ANIMAL HOSPITAL REFURNISHED FOR NEW VETERINARY

A brand new setting to greet Tower's eyes the next time he gets a touch of the flu, distemper or just a plain headache, has been completed at the Rogue Small Animal hospital at 1455 North Riverside, formerly known as the Medford veterinary hospital, which opened for business under the new management of Dr. S. E. Phillips yesterday.

The hospital, which will be operated in connection with the Jackson County Humane society shelter, also under Dr. Phillips' management, has been renovated and redecored and furnished throughout, to offer southern Oregonians the best in modern care for dogs and cats.

Dr. Phillips, who is a graduate of Washington State college, will be assisted at the hospital by Mrs. Phillips, bacteriologist, also a graduate of the Washington college. A third attendant will be at the hospital night and day to receive and answer calls. The humane society ambulance has been located at the hospital grounds to facilitate the service.

An examination room is a new feature of the hospital and a splendid surgical table has been added. In the general ward space has been provided for 23 animals. It, as well as the adjoining kitchen, have also been completely redecored.

The cat ward will be converted into a laboratory, where tests to aid diagnoses will be made. The isolation ward, where all animals with contagious and infectious diseases, will be kept, will be opened into an isolation runway, where animals will be given freedom and sunshine without endangering others. A brick wall is to be constructed shutting this runway off from the many others at the hospital grounds.

Clinics will be held at the hospital Saturday mornings and afternoons. Dr. Phillips stated yesterday. Definite announcements regarding them will be made soon.

X-Ray service will be available to the hospital, and permanent records of all cases entered will be kept, even as they are in hospitals for humans. Under the new system all animals, which are just boarders, will be kept at the humane society shelter so that the healthy and the ill will not be mixed. All animals taken in at the shelter will also be examined before entering for the protection of others.

Before coming to Medford, Dr. Phillips was associated with his father, leading veterinarian in Mt. Vernon, Wash., and was also associated with the Blue Cross Dog and Cat hospital in Portland.

MAGICIAN RECEIVES THREAT ON EXPOSE

An anonymous letter threatening the life of Harry Blackstone, well known magician appearing at a local theatre, has been turned over to the San Francisco authorities, at which city the letter was received.

Blackstone, it appears, exposed the methods used by self-termed "spiritualists." The faces of deceased persons seemingly floating about in thin air, the voices of the dead, and other various little tricks used in this brand of preying upon people's beliefs, were exposed during the course of the act on a San Francisco theatre stage. The following morning the magician received the letter threatening his life if the same expose was used in Oregon cities.

Recently, in Detroit, the police authorities working with the help of Blackstone, arrested and convicted 42 fake spiritualists.
