

GEN. M'ALEXANDER TALK IS FEATURE LEGION CONCLAVE

A thrilling story, which mixed the glory with the horror of war, as both are viewed by the general of the ranks; was told of the Battle of the Marne last night to a large and attentive audience, gathered at the high school auditorium, when General U. G. McAlexander, known as the "Rock of the Marne," addressed the public at the close of the Legion and auxiliary conference held here yesterday.

General McAlexander's conclusions, as they were given his audience, were based upon 35 years of experience in war. He described the early days of the World War, touched upon the many others in which he had participated, and then gave a detailed story of the Marne.

Humor was mixed with tragedy throughout the lecture and the audience remained until his last words ended, although the hour was late and dancing awaited all at the Colonial club.

Donald Newbury of the Medford post, was master of ceremonies at the auditorium meeting and other speakers heard were Mrs. Dorothy Eakin, president of the American Legion Auxiliary in Oregon, and Harold J. Warner, state commander of the Legion. The latter discussed the four-point program and explained that it was not the Legion as a whole, which brought about the feeling in many quarters that Legionnaires were treasury raiders. He stated that the government is now re-instating many worthy ex-service men, who were recently deprived of pensions.

Mrs. Eakin devoted her time to an explanation of the part the auxiliary plays in community life and the splendid civic work the organization hopes to accomplish.

The Medford Gleemen, under direction of James Stevens, entertained with several numbers, which were much enjoyed, and the high school band, directed by E. Wilson Watt, also entertained.

The map, used by General McAlexander in his address, was made by the high school art department for the occasion.

The meeting at the high school was preceded by an informal banquet at the Hotel Medford, at which Paul B. McDonald acted as toastmaster.

Following the address of General McAlexander the conference guests returned to the Colonial club, where dancing completed the day's conference festivities. Robert Strang was master of ceremonies for the final event.

CWA Director Hopkins hates lawyers, believing they slow things up. He never looks under the bed.

George Washington's home was opened up on a Sunday morning not long ago, especially at White House request. To permit a group of teachers to go through, the bars to the rooms were let down. Weeping and wailing has been in order since. One of the teachers brushed against Martha Washington's tea set and a couple of pieces fell and broke.

Step out into the SUNSHINE

How many days of your life are lost in feeling under par? How many hours which might be bright are dull and despondent?

Half-hearted days are frequently due to common constipation. It clouds your waking hours, takes the sunshine out of living. Yet it can be overcome so easily by eating a delicious cereal.

Laboratory tests show Kellogg's ALL-BRAN provides "bulk" and vitamin B to aid elimination. ALL-BRAN is also a fine source of iron.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that in leafy vegetables. Isn't this "cereal way" pleasanter than risking patent medicines?

Two tablespoons daily are usually sufficient. With each meal, in chronic cases. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Serve ALL-BRAN as a cereal or use in muffins, breads, omelets, etc. In the red-and-green package. At all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Sattle Creek.

WINTER CLAMPS ICY FINGERS ON TWO CONTINENTS

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 9.—(AP)—While New Yorkers experienced their coldest February weather on record and the mercury in other parts of the east fell below freezing, the Pacific coast enjoyed moderate temperatures today.

Temperatures reported at 5 a. m. showed San Diego with a maximum of 64 degrees and a minimum of 56 in the preceding 24 hours. San Francisco's maximum and minimum were 63 and 48. Sacramento's 66 and 44. Los Angeles' 66 and 49. Seattle's 52 and 42 and Portland's 54 and 48.

Intense cold ruled over two continents today.

The U. S. weather bureau celebrated its 64th anniversary by recording many record lows in temperatures.

Germany and Scandinavia were struck by a gale which caused widespread damage and was directly responsible for several deaths.

Ships hugged harbors in the North and Baltic areas.

The New England and North Atlantic states and eastern Canada bore the brunt of the sub-zero weather in America.

Nine deaths were attributed directly or indirectly to the cold. Fatalities, by cities, were: Boston 2, New York 2, Philadelphia 1, Buffalo 3, and Schenectady 1.

In New York city the temperature dropped to 14.3 degrees below zero, a record low. Two large liners were delayed many hours by storms along the seaboard. Subway doors froze

GENERAL STRIKE THREATENS NEW PARIS DISORDER

PARIS, Feb. 9.—(AP)—Gaston Doumergue, 71-year old premier-designate, turned his back on youthful enthusiasts this afternoon to name a cabinet of experienced veterans banded together by the crisis threatening France.

Some half a dozen former premiers were named in the ministry which Doumergue planned to present later in the day to President Lebrun for the chief executive's approval.

Even as Doumergue selected his ministers, however, street disorders as a prelude to the general strike called for Monday, again threatened Paris. Soldiers were moved toward the workers' suburbs in the eastern part of the city in anticipation of communist demonstrations. Troops were stationed everywhere.

PARIS, Feb. 9.—(AP)—Friends said today that Eugene Frot, minister of the interior in the resigned Daladier cabinet, had disappeared and, they believed, was leaving France secretly. Frot's robes, which he wore as a lawyer, were burned publicly today at the Palace of Justice by his colleagues and disbarment proceedings were commenced.

Lauds Roosevelt
To the Editor:
I hope you can spare me a few lines. I want to express my personal convictions that our United States are showing a great improvement in all lines since a year ago and what a difference in two years. We owe it all to the unselfish leadership of a great man in the White House, President Roosevelt, and I think that in all our history there is only one other president who was as great, and he was Lincoln, who kept our union together.

And if we as American people stay right behind our president, it won't be long until normal conditions are entirely back.

Congratulations Pour in On Gen. Martin When Candidacy Is Announced

(By Mark Greiner Kelly.)
WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 8.—(Special Correspondence.)—His desk stacked high with congratulatory and advisory telegrams, following his announcement yesterday that he would be a candidate for the next gubernatorial race, Congressman Charles H. Martin of Oregon made it plain today that he would not forsake his post at the capitol until this session ended.

In answer to insistence from friends in his home state that he come out before the primaries and begin building his "political fence," General Martin answered that he was "too busy building dams and bridges for Oregon to leave now."

With a service record that took him through the Boxer Rebellion, the Spanish-American war, Philippine war and World War, the general holds the distinguished service medal and numerous other decorations. In Washington he is a great favorite in the exclusive army circles.

Appointed in 1927 as commanding general of the Canal Zone, General Martin held a position which is counted one of the most important of its kind in government service.

Oregonians are already forming their own particular clique in Washington, although their meetings generally need a special incentive to assure full attendance. A party got together at the Hotel Shoreham last evening to bid adieu to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Farrell of Medford, and to welcome Mr. and Mrs. Porter J. Neff to the capitol city. Approximately 14 were present.

Several guests not yet identified have been found by astronomers in the atmospheres of the larger planets.

Sowing seed of restraint strains in the best preventive against "scorch" or anthracnose, in the red clover belt, the department of agriculture reports.

On February 14, an all-Oregon dinner dance will be held at Hotel Roosevelt, when congressmen and their wives, as well as numerous Oregonians in government service, will meet for a general good time. All of which makes the home state seem not so far away after all.

General Martin was a classmate of General John J. Pershing (graduating from West Point in '87), is the fourth retired major-general of the regular army in history to serve in congress. The others were Andrew Jackson and William Henry Harrison, who later became presidents; and Daniel E. Sickels of New York, who served as a congressman some 40 years ago.

Following his graduation, General Martin located at Vancouver, B.C. Two years later he purchased his first piece of property in Oregon, upon which he has paid taxes ever since. His marriage to an Oregon girl, Miss Louise Hughes, at the Portland Hotel in '97 was of such social importance that the event is still remembered and spoken of by pioneer families of that city.

such a good time

Jane writes her best friend: "Mother's here you know. Came last Saturday. Mother said: 'You're serving Hills Bros. Coffee, of course?' Well, I'd been using something I thought was cheaper—not so good. Mother sort of snorted. You know how she does. Said: 'Cheaper? My dear daughter, although you may have to pay a few pennies more, don't you know Hills Bros. Coffee actually goes farther because it's made of the finest green coffees? You ought to think about the price per cup. That's the way you drink coffee—by the cup. Not by the pound.' So we got Hills Bros. Coffee and had such a good time. Now we're having Hills Bros. Coffee all the time. John says it's swell. And best of all—Hills Bros. Coffee is not costing—cup for cup—a bit more than the 'bargain counter' coffees I was using!"
