

MIKADO WORK OF MUSIC MASTERS GILBERT, SULLIVAN

(By Mildred Buckles.)
 "The Mikado," soon to be presented at the Senior high school, was produced by Sir William Gilbert, with Sir Arthur Sullivan as musical composer.
 Sir William Gilbert, an English dramatist, was born in London, November 18, 1836. He was a clerk in the Privy Council office from 1857 to 1861, and in 1863 was called to the bar. He contributed to magazines and was on the staff of "Fun," in whose columns his celebrated "Bab Ballads" began to appear in 1866. In the same year he wrote his burlesque "Dulcamara," which was followed by more burlesques, dramas, comedies and fairy comedies.
 But it is the librettos of the Savoy operas, written with Sir Arthur Sullivan as musical composer, that form his enduring title to fame. The series began with "Trial by Jury" in 1875, ended with "The Gondoliers" in 1893, and included "The Pirates of Penzance," "The Mikado" and "The Yeoman of the Guard."
 Sir Arthur Sullivan, an English composer, was also born in London, May 13, 1842. His father was a military bandmaster and taught his son before nine years of age to play every wind instrument used in the band, thus laying the foundation of the fine and wide orchestral knowledge afterward displayed by Sir Arthur.
 In 1856, Sullivan won the Mendelssohn scholarship of the Royal Academy of Music.
 In 1862, he attracted attention by his music to Shakespeare's "Tempest."
 His serious works include the oratorios "The Prodigal Son" and "Light of the World," anthems, hymns and numerous favorite songs. His most popular compositions are the Savoy series of burlesque operettas, which he produced in conjunction with W. S. Gilbert. One of his finest compositions is the arrangement of Longfellow's "Golden Legend," which he set to music in 1886. In 1891 he produced his grand opera "Ivanhoe," a masterly work which did not win the success its merits deserved.

 "The Gondoliers," produced by Gilbert and Sullivan, had the signal honor of a "command performance" at Windsor castle, before Queen Victoria.
 The ever great "Mikado" was one of the most popular of all Gilbert and Sullivan operettas, and ran for 872 nights after the first performance.

DEATH OF MRS. HARRIS ENDS LONG SERVICE IN FIELD OF EDUCATION

When Mrs. Nettie B. Harris, sister of Mayor E. M. Wilson of this city, died recently in Eagleville, Cal., southern Oregon and northern California lost one of their most ardent educators, friends of Mrs. Harris stated here yesterday, reviewing some of her activities in the school world.
 She began teaching when just 19 years of age, after graduating from Pierce Christian college at Cottage City, Cal. She taught for 10 or 11 years in the Sisson schools, also in Lassen and Modoc counties. In 1902 her husband, Chas. B. Harris, died, leaving her alone to support a two-year-old daughter, Irene, who is now Mrs. Grove of Eagleville.
 Mrs. Harris continued with her educational pursuits, and from 1911 until 1923 was superintendent of schools in Modoc county, California. In 1923 she retired on a teacher's pension and had since devoted much time to assembling data regarding the early pioneers and first families of the United States, of which she was a descendant.
 Mrs. Harris was an active member of the Crater Lake chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, and has aided that organization much in compiling interesting information.
 She was a member of the Eastern Star and Rebekah lodges in California.

HISTORICAL PAGEANT WILL BE FEATURE OF JUBILEE CELEBRATION

Preparations for the historical pageant to be presented as one of the feature attractions during Oregon's Diamond Jubilee celebration in Medford next June are rapidly gaining headway, according to Professor Angus Bowmer of the Southern Oregon

Normal school at Ashland, author of the production, which is planned to have over 400 people in its cast.
 The writing of the manuscript has been practically completed and covers historical events, dating back to days when Indians were in sole possession of the Oregon country, followed by the arrival of early settlers and establishment of statehood.
 The scope of the pageant is extensive and additional committee heads have been appointed by Prof. Bowmer to aid in its presentation. Miss Virginia Hales, dean of women at the normal school, has been named dancing director; Miss Louise Woodruff, head of the normal school music department, will direct pageant music; Miss Marion Ady of the art department will be in charge of costumes, while Dr. Arthur Taylor of the education department will be historical advisor.

What SHE TOLD WORN-OUT HUSBAND

SHE could have reproached him for his fits of temper—his "red in the face" complaints. But wisely she saw in his frequent colds, his "fagged out," "on edge" condition the very trouble she herself had whipped. Constipation! The very morning after taking NR (Nature's Remedy), as she advised, he felt like himself again—keenly alert, peppy, cheerful. NR—the safe, dependable, all-vegetable, laxative and corrective—works gently, thoroughly, naturally. It stimulates the eliminative tract to complete, regular functioning. Non-habit-forming. Try a box, 25c—at druggists.
