

CARSTENS, LONG OF DEMOCRATIC FAITH, GOES REPUBLICAN

C. J. (George) Carstens, who for 30 years yielded to no man in the stalwartness of his Democracy, has astounded the political world of Jackson county by registering as a Republican. The party of Jefferson, Jackson and Cleveland had no stout defender. His flop to the G. O. P. is duly recorded on a card in the county clerk's office.

Carstens told friends that his switch was a protest against the way Oregon Democracy is acting with a few federal plums in sight and he also objects to alleged promising of one federal deputysip to 11 southern Oregon Democrats with the result that none got it. However, Mr. Carstens is still back of President Roosevelt, lock, stock and barrel.

Registration for the May primary is quite brisk, considering that the primary is two months away.

A number of young men and women voting for the first time are registering and evenly divided between Republicans and Democrats.

In several rural precincts, particularly Trall, Wimer, Rogue River and the Eagle Point districts, citizens are changing from Republican to Democratic faiths. Some of these are voters who went Republican to vote for Republican candidates in the 1932 primaries.

In this city and Ashland, there are also changes in party registrations. A number of "Independents" are now falling under the Bourbon flag.

There are a number of cancellations of registrations, due to death or the registrant not living here any more. Rural and city precincts alike show decreases.

In the 1932 elections, the fall registration reached the amazing total of 19,139. The actual poll was close to 14,000 votes.

COURT ARRANGES CIVIL CALENDAR

The civil calendar for the circuit court term starting next Monday has been completed and provides that the entire month of March and the first week of April be devoted to the hearing of these cases.

Three criminal cases—two alleging assault with a deadly weapon, and one charging contributing to the delinquency of a minor girl—will be heard next week by Circuit Judge H. D. Norton.

The first case scheduled on the civil suit docket is that of A. W. Pipes against B. L. Wyant, an action for the recovery of money. The case has been pending for nearly a year.

The damage suit of Delbert Tingleaf against the C. E. Gates Auto Co., for $25,000 damages is second on the calendar. Tingleaf, a minor, seeks balm for injuries received in an auto accident on the Butte Falls road two years ago. Tingleaf was riding in an auto driven by a youth, who allegedly took the car without permission.

FIGURES IN AUSTRIAN LIMELIGHT

Green peach aphids are now hatched and working on peach trees throughout the various districts of the county, according to the observations made by L. O. Gentner of the Southern Oregon Experiment Station, and L. P. Wilcox, county agent. It is recommended that control measures be applied within the next few days.

Green peach aphids have in past seasons caused more injury to crops than most growers realize. Because of the widespread infestation, all peach growers are advised to apply this spray. Use of nicotine sulfate (black leaf 40) at the rate of three-fourths pint to the hundred gallons of water, plus one pound of commercial spreader. This spreader increases the effectiveness of the nicotine and is well worth the additional cost.

These particular aphids hatch quite early and feed upon fruit buds until the buds crack open, at which time they then work their way into the bloom and feed upon the young peaches. The bloom then withers and falls off without setting fruit.

PHOENIX

PHOENIX, Feb. 23.—(Sp.)—Three plays were given at the high school auditorium Tuesday to a large and appreciative audience. They were a comedy, "Who Says Can't," directed by Thelma Hutchison, the cast as follows: George Hutchison, Louise Carman, Addy Bolz, John Barker, Dean Logan and Mildred Poling. Drama, "Lace," directed by Bill Cottrell, and cast as follows: Bill Cottrell, Mary Thompson, Helen Graham, Florence Scherrer and Donald Poling. The third play was a farce, "Wenties on Wednesday," directed by Mrs. Lester Newbury, and casted as follows: George Stevens, Marjorie Poling, Ned DeVries, Patsy Thompson, Louis Newberry and Pauline McAbee. During intermissions, a quartet sang "A Sea Song," members were George Stevens, George Hardesty, Collins Hartley and Harvey Sears, accompanied by Irene Steadman. Girls' Glee club gave the following in chant: "Little Boy Blue," "The Grand Sea," and "The Fog." A tap dancing number was given by a high school boy.

Home Economics club met at Mrs. O. C. Matus's Thursday with eleven members and two visitors present. The business meeting was presided over by the president, Mrs. O. C. Matus. The committee on fancy work distributed quilt blocks to be returned at the next meeting at Mrs. Dave Walker's March 20. Several tea tables were planned and turned in by the members present for the use of the Grange. Refreshments were served by the hostesses.

Mrs. Roy Burleson was honored with a dinner Monday night in honor of her birthday. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Bell, and children, Doris, Derrill and Marion, and Loyal Rhodes. Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Pruitt and daughter Margaret, were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Carter Sunday.

Celebrates Birthday—Ruth Swanson Dodson, Medford school nurse, is celebrating her birthday today. Just missing Washington's anniversary by a few hours, she makes the same claims to honesty accorded the first president. At her office in the city hall this morning, she was the recipient of many worthwhile gifts from friends who remembered the date.
