JUDGE H. D. NORTON DECLARES INTENT SEEK NOMINATION

Harry D. Norton, circuit judge of the district comprising Jackson and Josephine counties, late yesterday mailed his declaration of intention to seek the nomination at the primaries, May 18. Filings for circuit judge are made with the secretary of state at Salem.

Judge Norton's decision to enter the primary came with the return of his health, slightly impaired last winter by a severe cold and a minor dental operation, which kept him from the bench for several weeks, and at the request of friends in Jackson and Josephine counties.

Judge Norton has occupied the Jackson-Josephine counties bench since 1928, with signal honors. Known as a keen student of the law, and one of the hardest working jurists in the state, he has had no reversals of his opinions in the high court.

In the Pebl-Banks agitation against constituted authority in this county, Judge Norton was made the target of vicious and vituperative attacks, and many affidavits of prejudice were filed against him when the turmoil breeders were haled into court.

On his election to the judicial post in 1928, he moved to this city, and built a home here.

Prings for the primary in Jackson county to date are: For county judge—Earl B. Day, (Rep.), incumbent; Eclia Fehl, (Rep.), and H. D. Reed, (Dem.) Gold Hill.

For sheriff—Walter J. Olscheld, (Rep.), incumbent; Claius McCredie, (Rep.), and Robert E. Bell, (Dem.) For county commissioner—R. E. Nealon, (Rep.), incumbent; Table Rock.

NICHOLS LEGACIES ARE ORDERED PAID

An order to pay the legacies in the estate of the late Gus Nichols, pioneer resident and stockman of the Eagle Point district, was filed yesterday in probate court upon the showing that the estate was intact, and all debts had been paid.

The order provides that $5000, in California Oregon Power company stock, be paid to Mrs. Elva Nichols, as guardian of two minor children and widow of T. L. Nichols, son of Gus Nichols.

The same amount of California Oregon Power company stock is also ordered paid to Mrs. Ruth L. Natwick, daughter, and $4000 California Oregon Power company stock to Mrs. Alice Nichols as residue legatee of the estate.

CURTAIN RINGS UP ON OPERA MIKADO AT HIGH TONIGHT

When the curtain rings up on the Mikado at 8 o'clock tonight, there will await those who are fortunate enough to be in the audience, a scene of unsurpassed beauty coupled with fitting melodies which long will be remembered.

The production will be a testimonial to the talent, direction and untiring efforts of Miss Harriet Baldwin, director of the high school glee club. Miss Baldwin came to Oregon originally from Milwaukee, Wis., where she received her early musical training, prior to entering the musical instruction field, Miss Baldwin was assistant to Anne Landisbeck Beck, of the University of Oregon school of music, and also was assistant to Jane Thatcher, instructor in piano at the university.

In preparation for her present work, Miss Baldwin was graduated from the university school of music, where she majored in musical science and piano.

Prior to coming to Medford, the talented director of the Mikado taught for one year in Klamath Falls. For the last three years, she has not only directed the senior high glee clubs in a diversified program of musical activities, but also has served as supervisor of music in all schools of the city.

The "Mikado" will be the third in the series of Gilbert and Sullivan comic operas produced under the directorship of Miss Baldwin. Last year "H. M. S. Pinafore" was produced, and "The Pirates of Penzance" the year before. Throughout the presentation of the "Mikado," the audience will not only be charmed by the excellent harmony produced in the chorus numbers, but will more fully appreciate the invaluable training, which the members of the cast have received educationally and culturally.

Another member of the directorial staff, whose efforts will contribute greatly to the success of the production, is Miss Carin Degermark. In all productions of this type, the complicated dance routines and evolutions of the choruses add much to the enjoyment by the audience. Miss Degermark, who has trained the chorus in the phase of the work, has been a member of Medford high school faculty for three years. During this period she has taught girls physical education, biology, and English.

Members of the audience will be agreeably surprised at the precision and expertise with which the choruses execute the complicated fan gestures and dance steps which are

The third phase of the operetta, the speaking parts, have been coached by Miss Doris Baier who has gained an outstanding reputation in the field of dramatics. The subtle humor and diversified dialogues of the opera have been carefully developed under her supervision.

The opera will be repeated Wednesday evening.

HAM AND WHISKEY LAND FOUR IN JUG

Ham and whiskey don't mix, at least not very well in a trade, particularly when the hams are allegedly stolen—such is the story behind the occupancy of the county jail this week by four Talent residents.

Fred Cromling and Wm. D. Burdette of the United States transient camp at Talent are charged with petty larceny for allegedly stealing two Rogue River hams. Mrs. Pearl Foster and Wm. L. Harris, also of Talent, are charged with receiving the allegedly stolen property in exchange for "moonshine whiskey." They are also hoarding at the county jail this week.

The arrests were made by state police. Cromling and Burdette, appearing in justice court, were sentenced to serve 30 days in the county jail and required to pay court costs of $4.50.

Mrs. Foster waived preliminary hearing and was bound over to the grand jury with bail set at $250. She was then committed to the county jail in lieu of bail.

Harris was bound over to the grand jury with bail set at $500, and also committed to the county jail in lieu of same.
