

NEWTON, COLEMAN TIE FOR HIGH ON GUN CLUB TRAPS

The first of a series of regulated tournaments was staged yesterday by the Medford Gun club. In the 100 target event Sid Newton and Ray Coleman, tied for high place with 98 broken targets to their credit. E. N. Hardenbrook of Klamath Falls was next high with a score of 95. Newton won the fine Pendleton robe in the 50 target event with 50 straight.

In the 50 target handicap event J. H. Martin of Klamath Falls was high with 45 and took home a nice ham for his efforts. Elmer Wilson and E. N. Hardenbrook each scored 44 for second place. Wilson winning a slab of bacon on the toss of a coin.

J. H. Martin won the double event by breaking the 12 pair straight which is exceptionally clever shooting.

Quite a number of skeet shooters were out. Everett Brayton shooting in high score with a 21x25.

HUSKIES TUNE UP FOR TREK SOUTH

SEATTLE, Feb. 26.—(AP)—Aiming at the 1931 record of the University of Washington basketball team, which took the northern division title with 14 games won and two lost, and then went on to take the coast conference title, the 1934 five began to "tune up" today for an invasion of the southland.

This year's team has also won 14 and lost two, through its closing game of the season in beating Washington State here Saturday night, 39 to 32, and its high-powered ace, Bobby (Goose) Galer, has a new conference record of 176 points. He totaled in 14 points in the last game, to beat the previous mark of 173.

The season is over for the Huskies, but Oregon and Oregon State will meet on Friday and Saturday nights, at Eugene and Corvallis, in a series which may decide second place, as they are both now tied with seven won and seven lost. Idaho meets Washington State at Pullman Friday night and the two meet at Moscow Saturday night, as the season ends.

The standings:

	W.	L.	Pct.
Washington	14	2	.875
Oregon State	7	7	.500
Oregon	7	7	.500
Washington State	4	10	.286
Idaho	4	10	.286

CRUCIAL TILT FOR TIGER HOOPSTERS IS SLATED FRIDAY

The Medford and Ashland high schools will play the second game of the series to determine the southern Oregon basketball championship at the Senior high school gymnasium next Friday night. If Medford wins they will still be in the running. If they lose, Ashland will have undisputed title to the right to represent this section at the state tournament in Salem.

The Lithians won the first game of the series at Ashland last Friday night by the score of 22 to 18—not 22 to 16, as reported.

The Medford team, which all season has been an "in and out" squad, expects to have one of its good nights in the decisive game, and get to clicking against their traditional rivals.

Ashland has one of the best teams in years, and a real basket-shooting star in Hoxie, who scored 19 points in the opener. He throws them from any place and any angle, and his height and speed. The team specializes in long shot and makes them on their own floor.

The Hoopsters' slow forming offensive was pie for the Lithians, with their five-man defense. They were all set when the Medford squad reached scoring territory. In the last half the Tigers outplayed Ashland, but had no luck with their heaves, many bouncing off the rim.

The largest crowd of the year is expected to pack the Senior high gymnasium for the battle Friday.

LOUGHRAN FANS FEARFUL OF PRIMO'S "FOOT WORK"

By Edward J. Nell (Associated Press Sports Writer) MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 26.—(AP)—A controversy over foot work—not the usual deft pedal manipulation of the prize ring—has arisen just in time to add a final ballyhoo blare to the 18 pound heavyweight championship duel of Primo Carnera and Tommy Loughran in the Madison Square Garden stadium here Wednesday night.

This time it's the angry charge of the Philadelphia Sports Writers' association, carried formally to Louis K. MacRoxvold, chairman of the Miami boxing commission, that the 265 pound champion intends to step on Loughran's foot sometime Wednesday night with intent to cripple.

misim or otherwise inconvenience the sprightly challenger.

The background of the protest is as follows:

About a week ago George Manley, a good light heavyweight from Denver, was boxing with Carnera and punching him up quite a bit. Somehow Carnera trod with all his weight upon Manley's right foot and the aching partner limped out of there. His foot is now in a plaster cast, a bone broken.

Yesterday, while Loughran held the spotlight with his final workout in the stadium ring, Carnera boxed with Buck Everett, another light heavyweight from Gary, Ind., and again he stepped down heavily. This time Everett limped away and the doctors believe his foot too is broken.

ELK CLUB BOWLERS BOW TO KLAMATH FALLS MEN

The Medford Elks bowling team was defeated by the Klamath team in a series of games rolled Sunday afternoon on the Klamath alleys.

Tom Watters, the big Klamath "southpaw", was outstanding, rolling a total of 2494 pins for the 12 games. Big scores were chalked up by both teams.

ROGUE SNOWMEN MEET WEDNESDAY

An important meeting of the Rogue Snowmen will be held Wednesday evening at 7:30 at the chamber of commerce. Glen Fabrick, president, announced today. Further plans for the second annual Crater Lake Winter Sports carnival, March 18, will be discussed.

A delegation of local Snowmen were at Crater Lake yesterday and were in short session with members of the Crater Lake Ski club of Klamath county tentatively planning program events for the carnival, a cooperative event supported by Medford and Klamath organizations, as well as the Bend Skyliners.

Some work has been completed on the preparation of a ski jump near Government Camp. The jump is expected to make leaps in excess of 200 feet possible, attracting expert jumpers from all parts of the northwest.

The site of the jump is approximately 600 feet long with a pitch of 174 feet. When it was tried by local skiers yesterday, a speed ranging from 80 to 63 miles per hour was realized.

LOCAL GOLFERS DO WELL IN YREKA TOURNAMENT

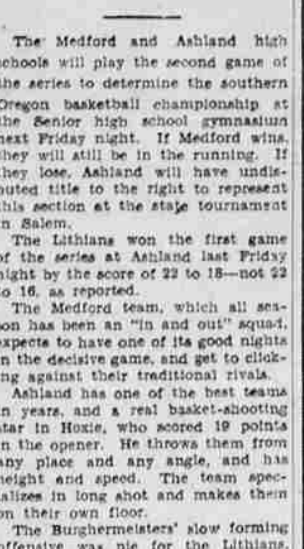

Approximately 20 Medford golfers made the trek to Yreka Sunday for participation in the blind bogey tournament in which 75 divot diggers vied for a large array of prizes. Bad weather kept the Klamath contingent at home. According to local men who made the trip, the Medford representatives fared exceedingly well in receiving awards for their skill.

BROTHER ACT BY DIZZY AND PAUL DEAN FOR CARDS

By Fred Bailey (United Press Staff Correspondent) CHICAGO (UP)—Take Branch Rickey's word for it, a lot of National League clubs are going to "see double" next summer. It'll be those "demon Dean" brothers, Paul and Dizzy.

"It'll be the greatest 'brother act' under the big top since the slugging Waner brothers, Paul and Lloyd, became the outfield stars of the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Rickey, vice president and general manager of the St. Louis Cardinals, believes his club will win the National League pennant, and he offers just two reasons, the aforementioned Dean brothers.

"Dizzy is the greatest pitcher in the league today," Rickey said. "I look for Paul to be even better. Between them they'll win 40 games for us this season."

Both are products of the Cardinals' extensive "farm" system. Dizzy—his attractive wife calls him Jerome Herman—came up from Houston, Texas League, at the conclusion of his first year in organized baseball.

That was in 1930. Rookie Dean went in to face the Pirates in the final game of the season. Although victorious it almost broke his heart because the Pirates got three hits—all singles—off him.

Dizzy came back to the Cardinals in 1932 and led the league in strikeouts. He repeated in 1933 and likewise set a new major league record by striking out 17 Cubs in one game.

No one ever gets an argument out of Dizzy by telling him how good he is. He talks about the Dean brothers by the hour. Next to himself he rates Paul for pitching ability.

"Paul is going to be the sensation of the league," Dizzy believes. "He'll win 18 or 20 games. I'll count 20 to 25 myself. I won 20 games last season and I know I can pass that figure."

Dizzy is the talkative member of the family. He's the only man in baseball who can strut sitting down. Paul is quieter. He has confidence backed up by his record as the leading pitcher of the American association while with Columbus last season.

Both have spent the winter in Florida, hunting, fishing, swimming, playing golf and otherwise living the carefree life of a winter visitor. Paul is a bachelor and likes to "step out" socially.

"Waner brothers! Bah!" Dean, the Dizzy shouts. "Smith brother! The Dean brothers will back 'em off the map this summer. How can they stop us?"

COPECO HOOPSTERS DEFEAT KLAMATH

The Medford basketball team of the Copeco employes organization scored a decisive victory against their Klamath "partners in progress" Saturday night when they defeated their ancient rivals on their own floor with a score of 33 to 15. This even the count for this season, the first game played here two weeks ago resulting in a 37-27 win for the Klamath team. Plans are underway to stage a third contest sometime in the near future.

The lineup for Saturday's game included the following Medford players: O'Neil, center; Naumes, forward; Schrader, forward; Ferguson, guard and Wolfe, guard. Substitutions were Jack Boyle at center and Joe Burroughs at guard. Naumes was high point man with 11 markers to his credit.

The local Copeco bowling team tangled with the Klamath kilowatt crew the same night but did not fare as well as the basket-shooters, coming out at the small end of a three game match. Following the athletic contests the local lighthouse group were guests of the Klamath employes' club at a dance.

GRANGE THESPIANS OFF THURSDAY FOR STATE WIDE TEST

Members of the cast of the Bellview Grange play, which won first honors in Jackson county in close competition here Saturday night, will leave Thursday morning for Oregon State college, where they will present their play in state competition at the Oregon conference for the study of home interests.

March 2 is the date of presentation of the play in Corvallis. Mrs. Celia Andrews, the director, and Mrs. Cora True, the prompter, will accompany the cast north. The players are: Delia Inlow, Floyd Carter, Ada Andrews, Mrs. Wade Wallis, Walter Longstreth and Edwin Dunn. The play is entitled "The Dear Departed."

The cast completed Saturday night in the finals of the rural dramatization contest here with the Jacksonville Grange and the Eugene Point Grange. The former presented "Ambition," by Katherine Kavanaugh, and the latter "Miss Maria," by Margaret Deland. The three plays were very well directed and presented, "The Dear Departed" winning by a small margin over the other two. Interest in the contest was also higher this year than formerly and the audience which attended the finals at the Junior high school Saturday night, was enthusiastic in appreciation of the work accomplished in the rural districts.

TURKEY GROWERS ORGANIZE CO-OP

A turkey growers' cooperative was organized here Saturday at the meeting of the Chamber of Commerce, called by J. C. Leedy, manager of the Oregon Turkey Growers association. The meeting followed a preliminary one held at Eagle Point the previous night, and was presided over by Ross Kilne, grower from that section.

A. H. Banwell, manager of the Chamber of Commerce, opened the meeting, and W. S. Bolger, president of the Chamber of Commerce, explained the agricultural program of that organization.

The local cooperative will be a branch of the Oregon Turkey Producers and of the Northwest Turkey Growers.
