the Senior high.

Work of writing and directing the pageant is a big job, but members of the general committee feel that it is in capable hands with Professor Bowmer taking care of same, as he has had a great deal of experience along these lines. Mr. Bowmer is professor of dramatics at the Southern Oregon Normal school.

Another feature of the celebration which will attract a great deal of attention will be the pioneer parade, and many novel features will be introduced into this which have not been conducted elsewhere as far as is known. Professor Vining has appointed J. Verne Shangle to take care of this work.

Huge Products Exhibit. The home products exhibit, which will be conducted at the Armory, will be one of the largest which Oregon has witnessed for years. The committee has authorized W. A. Gates, the chairman of the exhibit, to draw up contracts and immediately contact the manufacturers of the state in order to have them sign for space. In this work, Mr. Gates is receiving the wholehearted cooperation of the Oregon Manufacturers' association.

The question of the publication of a souvenir booklet and advertising was discussed at length and arrangements will soon be completed for the advertising of the celebration throughout the Pacific coast.

Plan Dog Races. It is expected that dog races will be held at the fairgrounds each night and a proposition has been submitted by a person who has handled dog races in other places. Complete details regarding this feature will be available, it is hoped, within a very short while.

The beautification committee under Raymond Mikache has already laid plans for beautifying the city and the surrounding country so that those who attend the celebration will be impressed with Medford.

It is hoped that during one afternoon a band concert will be held, divided into two classes, one for fraternal and municipal bands and the other for high school bands. Wilson Wait is in charge of this and will immediately contact Oregon bands, urging their support for the contest for which prizes will be given.

Historical Skit Contest. An entirely new idea was injected into the meeting last night which met with the approval of all present. It was suggested by Professor Vining that a historical skit contest be conducted during one day of the celebration and entrance be confined only to the schools of higher learning in the state. Mr. Vining has appointed Ralph Bailey of the Medford high school to work out the details on this.

It is proposed to establish an exhibit of relics at the old courthouse in Jacksonville, and C. C. Dunnington of Jacksonville will act as chairman of this phase. The committee believes that many people throughout the Rogue River valley have old-time relics which they will be glad to lend and an exhibit of this nature will undoubtedly attract a great deal of attention.

Question of street decorations will be left entirely to the retail merchants' committee of the Chamber of Commerce, John Moffatt, chairman, and the general committee has instructed Mr. Moffatt to go ahead and make his arrangements as soon as possible.

Committeemen Go Ahead. Practically all the committee chairmen have been authorized by the general committee to carry out their respective arrangements at once and it is expected that within a short time complete plans will be formulated.

A school essay contest will be conducted throughout the state of Oregon, with many prizes being offered for the best essays submitted. C. Glenn Smith, principal of the high school, will have charge of this part of the program.

Question of a queen contest was discussed at length and it was decided that inasmuch as the celebration is state-wide that it was hardly feasible to put on a regular elimination contest. In its place, however, the committee decided to have a queen mother selected, who will be the oldest pioneer in Oregon, and that each county be asked to provide a princess.

Much Work Ahead. A tremendous amount of detail work was gone over by the committee and as a result the celebration is beginning to take on definite shape. All chairmen are asked to complete their committees within the next week and it would appear with the vast amount of work ahead, that hundreds of committeemen will be required in order to put over the celebration in a fitting and proper manner.

Arrangements have been made for a continuous publicity campaign starting immediately, so that plenty of time can be given persons to arrange for their vacation to be spent this year in Medford.

Many other matters outside of those connected with the regular committees were disposed of and additional features regarding the celebration will be announced from time to time as they are completed.

COCKTAIL PIPE NEW FAD FOR PARISIENNES PARIS.—(UP)—The cocktail pipe for women now is the craze here. Expensive and smart, it is made of metal or lacquer, shaped like a very long cigarette holder, but with a bowl at the end. An initial in real jewelry appears at the tip of the stem. There are seen at fashionable gatherings here and even are used by a few of the younger and more daring of the smart set at the Opera.

GLEEMEN GLORIFIED FOR BEAUTY TEST AS CONCERT NEARS A beauty contest has broken out in the ranks of the Gleemen which has resulted in a stampede to a local photograph gallery where clad in armored shirts and stiff collars the members are recording their manly pulchritude.

Powder puffs, rouge and lip-sticks are barred as accessories but George Peckham, basso-profundo, was reported seen in a cosmetician's establishment with his face in a mud-pack. Other members also aver that Doc Butler and Gordon Pratt have been resorting to curling irons and peroxide in an endeavor to outrank competitors. These artifices are considered technical violations of the code and Director Jim Stevens is worried with the fear that open dissension may flare at any time.

On the grounds of professionalism the wizard accompanist, Apollo, has been ruled out of the competition because according to mythology a member of his family won a similar contest a few thousand years ago. This edict has narrowed the race down to Marmie Olson representing the blonde type and Francis Nandle the brunettes. "Red" Denman however is making a fight and it is alleged has been buying votes right and left. In spite of his complexion he may prove to be a dark horse.

The pictures will be displayed in some prominent window downtown some time this week and the reaction of the public is eagerly awaited by the contestants. First prize means a free trip to Crater Lake on snow shoes and a free swim in the lake for the winner.

It is hoped that the exhibition of the pictures will not keep anyone away from the concert, for the Gleemen really sing much better than they look.

REBATE ON TAXES EXPECTED TO AID EARLY PAYMENTS

Amount This Year Will Be About Same As Last When $42,000,000 Taken in Says State Commissioner

SALEM, Jan. 18.—(AP)—Quarterly payments of real property taxes with rebates of from one to three per cent, were expected to result in the largest payment being received Mar. 15, for the taxes on the 1933 levies. Charles V. Galloway, chairman of the state tax commission stated today.

Last year taxes on real property to the various counties totaled $42,000,000 and it was expected the amount this year would be approximately the same. Many taxpayers were expected to take advantage of the rebates and probably about half of this amount would be paid on the first quarterly payment.

Have Your Options. Taxpayers have four options in payments this year. If the first quarter is paid on or about March 15, no rebate will be granted, but one-fourth of the year's taxes will keep payers in good standing and no delinquent penalty would be paid. Half-year's payment in March would bring a one per cent rebate on the entire amount, three-quarters payment would bring a two per cent rebate, and if the taxes for the entire year are paid in March, a three per cent rebate will be allowed.

Other quarterly payments will be due June 15, September 15 and December 15.

Blanks Sent Out. The commission was busy sending out about 100,000 income tax blanks for payment April 1 on 1933 incomes. This is about 40,000 more blanks than sent out last year because of the change in the law reducing the exemptions. Of this number about half would bring in taxable returns while the balance would be non-taxable reports.

The exemptions under the new law are $1,500 for married persons, $800 for single and $300 for each dependent.

The new sales tax, if not referendated would become effective March 10. If referendated and is passed it would become effective between May 18 and June 1, it was declared, following canvass of votes. Defeat would eliminate a sales tax.
