Disgusted Coyote Refuses Role As Hunt Club Quarry

PORTLAND, Ore., Jan. 29—(AP)—All the lads were out in white breeches and red coats for the Multnomah and Portland Hunt club's fox hunt Sunday, but honours went to a disgusted coyote.

After the hunt was arranged some time ago, the clubs were unable to find any foxes to be chased so they imported a coyote and kept him in a box.

Yesterday the coyote was loosed, the hounds baying—then the coyote walked into a thicket, the dogs went baying, but the coyote took a drink and went back to his box. And you just can't hunt a coyote in a box.

Bit of the Far East for 1934 Exposition

In the extensive rebuilding and elaboration of the Japanese government buildings and exhibits for the 1934 Century of Progress Exposition at Chicago the added attractiveness of the gardens is to play a prominent part. So much that is new in the gardens, the buildings and the exhibits will be shown that the 1933 visitors will not recognize the complete exhibit as one they saw last year. The above picture shows a small corner of the gardens that are being radically made over for the 1934 Fair.

WHEAT EXPANSION MAY BE CURBED

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29. — (P) — Chester C. Davis, farm administrator, said today he believed prevention by government edict of wheat acreage expansion by non-cooperating farmers might be undertaken by the administration if such action is requested by a majority of producers who cooperate in the voluntary reduction program.

Craterian Star

New honors are said to fall to Ann Harding for her part of a famous plastic surgeon in "The Right to Romance," coming to the Craterian theater tomorrow. Wealth and success were hers and she might have gone along at her labor of making women beautiful, but the son of a client awakened in her the fear that she, too, was growing old and had not found the romance that is every woman's right.

Forgetting she is a famous surgeon, she takes a vacation and meets a young man whom she marries. Then she learns there is another woman in his life and dramatic complications ensue when the two women meet. "Take a Chance" closes its run tonight at the Craterian.

In Rialto Hit

Disunitive Alice White has an important role in "Cross Country Cruise" coming to the Rialto theater tomorrow. Lew Ayres heads the cast which also has June Knight, Alan Dinehart, Eugene Palette, Minna Gombell and Henry Armetta in leading roles. America's great ocean-to-ocean expanse with its ribbon of roadways, forms the locale for the story, dealing principally with the lives of five travelers—a rich playboy, a beautiful girl, a man and wife and a chortle. "Goodbye Love," starring Charlie Ruggles, plays at the Rialto for the last time tonight.

Laurel and Hardy In Comedy on Holly Bill

In "Sons of the Desert," now playing at the Holly theater, Laurel and Hardy are seen in what is declared to be one of their most hilarious comedy features of recent years. In the supporting cast are Charley Chase, Mike Busch, Dorothy Christy, Lucien Littlefield and others.

TIGERS, INDIANS WILL PLAY HERE NEXT WEEK-END

Annual Medford-Chemawa basketball this weekend scheduled for this week-end, Friday and Saturday evenings, at the Medford senior high school on South Oakdale avenue, Coach Darwin K. Burgher said today.

Although little information has been received here concerning the Indians' record for this season, Burgher said that the team was practically the same group as played here last year, defeating Medford high school 17 to 14, after the locals had won from the Salem five the preceding evening.

Those who made up Chemawa's team last February were Amara, Pratt, Dog Esque DeFoe and Shouderblade. Friday night's game will be at eight o'clock, and the Saturday night game at nine. Preliminaries, an hour earlier on both evenings, will be played between Medford Junior high school and the Tiger Cubs.

CULINARY CRAFT.... By Estella Dorgan, Director, Home Service, the California Oregon Power Company. Pies. "Some like them hot—some like them cold" but they are pretty sure to be welcomed one way or the other.

Estella Dorgan. "Some like them hot—some like them cold" but they are pretty sure to be welcomed one way or the other. Especially in the cold weather menu, pie seems to be highly pleasing. Naturally, one should use judgment in serving pie, choosing the flavor and texture which blends well with the entire meal.

Date Pie. 2 c. milk, 1-3 lb. dates, 2 eggs, 1/4 t. salt. Cut dates in four sections, cook with milk 20 minutes in double boiler, then strain and rub through sieve. Ad slightly beaten eggs, salt and nutmeg to taste and pour all into uncooked shell. Bake at 450 degrees for 15 minutes then reduce heat to 325 degrees for 30 minutes.
