

GATES CELEBRATES 22D ANNIVERSARY IN SELLING FORDS

Twenty-two years ago today C. E. ("Pop") Gates sold his first Ford car in Medford. He started his business in the Rogue River valley soon after coming to Oregon from Noblesville, Ind., with hopes of improving his health. Fruitful orchards and other signs of a bright future for this territory encouraged Mr. Gates in his new venture. Each year as the once "rattling good car" is improved upon and Henry Ford presents the motoring public with a better looking and noiseless model, "Pop's" pride in his Ford increases. He has made a success of himself and his business in Medford, a long list of activities testifying to his popularity and capability as one of the real fighters for Medford's interests. Mr. Gates has driven his model T's to the state capitol as member of the state highway commission four years, and as chairman of the state fair board for two seasons. In 1916 he was elected mayor of Medford. For six years he served in that capacity, seeing the town through good times and bad, and refusing to accept personal for his time and expenses. His friendly smile and genial personality have won for "Pop" hosts of admirers throughout the state, and at times his political activities have been met with opposition and always with a great deal of publicity. "Pop" Gates now shares his position as one of Medford's leading automotive dealers with his son George. Their very modern two-story sales and service building is located at the corner of East Sixth street and North Riverside.

SHRINERS HEAR PLANS FOR YEAR

Members of the Medford Shrine club assembled at a luncheon today at the Hotel Medford and heard the new Hillah potentate, O. C. Alenderfer, outline the plans for Shrine activities during 1934. If Potentate Alenderfer's ambitious program for Hillah Temple materializes this year, the little southern Oregon temple will achieve new fame and untold publicity in the Shrine world. Following Alenderfer's address, which included plans for the annual spring ceremonial, talks were made by E. C. "Jerry" Jerome, Paul B. Rynning, Carl Glasgow and Earl Newberry. J. C. Thompson, chairman of the meeting, briefly outlined the details of the Potentate's Ball which will be a brilliant feature of the social season. This affair will be held at the Oriental Gardens in Medford on Thursday, February 15. The first stated meeting of Hillah Temple, under Potentate Alenderfer, will be held at the Masonic Temple in Ashland tonight.

GORDON ALCORN ADMITS HELPING SNATCH BROKER

The first kidnapping resulted in the payment of ransom of $60,000. Sankey and Alcorn had an argument about the disposition of the money and consequently the second kidnapping did not go through, the department said.

CHICAGO, Feb. 2.—(AP)—Verne Sankey, described as "America's Public Enemy No. 1," has escaped temporarily at least a charge of participation in the kidnapping of the infant son of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, but must face a federal court trial for the abduction of the wealthy Denver broker, Charles Boettcher II. Hours of questioning by federal agents of the stocky little former South Dakota ranchman, apparently failed to link him with the fatal Lindbergh abduction. (AP) He was hurriedly started by train last night for Pierre, S. D., where he is under indictment for the Boettcher "snatch."

Waiver Extradition Sankey, who the authorities said deserted the drab life of a ranchman to take the more lucrative racket of a "big time" kidnaper, apparently had no objection to going to South Dakota, for he waived extradition, and was quickly on his way, carefully guarded by five department of justice agents, led by Melvin Purvis, chief of the department's Chicago office.

A private car for the notorious bad man and his guards, was used.

Sankey, who confessed, Purvis said, to the $60,000 Boettcher kidnapping as well as the $12,000 abduction of Haskell Bohn of St. Paul, faced the prospect of receiving a life term, if he is convicted, and there were indications that the authorities were hopeful that he would be. "The chances for conviction in the Boettcher case are better in South Dakota," United States District Attorney Dwight H. Green said, after Sankey had been taken to the court room of Federal Judge John P. Barnes where the removal papers were signed.

HUNGARY DUMPING WHEAT IS CLAIM

LONDON, Feb. 2.—(AP)—Hungary was found the chief offender in recent weeks in connection with the depressing effect of national subsidies on the world wheat price, it was learned in authoritative quarters today at the final session of the international wheat commission.

Strong criticism of all direct or indirect subsidies will be embodied in the commission's report, it was revealed, along with proposals to increase the consumption of wheat and upset the temporary low price barrier on exports.

Information received by the commission, it was said today, indicates that Hungary is the only country now actively selling to the limit, her creditors getting what they can from wheat.

Prospects of a finish match between Pete Belcastro, Sacramento Italian, and Leo Wolfe, on next Wednesday's wrestling card grew dim today as promoter Mack Lillard declared his inability to sign up Wolfe.

NEW YORK, Feb. 2.—(P)—Stocks

were somewhat non-committal today as the new and lighter American dollar bounded upward in foreign exchange markets and commodities failed to display much enthusiasm for the advance. Some metals and specialties related profit taking, but the so-called leaders were a little ragged. The close was irregular. Transfers approximated 2,850,000 shares. The British pound dropped about 8 cents and other European exchanges were proportionately heavy. At the same time large American gold purchases were reported from London. Bonds formed the bright spot in the financial picture. All loan categories moved upward in exceptionally active trading. Grains eased and silver and rubber were lower. Cotton improved moderately. Stocks, while active, failed by a large margin to reach yesterday's volume. Today's closing prices for 32 selected stocks follow: Al. Chem. & Dye 153 1/2; Am. Can 100 1/2; Am. & Fgn. POW 113 1/2; A. hospital, $100,000; The Dallas Tuberculosis hospital, $280,000, and an addition to the Salem High school, $50,000. The seven other projects probably will be forwarded to Washington within a few weeks at the rate of two or three each week.

Is This Too Good for Your Cough?

Cremolomon may be a better help than you need. It combines seven major helps in one—the best helps known to science. It is made for quick relief, for safety. Mild coughs often yield to lesser helps. No one can tell. No one knows which cough will do most for any certain cough. So careful people, more and more, are using Cremolomon for any cough they start. The cost is a little more than a single help. But your druggist guarantees it, so it costs nothing if it fails to bring you quick relief. Coughs are danger signals. For safety's sake, deal with them in the best way known. (adv.)

The Percodripit makes either Drip Coffee or Percolator Coffee Nonsense? Of course it is! You can't use the same kind of maker for both. Nor should you use the same kind of coffee for both. In a drip coffee maker, boiling water drips ONLY ONCE through a coffee specially prepared to yield its flavor QUICKLY. In a percolator, water passes many times through a coffee prepared to yield its flavor SLOWLY. The same coffee can be used for both methods, but like a "Jack-of-all-trades" it is "master of none"—neither drip nor percolator. In one or the other, little things happen. It's a little weak, or a little strong, or a little cloudy, or it has a little less flavor. It's these little things that make or mar good coffee. Be sure to use the correct coffee for each method. Your grocer has two Schilling Coffees, identical in flavor, but each is specially prepared for its purpose—each one different in blend, roast and grind. Two Schilling Coffees Percolator Drip Coffee
