FROM SPORTS TO SHORTS ON FLORIDA SOCIETY FRONT

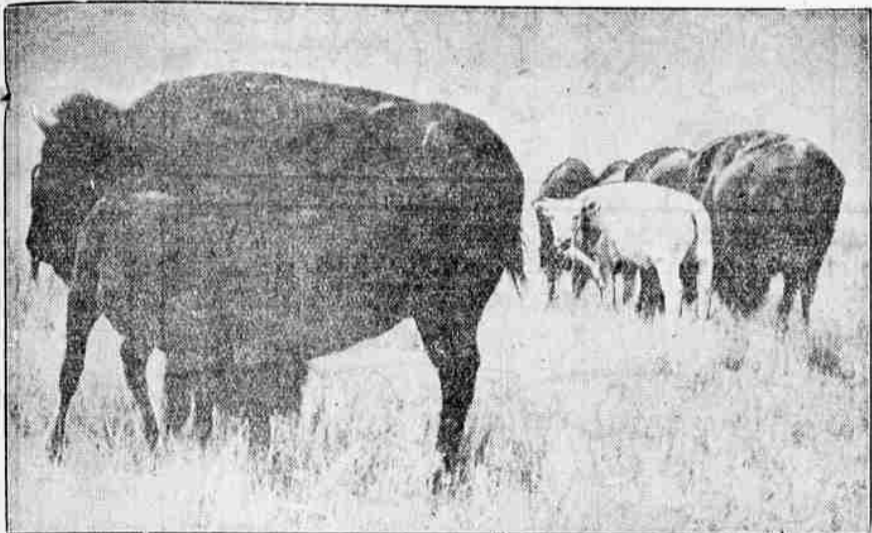

Many and varied are the costumes of socially prominent young women wintering at Florida resorts. Jean Bauer (left) of Providence, R. I., is devoting much of her time to golf at Coral Gables, wearing the latest in sports garb. Mrs. Stewart Preece (center) of Westbury, N. Y., pictured during a stroll at Palm Beach, wears a brilliant plaid dress under a four-button white jacket. A sweater and shorts make up the tennis costume of Adelaide Moffet (right) of New York. LARGEST VINE STILL PRODUCES

This giant grapevine, spreading over more than an acre, is believed to be the oldest in the country. It was brought from Spain by Mission priests in 1771 and planted in San Gabriel, Cal. The vine produces a ton of grapes annually, enough, it is said, to make about 150 gallons of wine. Lita Cortez stands in the shade of the large trunk. (Associated Press Photo)

JEALOUS MOTHER GUARDS RARE WHITE BISON

The white baby in the photograph is declared by the U. S. biological survey to be the only albino buffalo in the world. It is seen with its mother and others of the 450 bison herd maintained by the survey in the Mission range near Missoula, Mont. The calf is a biological freak seldom encountered by scientists. The mother is reported to be jealous of her offspring. (Associated Press Photo)

DRIVER ESCAPES IN THRILL SPILL

Two spectacular pictures of Chet Gardner, Long Beach, Cal., turning over in his racing car on the thirteenth lap of a race at Los Angeles. Gardner suffered a slightly injured shoulder and facial cuts while John Roe, his mechanic, received a fractured pelvic bone. Top: the start of the spill as a tire blew out. Lower: A spectator at the side of the injured driver with the wrecked car in the background. (Associated Press Photos)

VICTIMS OF POLITICAL STRIFE IN AUSTRIA

As Austrian socialists fought sullenly against government forces in an apparently lost cause, the toll of the civil war that has raged in many parts of the country continued to mount. Women joined their socialist husbands in the fighting. Above are shown fascists wounded in a previous political disorder. The socialists fear a fascist government. (Associated Press Photo)
