

MILK INSPECTOR AUSTIN PRAISES DAIRYING CLASS

Charles W. Austin, milk and dairy inspector, just returned from attending the California dairy industry school course given each year at the College of Agriculture in Davis, Cal. gives high praise to the opportunities, courtesies, work accomplished, and morale furnished by this short course.

He emphasizes the opinion that no one who wishes to succeed best in the dairy industry can afford to miss this course. One of the outstanding impressions left with him through the work given, he said, was the opportunity afforded through utilizing the idea of the "new deal" slogan of President Roosevelt in the dairy industry.

"The trend of events points this fact," he continued. "No line of successful endeavor can longer go it alone, so to speak. Each needs the other, and should cooperate in honesty of purpose. The thought in this short course was further emphasized that the dairy industry as a whole has overlooked an attractive bet through its lack of initiative and anticipation.

"We have failed to utilize the results seen by more progressive industries in their advertising activities. We can't grow stale and threadbare mentally and hope by exerting more muscle to succeed better. It's an erroneous attitude.

"Mr. Fisher of the Nansen Dairy, and L. S. Cox with Snider's Dairy, also attended the short course, both seeming enthusiastic about it.

"I also feel gratified in this because it shows an increasing interest in this locality of aiding and improving the production and processing of the best, cheapest and healthiest food for man—milk and its products."

COUNTY GAS BILLS WILL BE SETTLED

The county court the coming week expects to conclude settlement of the gasoline bills arising from the tour-moile episodes of a year ago, and which have been in a process of adjustment for the past six months.

County Commissioner Ralph Billings said a conference would be held soon, and the matter of the gasoline bills discussed in the hope of reaching an agreement.

Bills presented to the county court indicate there was a considerable amount of traveling indulged in the first six months of last year, and it is asserted that the business of the county did not justify the amount of ground covered. It is suspected that some of the gasoline used was devoted to getting to "grand assemblies," excursions to vote-stealing and murder trials, and other movements not strictly county business.

A bill for furniture, delivered to indigents last winter, has been presented to the county court, and is also up for consideration. It amounts to about $25, and is for cots and chairs. The bill was approved by Hamilton Patton, "chairman of relief." Bills for relief expenditures keep bobbing up—none very large.

WRITES FOR WILSON TUESDAY 2 P. M.

Friends of the late E. S. (State) Wilson, who passed away at his home at Jacksonville Saturday, will assemble at the Conger chapel at 2 p. m. Tuesday for the last rites to a friend and neighbor who was widely known for his kind and cheerful disposition and one who will be missed by hundreds who have known and loved him.

Rev. George P. Kabele of the English Lutheran church will officiate at the chapel with the Jacksonville Masonic lodge in charge at the grave in Jacksonville cemetery.

MRS. HAYES MANAGER OF CINDERELLA SHOP

W. H. McGee, district supervisor of the Cinderella stores, with headquarters in Medford, has announced the appointment of Mrs. Vella Hayes as manager and buyer for the local shop on South Central avenue.

For seven years Mrs. Hayes has been associated with Mann's department store in the ladies' ready-to-wear department, and is recognized in southern Oregon and northern California as a capable buyer and sales lady.

Medford's Cinderella store has been completely rearranged and remodeled for the spring season and a more extensive selection of dresses, coats, hats and accessories is now offered its patrons.

FIGURES AND SCENES IN FRENCH POLITICAL CRISIS

Violence and rioting that has swirled around Paris in recent weeks assumed serious proportions as Premier Edouard Daladier (right) who was forced to resign battled for the life of his government. Fearing other disorders troops armed with machine guns were mobilized in the capital and thousands of police were massed in the neighborhood of the Elysee palace. The dismissal of Jean Chiappe (inset), Paris police prefect, aroused considerable agitation, chiefly among war veterans. STAGE WALKOUT AS WARNING TO FASCIST FORCES

(Continued from page one) picketing and some window breaking. Most of them, however, will be released from jail tonight, police said.

Big demonstrations and parades in the provinces at Marseilles, Lille and other principal cities, were reported uneventful.

Amid reports that Premier Doumergue would ask dictatorial powers, the 24-hour strike was called as a gesture of protest against any resort to fascist control.

A great mass of people, most of them dressed in working clothes and estimated at close to 250,000, assembled in the large street, Cours de Vincennes, as a protest "against fascism."

Into this almost solid mass, half a mile long by 100 yards wide, marched a column of "communist youth" bearing red flags and singing the Internationale.

Not a policeman was visible as the communist parade began but thousands were massed, with supporting detachments of soldiers, on side streets ready for instant action if needed.

Thirty-five thousand police and soldiers were on duty in Paris, where 100,000 laborers were affected. Outbreaks were feared in meetings of socialists and communists.

The walkout is a protest against attacks on parliament by what the strikers term "fascist forces and partisans of fallen regimes" who it is asserted are ready to pursue their aim to "substitute a dictatorship for a democracy."

Following the Saturday meeting of the Jackson County Fruitgrowers' league, the directors met for election of officers. Dr. Geo. B. Dean was named president for the year; A. W. Sheppard, first vice-president; E. W. Carlton, second vice-president, and A. H. Hanwell, secretary-treasurer.

PORTLAND, Ore., Feb. 12.—(AP)—Adolph R. Jacobs, 60, president of the Oregon City woolen mills, died here today. He had been ill one week. Four sisters, Mrs. Phil Goss of San Francisco, and Frances Miriam and Hilda Jacobs of Portland, survive.

WEARER THE ORDER OF THE GOLDEN RULE

Consider Cost We do not dodge the question of price, nor make any effort to do so. It isn't necessary.

Our policy in this regard is easy to understand: we mark our caskets with the cost of complete services, and mark this price in plain figures. The making of a selection is therefore a decidedly simple matter.

The Nation Honors Him

The passing of time fails to dim the nation's memory of Abraham Lincoln. Today, the one hundred and twenty-fifth anniversary of his birth, it pauses to honor the man who rose from rail-splitter to President and won a place in history through his guidance of the country in one of its most troublous periods.

Talks On Christ To Be Continued Throughout Week

Jack Mitchell of Portland who is speaking all this week at the Baptist church on North Central avenue, will continue his splendid address on the Person and Work of Christ this evening at 7:30.

A large and appreciative audience listened with profit and blessing to the first two addresses yesterday.

Mr. Mitchell is a Bible teacher and has for a number of years conducted classes throughout the northwest. He presents the truth of God as revealed by His word. He will speak Tuesday and Thursday afternoons at 3 o'clock and every evening this week, except Saturday, at 7:30.

ICKES NOT TO ASK GENERAL ORDER ON GRAZING CONTROL

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—(AP)—Secretary Ickes today advised Senator Carey (R., Wyo.) that he does not at present contemplate asking the president to issue a general order withdrawing the public lands for grazing control purposes.

The secretary reiterated his stand in favor of passage of the bill introduced by Representative Taylor (D., Colo.) which would give the interior department the right to create grazing districts on the public domain and promulgate regulations for the use of the land.

Secretary Ickes told Senator Carey he would continue to urge enactment of the Taylor measure.

He explained that the recent withdrawal of about 1,200,000 acres of land in the desert range of west central Utah was "for the express purpose of classification, in aid of legislation, for conservation and development of natural resources and for use of grazing land in accordance with such rules and regulations as may be prescribed by the secretary of the interior."

Secretary Ickes told Senator Carey that pending action on the Taylor bill withdrawals of this kind will be made when necessary, based largely upon the applications of local users of the range.

Certified Seed Potatoes Reach Rogue Valley

Proof that southern Oregon gardeners demand quality seed lies in the arrival of a car of Blue Tag State Sealed and Certified Bliss Triumph seed potatoes last week, according to Otto H. Bohnert, prominent vegetable gardener and farmer of Central Point.

Mr. Bohnert says, "This car of certified potatoes originated in Idaho, coming from an isolated growing section free of Mosaic, an inherited disease which has made impossible the certification of Bliss Triumph potatoes in many Oregon potato-growing sections."

"Last year," potato growers in the valley experienced a reduction of from 25 to 50 per cent in their crop because of this Mosaic disease. Only through state certification and only potatoes bearing the state certification tag can be relied upon to be free of Mosaic."

Several local growers participated in this car shipment, which was handled by Mr. Bohnert, The Monarch Seed & Feed company of Medford cooperated with the growers in bringing these certified seed potatoes into southern Oregon.

They Satisfy ... people know it!

Same thing with a good cigarette or a good wood-fire. All you need is a light. And all you want is a cigarette that keeps tasting right whether you smoke one or a dozen. That's what people like about Chesterfields. You can count on them. They're milder—and they taste better. In two words, they satisfy. That says it.
