Catholic Students Brand Riveras Art As Blasphemous

DETROIT, Feb. 26.—(UP)—Murals of Diego Rivera in the Detroit Institute of Art were branded as "blasphemous against religious ideals" and an "affront to patriotic ideals" in a resolution adopted today by 800 Catholic students demanding removal or alteration of the paintings.

The resolution was directed as a protest to the art commission and the Detroit common council, asserting the students would remain away from the institute until their demands are met.

'FREE LUNCH' IN CHAMBER WINDOW

Four very appetizing products are included in the exhibit at the chamber of commerce today, which is guaranteed to make a lot of mouths water. Arranged by Mr. Quast, manager of the Central Point cheese factory, the Rogue Valley cheese is given a place of honor. And with it are shown its best companions, beer and rye bread.

The former is from the new local brewery, Pilsener, and the latter from Fluhrer's bakery. The fourth product, which is not edible but looks tempting enough to be, is a photograph by Verne Shangle of one big cheese, ready for cutting. It is an example of splendid still life work.

If you have not already made an inventory of your business and will soon, remember the Commercial Printing Department of the Mail Tribune, 28-30 No. Grape, carry inventory blanks. Phone 75 and we will deliver the blanks to your place of business.

Phone 542. We will haul away your refuse. City Sanitary Service.

NEEDY STUDENTS MAY RECEIVE FEDERAL AID CHANCELLOR IS TOLD

EUGENE, Ore.—Federal relief funds are expected to be made available to employ needy students at higher educational institutions in Oregon, it was announced here by W. J. Kerr, chancellor of higher education, who has received wires from both Senator Charles L. McNary and Senator Frederick Steiwer stating that there is reasonable assurance that the plan would be put into effect.

Although official details of the proposal have not been received, it is understood that from $5,000,000 to $7,000,000 of federal relief funds will be made available and will be apportioned to the various states. Part of the fund, it is understood, will be used to employ needy students already at the institutions, and part to give employment to those not now enrolled.

The plan is said to call for a maximum of 30 hours of employment a week at about 30 cents an hour. Just what Oregon's allotment will be is not known.

First information of the plan as proposed by the federal bureau of education was received in a wire from William A. Schoenfeld, dean of agriculture at Oregon State college, who was in Washington on experiment station and other agricultural business for Oregon. While there he also worked on the relief project for needy students.

BRITISH FASCISTS MOVING TOWARD VIOLENCE IS FEAR

LONDON, Feb. 26.—(UP)—Violence in certain uniformed political movements growing in Great Britain was predicted by Sir John Simon, foreign secretary, in a speech at Glasgow last night.

He attacked "people who express their political ideas by the color of their shirts," but refrained from direct reference to the newly-formed Fascist "blackshirt" movement in Britain, led by Sir Oswald Mosley.

Sir John's attack was regarded as significant, coming on the heels of statements by other members of the government in the house of commons recently, expressing similar concern. Two months ago, the Fascists were ignored by both the press and the government.

Gradually the public is awakening to the Fascists and their dawn military drills.

While most of London sleeps, members of Mosley's British Union of Fascists hop out of their bunks to the scream of a siren at 6:30 each morning, and like soldiers muster in the courtyard to answer roll-call.

Shivering in their shirtsleeves in the semi-darkness of dawn, the men answer to their names in military fashion with eyes right, just as though they were in the army. After roll-call, in answer to sharp military-like commands of a Fascist officer, they file out of the yard into the streets of London in military formation, double file, quick march. Once in the street, to the command "double time," the men run to Battersea park, one mile from headquarters.

In the park they halt opposite an open space, a few yards from the Thames river embankment. Their foreheads are covered with beads of perspiration. Icy river winds soon dry them. Snappy "setting up" exercises quickly restore circulation.

Judging from the type of exercises performed, the blackshirts should be well equipped to live up to their names, defense units.

As in the army, among those who are exempt from morning drill are guards. Headquarters of the British Union of Fascists is as guarded as is an armory in war time. The men do two hours on and four hours off, 24 hours of the day. There is an officer of the guard on duty night and day.

Also similar to army organization is the F. P. (Fascist Police). Like the "M. P." of war time in most armies, the "F. P." is charged with keeping order among the ranks of Fascism.
