

PART OF COLORADO'S HARNESS

The overflow weir crest of the Nevada spillway of the Boulder dam project looking downstream. This recent photo, taken by the bureau of reclamation, gives an idea of the gigantic size of the undertaking which will bottle up the Colorado river. Steel gates 16 by 100 feet will operate vertically between piers to control discharge of water from the reservoir. (Associated Press Photo)

THE FORMER 'BOY PLUNGER' OF WALL STREET AND HIS WIFE

PENSACOLA, FLA., HIT BY STORM

Here are two views of samples of the $100,000 property damage done by a storm which swept over Pensacola, Fla. At top are auto workers at a drydock, battered by flying planks. Below, ruins of a home in the residential section. (Associated Press Photos)

MASSIES TO OBTAIN DIVORCE

The marriage of Lieut. and Mrs. Thomas Massie who figured in the sensational "honor slaying" of an Hawaiian last year is to end in the Reno divorce courts. The divorce is being obtained at the insistence of Lieutenant Massie, his wife declared. Mrs. Massie was the alleged victim of an assault that preceded the killing of an Hawaiian. The two are shown above in a happier moment. (Associated Press Photo)

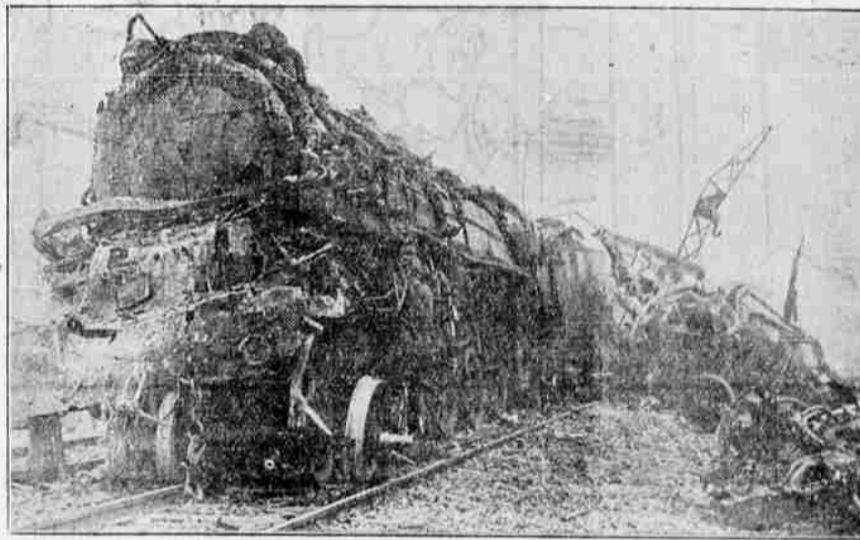

Here is a general view of the joint session of the senate and house of representatives in Washington as President Roosevelt personally delivered his annual message to the lawmakers. It was the first time since the Wilson administration that a President has done so. The house and galleries were packed and many persons were denied admittance. (Associated Press Photos)

SNOWTIME IS PLAYTIME AT CHILLY LAKE PLACID

WHERE 199 DIED IN FRENCH TRAIN CRASH

In the worst train disaster in the history of French railroads and the second worst anywhere, 199 persons lost their lives and 300 others were injured as a Paris-Strasbourg flier crashed into the rear end of a fog-bound express near Lagny. Here is a graphic picture of the wrecked engine of the flier. (Associated Press Photo)

HARD FEELINGS? NOT AT ALL!

There doesn't seem to be any bad blood between Henry Morgenthau, Jr. (left), and Huey Long, even if the self-styled "Kingfish" did threaten to oppose senate confirmation of Morgenthau as secretary of the treasury. Here Senator Long gives Morgenthau an "okay" and a hearty handshake after a committee hearing. Long later announced he would not contest the confirmation. (Associated Press Photo)

GOING SOUTH? HERE ARE NEW TOGS FOR BEACH WEAR

While some people are shoveling snow, these attractive young women at Miami, Fla., are wearing costumes worth more than passing notice—because they're the latest in beach attire. Bloomers are popular again and Lois Perkins (left) shows you why. Slacks are holding their own again, and Lois Dupont (center) wears a smart black pair with her horizontally-striped jersey. Zebra stripes feature the one-piece swimming suit worn by Frances Jones (right). (Associated Press Photos)

ICKES' SON IS POLO PLAYER

CLUES FOUND IN MYSTERY DEATH

A letter and wrist watch received through the mails by Mrs. Frances Coen Cooke (left) was considered by police to be their strongest clue in the investigation of the mysterious shooting to death of Dr. Leonard Siever, prominent Pasadena, Cal., dentist. Dr. Carl R. Wagner (right), physician, was one of a number of persons questioned in connection with the investigation of the slaying which occurred last December 12. (Associated Press Photos)

TWO WESTERNERS ON SPECIAL COMMITTEE
