NEW YORK, Feb. 5.—(AP)—Piling up their largest volume since last July, stocks stormed through another bullish session today although they met enough late profit-taking to reduce their extreme gains of $1 to $4 a share.

Turnover approximated 5,000,000 shares, a rate of a million shares an hour. The bond market maintained last week's activity, as many issues got to the highest levels since the summer of 1931.

Commodities were generally firm, though wheat closed under its highs which represented gains of around a cent a bushel. Cotton reached the best levels since 1930.

Invisible Man Is Headliner Now at Hunt's Craterian

H. G. Wells' vivid imagination, and expert acting on the part of a well chosen cast make "The Invisible Man" at the Craterian theatre until tomorrow night, one of the most striking pictures ever to be shown in Medford.

How this extraordinary story was placed on celluloid remains one of the mysteries of Hollywood. Throughout all the exciting reels things happen, so incredible that one is prone to shake his head and blink his eyes to look again.

It's all about a super-scientist who manages to make himself invisible by means of an obscure drug and then, half crazed by its effects, sets out to make the world realize his unlimited power. He does so in a graphic and startling manner, and strange enough, there isn't a moment when the audience is not aware of the unseen man's presence on the screen when he is meant to be there. Of course, being invisible, he is not actually seen, but how he is felt!

His wild course is so cleverly shown on the screen that it would be downright treason to describe it. And his fate is worked out in such a spectacular manner that memories of "The Invisible Man" are bound to linger long with those who see it. Somehow the treatment given this weird tale makes the picture entirely reasonable and not fantastic in the least, and the expert characterizations lent by Claude Rains in his picture debut, William Harrigan, Gloria Stuart, Dudley Digges and Una O'Connor enhance this effect of entirely logical occurrences, although the menace of the unseen is present always.

If for nothing else, "The Invisible Man" can be given credit for a brand new idea in motion picture entertainment, which is something to shout about these days.

Fredric March and Miriam Hopkins in New Rialto Picture

With Fredric March and Miriam Hopkins as products of the Park Avenue social world and with George Raft and Helen Mack as graduates of the slum sidewalks, "All of Me" which will open its three day engagement at the Rialto theater, tomorrow.

Kay Francis Star Of Holly Picture

A large galaxy of theatrical notables who have been successful on both stage and screen are associated with Kay Francis in "The House on 56th Street" now playing at the Holly.

"The Ship of Mending Men" is the other feature on the Holly bill. Good short subjects complete the program. "The House on 56th Street" is an unusual and dramatic picture which deals with the affairs of a beautiful chorus girl.

Attended Snow sports—Dr. and Mrs. B. R. Elliott and children, accompanied by Miss Gertrude Watling, motored to Shasta City yesterday to attend the winter sports contests at Snowman mountain. Horace Bromley and party were also present from Medford. Those attending reported a definite scarcity of snow, which made jumping quite difficult.

OIL MEN TO SEE PICTURE TONIGHT

H. W. Taylor, Pacific coast manager of lubricant sales for the General Petroleum corporation will present a talking picture "Competitors" at the Hotel Medford at 8:00 o'clock this evening. General Petroleum officials, service station managers and newspapermen have been invited to witness the showing of this interesting film.

As an added feature of tonight's meeting, the Medford Glaciers will offer a few vocal numbers.

"The picture, "Competitors," is being shown throughout the coast by Mr. Taylor and the Medford showing is being handled by W. F. Carper, district manager for the General Petroleum corporation in this section of Oregon. Like its predecessor, "Partners," tonight's film tells the story of correct lubrication around the lives of two men in a service station partnership.

Undergo Operations—Mrs. L. T. Younger went a major operation today at the Community hospital, Neva Messal also underwent a major operation at the hospital.
