

CHEMAWA, TIGER HOOP SERIES TO RENEW OLD FEUD

(By Harold Grove.)

Two teams—Medford and Chemawa—rivals for many years, will face each other in a renewal of sports relations of long standing, Friday night at 8 p. m. and Saturday at 9 p. m., on the maple courts of the Medford Senior high school.

The Redskins were forced to cancel their football schedules last fall because of the economy policy of the government.

Chemawa will invade Medford for the two-game series which they have held with Medford for many years past. The Indians use as their main weapon a fast-breaking offense which has proved fatal to many upstate basketball quints. Medford uses the slow break and the fast break combined.

The Indians will come to Medford with some very tricky and accurate ogee exponents, noted for ability to ring in spectacular shots. Their motto is to place the ball through the hoop in any way, shape or form possible.

Coach Burgher has been releasing a barrage of useful hints to the players that will probably keep them busy for the rest of the week, if they expect to win Friday and Saturday. He has almost had to turn doctor in battling the colds which are bothering the majority of the players.

The Junior high and Tiger Cup hoopers will play the preliminaries for both nights.

PUNCHES FEATURE GRAPPLING SHOW

PORTLAND, Jan. 30.—(AP)—Even the "Greave" to be seen here last night at the Labor temple wrestling card, punctuated with punches.

Buildup Jackson, 160, Fairbanks, Alaska, took two out of three falls from Harry Elliott of Eugene, erstwhile referee. All three falls were with hammerlocks. With an uppercut Jackson also felled Walter "Buzzer" Achlu, referee named in spite of Jackson's protest.

Logger Helbert, 180, St. Helena, won an equally wild two-out-of-three bout from Art Perkins, 159, Detroit.

In his first one-hour bout, Don Sugar, Salem, won from Tommie Fole Anderson, Vancouver Barracks middleweight, who was fouled out for two punches the referee ruled were too low.

Mickey McGuire, 187, West Salem, and Tommy Heinz, 161, Burns, wrestled a 30-minute draw.

WRESTLER KILLED BY COP'S BULLET

TACOMA, Jan. 30.—(AP)—Death by a bullet from a state highway patrolman's revolver last night ended the career of Rudger (Terrible) Terry, 28, Tacoma wrestler and wrestling referee, as an automobile sped along the highway toward Seattle. He was shot through the head.

The shooting, by Patrolman Cliff Tolson, was described by authorities as "justifiable."

A car containing four persons raced by him at high speed late in the evening, the patrolman said.

He started in pursuit on his motorcycle, but the car failed to stop as his siren sounded. He fired at a tire, and missed.

Then he fired again, but a bump in the road deflected his aim, he said, and the bullet went through the rear window of the automobile.

CANZONERI TO QUIT UNLESS HE'S WINNER

NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—(AP)—Tony Canzoneri says he'll quit the ring if he doesn't beat Cleto Locatelli, Italian lightweight, in their 12-round bout in Madison Square Garden Friday night.

"If I'm defeated," says Tony, who has held the featherweight and lightweight championships during his brilliant career, "I'll hang up my gloves for good. But if I win I'll pound Barney Ross for another chance to regain the lightweight title."

RUSSIAN WHEAT A MINOR MENACE

LONDON, Jan. 30.—(AP)—The international wheat advisory commission, opening its third meeting today, does not believe that Russia's aloofness from the export quota allowed her will make much difference in the world situation.

A 37,000,000 bushel quota was offered Russia under the world pact. Russia demanded a quota twice that size.

Delegates representing the big four exporting nations—Canada, Australia, the United States and Argentina—believe that by the time the quotas expire July 31 Russia will hardly have exported the 37,000,000 bushel quota offered her, let alone the double quota demanded. Leaders estimate Russia has not exported more than 25,000,000 bushels already, and her shipping season is virtually over.

Will Tackle Belcastro

Les Wolfe's rolling scissors will again be seen in action here Wednesday when the Texas grappler meets Pete Belcastro, Sacramento. In the top half of a double main event card, Ray Frisbie, Medford, and Frank Clemens of Oklahoma clash in the other half of the bill.

ELKS ALL-STAR BOWLERS FIND K. F. SQUAD TOUGH

Medford Elks all-star bowling team invaded Klamath Falls Sunday, where they met the Klamath Elks in a six-game match. The Medfordites broke even in number of games won but lost in total pins. Heavy pin smashing featured the entire outfit, Glenn Jester of the Klamath outfit totaling 2495 for an average of 208 per game.

According to Roy Pruitt, maestro of the local elks, Jester claimed he was rolling over his head. Pruitt, however, says this was modesty on the part of the Klamath ace and that Jester has all the earmarks of a real maple-masher. Jester and his teammate, Tom Watters, the latter described by Pruitt as the best south-paw bowler on the coast, rolled Eds and Rankin in the doubles and the affair produced a real battle.

VINES WINNER IN FOUR-HOUR MATCH WITH BILL TILDEN

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 30.—(AP)—One of the longest tennis sets on record for big-time competition was written into the books here in a four-hour match which ended early today with Ellsworth Vines winning his seventh match out of eleven against Bill Tilden.

The scores were 6-0, 21-23, 7-8, 3-6, 6-2.

Four thousand persons paid approximately $6,000 to see the tall Pasadena youth outlast his veteran opponent after the second set had gone 44 games before Tilden could square matters. The longest known previous set on record for top-notch competition went 40 games.

Because someone stole the tennis balls from the locker room, last night's matches were delayed half an hour until a second consignment could be obtained. As a result, the Bruce Barnes match with Vincent Richards was cut to one set, with Barnes winning 6-4, and the doubles play was dispersed with.

Vines will return to his home town today to find he again is a hero. Last fall he returned from a disastrous season as an amateur, unung. But by order of the city council, it is Vines day in Pasadena today and tonight he meets Tilden there.

CENTRAL PT. WINS FROM TALENT IN OVERTIME TUSSLE

(By Marvin Stevens.)

Central Point won, 25 to 22, in a hard-fought game with Talent Saturday night. The score at the quarter was 5-2 in favor of the visitors. Talent came back strong in the second quarter to end the half 14-11 in their favor. About five minutes before the end of the game, Talent had the lead with seven points, and it looked as if the Central Point team was headed for their first conference defeat of the season.

They had an eye for the basket, and with their fast teamwork at this stage of the game, they completely upset the Talent team to end the regular playing time in a 22-22 tie.

During the overtime period, A. Ayers of Central Point was taken out on fouls and Talent converted, making the score 23-22. Bud Carr was substituted for Ayers and sunk a beautiful lone one, giving his team the lead, 24-23, and a minute later Cased converted, giving the Pointers a lead of two points, 25-23. A few seconds later the whistle blew to end one of the most exciting and best games played on the Talent floor this season.

Kelty of Talent was high point man with 10 points; C. Cassid of Central Point following with 9 points; Argraves next with 7; A. Ayers of Central Point with 6 points.

Lineups as follows: Central Point—Talent—D. Ayers (3)—F. Pepper (4); B. Virtue (3)—F. Argraves (7); C. Cassid (9)—C. Kelty (10); D. Culbertson (2)—G. Kamberg (2); A. Ayers (6)—G. Moore (6); Carr (sub.) Central Point (2); Yarrow (sub.) Talent.

Deplors Religious Bickering. To the Editor: All this religious—"I'm right and you're wrong, and if you don't go to my church and believe as I believe, you are going to hell"—reminds me of little boys fighting over which one's Daddy is best. "My Dad can lick your old man", "Can't nuther", "Can!" "Can't!"

During the past several months there have been a number of evangelistic meetings held in Medford, and much arguing back and forth as to who is right and who is wrong, mere hair-splitting over doctrines and beliefs of the particular organization holding the revival.

It seems to me that if the various religious organizations could forget their petty differences and follow Christ's precepts and the command to "love one another even as I have loved you" and teach a faith in a loving God, a God who is ever ready to forgive and forget our transgressions if we let Him, much could be accomplished in Medford and vicinity. But all such petty bickering as has been going on will cause more people to lose faith and to doubt the eternal love of God than a year of evangelizing can win to a belief. (MRS.) RUTH ACKERLUND HOLMES, Talent, January 29.

MONETARY POLICY DEBATE ENDED AT ROTARY MEETING

(By Harold Grove.)

At the luncheon meeting of the Medford Rotary club at the Hotel Medford today, Lee Bishop and George Henselman completed their arguments and rebuttal on the question: Resolved, that an international medium of exchange, based upon commodity values, will stabilize world trade." These two members ably presented their affirmative and negative points at last week's meeting. Lee Bishop, handling the affirmative, noted out his worthy opponent in the vote taken by the members of the club following the intensely interesting debate.

In his argument in favor of an international commodity dollar, Bishop reviewed his former talk, insisting that a medium of exchange in ratio with fluctuating commodity values would best meet the economic needs of the future. He also explained why the economic conference in England last year was a failure. In George Henselman's negative argument today, the previous methods of managing currency, such as the federal reserve system in this country and the stabilization funds in England and recently in the United States, were cited. World trade would be seriously hampered through the establishment of a commodity dollar, in his opinion, due to the herculean task of a central board determining money value from time to time based upon commodity values.

Both arguments were ably and forcefully presented by Lee and George and members of the Rotary club enthusiastically applauded their excellent debate. The program was presented under the supervision of W. A. Gates. Chuck Ellis presided as chairman of today's meeting.

J. Vincent Roberts of Yakima, Washington, R. C. Waterman of Oakland, Calif., and Al Perry and Victor Bursell, both of this city, were guests at today's meeting. A social evening, in which the wives of Rotarians will participate, is being planned for Wednesday, February 7, according to Burt Lageson, chairman of the entertainment committee.
