presidents have made many historic cisions when they were fatigued or rushed. If they let the job get them, they are tired all the time, they are tired all the time.

Mr. Roosevelt's ideas on that subject are well illustrated by the fact that he went off on a yachting cruise in the midst of the Lendon economic conference and that he is even now planning a cruise half way around the world for the coming spring.

Awo many successful dusiness men were gossiping the other night about Roosevelt. Like everyone else, they could not exactly make him out. That is they could NOT classify him as a radical or a conservative, or place him in any specific category, politithem eaid:
