

GIRL SHIELDS MAN WHEN ARRAIGNED ON DELINQUENCY

The story of a convent reared 17-year-old girl, with a "martyr complex for love" was revealed yesterday in justice court, and in juvenile court in the hearing of the case against Marie Biden, 29, charged with contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

Biden, well known locally, was bound over to the grand jury under $1000 bonds, by Justice of the Peace William R. Coleman. The girl is held in the woman's ward of the county jail, pending disposition of her case by County Judge Earl B. Day.

The girl—she will be 18 next month—testified that Biden had befriended her when she had no place to stay; that she had remained nights at his house, that he had "treated me with more kindness than any of my sisters," that their relations were platonic, "never anything wrong," and "if he goes to prison, it will be on my conscience all my life, as he is an innocent man."

The girl, the testimony showed, was found in a house occupied by Biden in the north end of the city in her sleeping attire by her sister—the complaining witness—and Biden's arrest followed.

Arrangements are now under way by the county judge, to have the girl returned to a Sacramento convent, where she told the court "I was as happy as I ever will be unless it is with Marie."

Two sisters of the girl—one residing in Keno, Klamath county, and the other in this city, appeared in court, and the girl was bitter against them and defiant of all restrictions. She denied she was "protecting Marie" in her testimony and accused her sisters of seeking his downfall.

"All your sisters are trying to do is save you from yourself," Assistant District Attorney Nelson told the girl. "That's all they sought, and you are ungrateful." The sisters wept at her charges, and there were several sharp exchanges between them and the girl.

The county judge told the girl "to forget being a martyr for Marie and try and straighten up, and be a good woman. He is not worth the sacrifice you are trying to make for him." The court told the girl "I don't believe your story, and neither will the public. You have been foolish and indiscreet, to say the least."

The juvenile judge told her "I am trying to find a place where you will be under proper influences, and away from environment that will ruin your life." No decision will be made until word is received from the convent at Sacramento.

The girl's mother is dead and the father lives in Portland. She has been a resident of this city for two years. During the Christmas holidays she was employed in local stores, and later in restaurants.

Greater Medford Club Party To Be Large Affair

The Greater Medford club party to benefit the scholarship loan fund promises to uphold the long established tradition of "a large attendance and an enjoyable affair" again this year. Twenty-six tables have already been arranged for next Tuesday afternoon, Mrs. G. R. Satchwell, club, president, announced today, and all women's clubs of the city are lending their co-operation to the success of the party.

It will be held in the women's club rooms in the city hall with playing to begin at 2 o'clock. Both contract and auction bridge will be played and the sponsors of the party hope to have at least 40 tables arranged for the event.

Refreshments will follow cards. On the committee for the occasion are members of the board of directors: Mrs. G. R. Satchwell, Mrs. Rose Schiefelinn, Mrs. Alice Coppin, Mrs. Stella Merrick, Mrs. R. G. Beach, Mrs. L. Pennington, Mrs. M. J. Norris, Mrs. R. E. Gore and others.

The scholarship loan fund, which has been operated by the Federation of Women's Clubs for a number of years, has proved beneficial to many young people here and three applications for loans for the coming year have already been received by the board.

The many loans granted in Jackson county have always been repaid, having been available to worthy girls only. In the one case where repayment was not made, ill health was the cause.

The club feels that this is an unusually fine record and that young people of such character should be given all the co-operation possible in their efforts to obtain an education. Each year this co-operation has been evidenced at the benefit card party sponsored by the local club, and an equally large response is anticipated for next Tuesday.

TESTIMONY HEARD IN DISBARMENT ACTION

SALEM, Jan. 18.—(AP)—The supreme court today took testimony in the disbarment proceedings against Frank A. McMenamin of Portland, charged by the Multnomah County Bar association with losing clients' money without proper security. The court still has under advisement the testimony taken in a similar proceedings against J. G. Arnold of Portland.

CITY FILES REPLY TO DAMAGE CLAIM OF IVOR T. JONES

Answer was filed today to the damage suit of Ivor T. Jones against the city of Medford for $25,000 damages for alleged injuries to his wife, Wanda, as the result of a fall out of a cherry tree, July 10 last, located on a city-owned lot. Permanent injuries to Mrs. Jones, rendering use of legs impossible, are alleged in the complaint.

The city alleges there is no cause for suit, upon four grounds: That the city is subject to and pays fees, under the workmen's compensation act, for the protection of its workers, and that compliance with the terms of that law bars suit action, and, recourse, if any, rests with the workmen's compensation board.

That Mrs. Jones knew the tree was "scarred and brittle, by casual observation," and that "she climbed to the top of the cherry tree in a careless and reckless manner, and placed her weight upon a brittle limb one inch in diameter, which broke, causing her to fall to the ground."

That the city of Medford obtained the lot upon which the cherry tree is located, in lieu of payment of delinquent improvement assessments upon the East Main street lot, and that the city exercises a proprietary, but not governmental supervision

DAHACK PROBE TO START TOMORROW

The grand jury continued today investigation of routine criminal matters and expects to complete this phase of their work by tomorrow. Pursuant to the court's instruction, it is anticipated they will take up investigation of the "Dahack case"—fountain head of most of Jackson county's internal woes.

Three grand jury investigations of the case have been held. Two failed to return indictments, but the grand jury of which William T. Grieve of Prospect was foreman indicted Police-man Joe Cave for involuntary manslaughter, at the same time it indicted L. A. Banks, agitator, for criminal libel and criminal syndicalism. Banks had "demanded" the indictment of Cave.

The court in its instructions told the grand jury, "you have a reputation for fairness and judgment and the public will accept your findings as final, in a case that became a political football."

The grand jury is not expected to make a final report until the end of next week at the earliest.

Don't Be Satisfied with Less Than SNIDER'S BUTTER

Butter is a superior food because it adds a flavor which can be obtained in no other way. Tasty foods prepared with butter invite favorable conditions for digestion.

Globules of butterfat are in emulsified form, allowing digestive juices to attack them readily. Butterfat is the equivalent in energy value of any other food fat. Butterfat contains Vitamin A, necessary in building resistance to diseases, and Vitamin D, which aids in normal development and protection of bones and teeth.
