Captain Fred Erickson's six club bowling team ran wild last night in their final game of the lodge tournament to take three straight games from Captain Hugo Guenther's quintet and forge three games ahead of the Orr and Elwood teams with which they had been in a three-way tie for first place.

The Orr and Elwood teams, each of which still has one match to play, must win all three games in order to retain the chance of a playoff with the Erickson outfit. Elwood bowls the Solinsky team tonight and Orr bowls the Watson team Friday night.

Earl York carried the burden for the Erickson cohorts last night, straining the pins for a total of 370. Captain Erickson was close behind with 339. The team total for the three games read 2921, which should give them the weekly high total prize money for the third successive week.

Portland, Feb. 21.—(AP)—Rocking right punches gained Louis Nelson, 128, Portland, a close four-round decision over Rex Hummer, 127, Medford, as they stole the show from the main event at the Labor temple fight here last night.

Allen Franks, 146, Bellingham Indian, gamely faced Ernie Cavelli, 143, Walls, Wash., but was no match and was knocked out in the third of their scheduled six-round main event.

Roy Ockley, 137, Portland, baffled Sonny Jones, 133, Vancouver, B. C., and won a four-round decision. Harry Nelson, 146, Seattle, knocked out Chet Kelcey, 143, Portland, in the furious first of a scheduled four-round fight.

Jackie Killen, 120, Independence, pounded Frankie Villa, 120, into submission in four rounds.

KICK WINS MATCH FOR ROBIN REED

SALEM, Feb. 21.—(AP)—A well-placed kick to the stomach flattened Jack Curtis, New Mexico grappler, for the third and deciding fall, enabling Robin Reed to win the main event of last night's wrestling match here, two falls out of three. Curtis kept out of range of Reed's flying feet for most of the match, but one mistake was enough.

Walter Tinkit Aohu, Chinese wrestler, failed to return to the ring after losing the second fall in his match with Cowboy Heinz, since the cowboy had practically rendered him unconscious. The Chinaman won the first fall.

Art Perkins won the final two falls from Wilfred Grey after falling prey to a flying tackle by Grey after 10 seconds of the first round had elapsed.

OREGON DEFEATS VANDALS, 28-27

AH WING LEE LOSES IN WARM-UP BATTLE

SEATTLE, Wash., Feb. 21.—(AP)—A boxing match between Ah Wing Lee of Portland and Henry Woods of Yakima for top lightweight honors in the Pacific northwest may be on at a later date, or may be off, but chances of the Chinese whipping the negro appeared slim today after Lee revealed a lacing from "Kid" Moro, Manila, in a six-round bout here last night.

The battle was held as sort of a warmup for Lee, Woods having defeated Moro a few weeks ago, and the Filipino sort of warmed things up too much.

O'SHOCKER ASPIRES TO SHERIFF'S BADGE

DETROIT, Feb. 21.—(AP)—Grappling with opponents in the narrow confines of the wrestling ring has given Pat O'Shocker the idea he might be good at grappling with lawbreakers. He wants to run for sheriff.

Arriving here for a match with George Zaharias Friday night, O'Shocker observed that "this looks like a good town to be sheriff of. I've a good notion to make my home here and give it a whirl."

The man who has more influence on congressional adjournment than anyone else is the congressional physician, Dr. Calvert. He tells the congressman he will they are and when they need a rest. There have been indications lately that he has been working with Mr. Roosevelt to get congress out of town.

Statements by Messrs. Parley and Earl have always used the word "annulled" to describe the cancellation of the animal contracts. The assumption is that there may be a legal difference between the word annul and the word cancel, so that the companies may be permitted to bid again within the five-year probationary period.

A telegraph company says its Valentine day business this year was 30 per cent more than last year, which indicates either that there is more love this year or more money to express it.

STENGEL TO TAKE HELM OF DODGERS IS NEW YORK HINT

NEW YORK, Feb. 21.—(AP)—Max Carey today was relieved as manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers. No successor has been appointed, but Casey Stengel, Dodger coach, has been called to New York from California to be offered the job.

The announcement that Carey was being paid off on his one year contract came from Bob Quinn, general manager of the baseball club, who is ill in a midtown hospital.

Quinn, propped up in bed, with a nurse in attendance, said Stephen W. McKeever, Dodger president, had wired Carey his services were no longer needed and that the club would pay him the full amount of his contract, believed to be for $15,000.

He said Stengel had been called in from Glendale, Cal., and would be offered the job, but that he had no advance information as to whether Stengel would accept. Casey, a former star outfielder, was given his coaching job by Max when the latter took over the management of the Dodgers for the 1932 campaign.

During the summer, the royal suite or was an almost daily guest at Anton Patzek's home in suburban Wilmerdorf, where the family has lived since 1920. He also was a frequent visitor at Patzek's country estate at Neugloshow, about 50 miles north of Berlin.

The two seemed inseparable. She was constantly about on the movie lot while he was at work.

"They seemed the happiest of mortals," acquaintances commented today.

Last Sunday, Prince Sigvard told the Patzeks he was determined to marry Erika despite the royal family's objections.

Patzek started business in a small way in the produce market. He now controls several suburban markets and runs his own transportation business.

SALEM, Feb. 21.—(AP)—Criticism of members of the state game commission for "excessive mileage accounts and reports" was denied today by S. W. Starr, supervisor of audits for the state department. Starr referred to reports that the commission presented such criticism on privately owned automobile travel for state business.

The criticism which was declared "not justified" by Chairman Matt Corrigan of the game commission, was alleged to have been contained in the audit report of the game commission during the past year.

Starr declared he did not refer to "excessive mileage" being charged by members of the department." He said the audit merely pointed out how the state game commission could save a large amount of money annually by purchasing its own automobiles and eliminating the cost of privately-owned cars where considerable traveling was involved.

The original audit pointed out where several members of the department had been paid sums of $253 and $1488 for traveling on state business in their own cars, these members being reimbursed at the rate of 8 cents a mile. The mileage of the superintendent of the game farm set down at 14,700 miles within one year, was also used in the audit as an example of saving by the state purchasing the cars for the use of these members.

Mr. Treadway wired that he would arrive in Grants Pass, traveling the Redwood highway. City Superintendent Fred Schellie, left immediately for Grants Pass to meet him there.

A meeting of the local board will be called, A. H. Banwell, manager of the Medford Chamber of Commerce, stated, as soon as it is learned when Mr. Treadway wishes to make the local inspection.

VINING COMPLAINS CCC TAMING WILD SPOTS OF OREGON

PORTLAND, Feb. 21.—A meeting with representatives of the United States forest service in an effort to preserve certain primitive areas in Oregon, was urged at the meeting of the Oregon game commission here Monday by Dr. Irving E. Vining, commissioner from Ashland.

"The CCC is cutting roads into every area of the state," Dr. Vining declared. "Within a short time there will be no primitive areas left in the country. I believe we should effect an agreement with the forest service and find out if we can't save at least a portion to the state."

The executive board of the commission challenged recent criticism of the game department by the state bureau of auditing. Chairman Matt P. Corrigan said the auditors' criticism of reputed excessive mileage reports was unfair. There has been no report by the auditors, he said, pointing to any specific mileage item considered out of order.

Ernest L. Crockett, assistant supervisor, said that outstanding funds in game law violation fines total no more than $3,000 at the most. The total would appear to be larger, he reported, because bookkeepers in the departments have incomplete figures on many fines which have been assigned.

Trainman C. D. Drake of the New Haven railroad said: "It's the worst storm in my 36 years of service."

The Massachusetts state house shut up shop yesterday, telling state workers to go home if they could. A special snowplow broke a path so Governor Eli of Massachusetts could get to work. Half a dozen CCC camps near North Adams, Mass., were marooned. Rural mail deliveries were suspended or hampered almost everywhere.

Snow halted a murder trial at Freehold, N. J. The prosecutor could not get there. Fifty commuters camped last night in the Matawan, N. J., railroad station, unable to get home.

An Economical Car

built for those who want the power and pick-up of a V-8

AT normal touring speed, test runs show that the Ford V-8 for 1934 will give 20 miles to the gallon. It is actually less expensive to operate than most cars with fewer cylinders. Here are some of the reasons.

1. The Ford V-8 is a high-compression motor—the type that uses fuel most efficiently. 2. The Ford V-8 has aluminum cylinder heads—which means that, although it is a high-compression motor, it can use regular medium-priced gasoline.

These engineering features, which make for economy, also help to increase Ford performance. That's why we say, before you buy any car, at any price drive the FORD V-8 for 1934.

SALES TAX DEBATE BY GILL, BROCKWAY AT ARMORY, 8 P. M.

The debate is an outgrowth of the action following the passage of the sales tax law by the Oregon legislature. Immediately after passage of the law Grange Master Gill issued a state-wide bulletin condemning the legislature's action and stating that Wall Street interests had decanted upon the legislature to put over the tax.

The claims were answered by Representative Brockway in defense of his own and the legislature's action. Since then he has to a great extent headed the defense of the sales tax in this section.

Preceding the meeting of the special session of the legislature, a large committee was appointed by Governor Meier to recommend some solution to the tax problem. Grange Master Gill was a member of that committee, on desirable solution was offered and when the special session met the legislators faced the question of raising from four to five million dollars to save the schools. After three weeks of study the sales tax was adopted during the final hours of the session.

Immediately after its passage Gill condemned the action and Brockway came to defense of the legislature. The debate tonight will give the public an opportunity to hear both sides of the question as they have been studied by two men probably more thoroughly informed than any others in the state.

Music will be furnished by the high school band and an interesting and instructive program is anticipated.

Roosevelt Unique As Politician Says Admiring Britisher

LONDON, Feb. 21.—(AP)—Describing President Roosevelt as a remarkably adroit politician, Sir Arthur Steel-Maitland, former minister of labor, said today "he can give Lloyd George five yards start in a hundred-yard dash and beat him."

"There is no question of whether American recovery will come," said Sir Arthur, speaking to the American chamber of commerce. "The only question is when Roosevelt will make it come."

He termed Mr. Roosevelt a "spinx of a remarkable kind."
