Speedy Quint From North Takes Deciding Game by Fast Breaking Offense—Troy Misses Gift Shots

By PAUL ZIMMERMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer.

LOS ANGELES, March 13.—(AP)—Washington's huskies munched back to the northwest today with the Pacific coast conference basketball championship in tow.

The speedy, sharp-shooting quint from the north country won the title before 3000 cheering spectators last night when they defeated Southern California, 34 to 30, in the deciding game of the most hotly contested series in recent years.

Troy took the first game, 27 to 25, and then dropped the second, 41 to 42 in a wild overtime contest. It was the second consecutive season a team from the northern division subdued Coach Justin (Sam) Barry's five. Oregon State turned the trick in 1933.

Troy Misses Gift Shots.

A fast-breaking offense which swept through Southern California's sturdy defense, plus the inability of the Trojans to cash in on their gift shots gave the huskies their second championship. Washington won in 1931.

Coach Clarence (Hee) Edmondson's marksmen started with a rush, lagged a bit during the middle of the contest and then finished with a rush that had the Trojans staggering with exhaustion, although they had held a half-time lead of 16 to 9.

The Huskies chalked up six points before Troy could get started.

In the final moments Southern California missed half a dozen free throws, which might have turned the tide, and failed to cash in on 15 during the contest.

Cuttero of the Trojans was able to run up nine points for a grand total of 45 for the series and take individual point honors. Galer was second with 28.

It was the fourth time a team from the northern division won the championship.

ANGLERS DISAGREE ON SALMON CATCH

Conflicting reports were made here today on the salmon fishing at Savage Rapids and other sections of the Rogue. One angler announced that there were three salmon caught near the rapids Sunday morning, and another, who was out in his own boat, insisted that there was not one taken.

He listed the total for the season to date at five fish—three caught at Grants Pass, one at Gold Ray and one at Savage Rapids.

As a result Dr. R. C. Mulholland, who had his reel all oiled up for action, isn't going to go fishing soon, he announced this afternoon.

CHINESE MATMAN PINS KEN HOLLIS

PORTLAND, Ore., March 13.—(AP)—Flying tackles and speedy follow-ups brought Walter Achin, 180, Dayton, Ohio, two out of three falls from Ken Hollis, 168, New Orleans, here last night.

A one-hour draw was wrestled by Red Lyons, 174, Joplin, Mo., and Cowboy Dude Chick, 175, Cheyenne, each took a fall.

The odd fall was won by Art Perkins, 157, Detroit, over Joe Kirk, 158, Boston. Logger Helbert, 160, St. Helena, wrestled a 30-minute draw with Cowboy He'lan, 169, Burns.

City League

While Pruitt's bowling machine boogied down after taking the first game from the Mail Tribune in their City League match at the last night and the Typos chalked up a two out of three win, Al Hagen of the Tribune missed the 600 mark by one pin.

WOMEN'S OPEN IN BRITAIN TO ATTRACT STARS

Famous Royal Porthcawl Golf Course Will Be Site of Major International Event May 11 to 12

By HARRY L. PERCY
United Press Staff Correspondent

LONDON.—(UP)—There are indications already that the British women's open golf championship will be one of the major international golfing events of the year.

The tournament is to be played over the Royal Porthcawl course, North Wales, from May 11 to 17. It thus clashes with the Walker cup match between the United States and Britain, at St. Andrews, Scotland, May 11 and 12.

Chief interest, however, will not be centered at the home of golf, for, according to early reports, Mrs. Glenna Collet Vare and Virginia Van Wie, among other Americans, will be playing at Porthcawl.

Mrs. Van Wie, the reigning American champion, has more than an ordinary chance of winning the title, and it will be even more certain that Miss Enid Wilson, the British champion, adheres to her present intention of not participating.

Mrs. Vare is an old victor to British courses. Many times has she tried to win the only championship that has not yet gone to the United States. Nearly every time she has fallen victim to Joyce Wethered, ex-champion, now retired from competitive golf, and described as the greatest woman player of all time. Never has Mrs. Vare beaten Miss Wethered in a single match. The last time they met was in the Curtis cup match in England in 1932.

Among other entrants, reported now, is Susie Tolhurst, the Australian champion. Few will forget how she beat Miss Van Wie at the 19th hole in the second round of the 1932

CCC BASEBALL STAR GIVEN TRY-OUT WITH SAN FRAN MISSIONS

On leave from the CCC, without pay, pending his "making good" with the San Francisco Missions of the Pacific Coast baseball league, John E. Rohr of the South Fork of the Rogue camp will probably not find it necessary to re-enroll, if reports from the training camp at Woodland, Cal., have anything to do with the case.

For Charles ("Gobby") Street, new manager of the Missions, has said: "Write that big fellow's name in your future book." Rohr, who is 25, came to Oregon with the CCC from Manteno, Ill. He is 6 foot 2 3/4 inches tall, weighing 216 pounds.

Through the excellent pitching by Rohr, the Lake of the Woods camp baseball team was successful in winning the district pennant last summer and, according to CCC headquarters, scouts from coast teams were here to observe some of the games.

Rohr's chances at joining the league, however, flickered this winter, when he was nearly blinded by a delayed powder explosion at the South Fork camp, where he was working. For several days it was not known if his eyes would be affected by the severe burns. However, recovery was complete and Rohr is now in Woodland at the training camp.
