

FRISBIE, GRIMES WRESTLE DRAW IN HOUR'S EVENT

Rocky Brooks, Canadian strong man, refused to accept referee Swede Anderson's offer to disqualify Charlie Hansen, Seattle heavyweight, and a minute later had his shoulders pinned to the mat to lose in straight falls in the last half of Mack Lillard's dual main event wrestling card at the Armory last night. Ray Frisbie, Medford fireman, and Les Grimes, Australian heavyweight, battled to a draw, neither man getting a fall during the one-hour time limit in the first half of the bill. The wrestlers tossed a coin for places on the card. Hansen won and elected to appear in the top spot.

Hansen, and his bag of dirty tricks, were too much for Brooks' youth and strength. While Brooks repeatedly broke holds by sheer strength, he could not stand up under the mauling of the Seattle grappler. Hansen simply knocked Rocky hovelegged and fell on him to take the first fall with a body press. Brooks came back for the second fall and clamped on a series of headlocks that had Hansen worried, but a strangle hold ended the rally and left Brooks gasping for breath. Referee Anderson offered to award him the match, but Brooks refused and tore into Hansen only to have his abdomen probed with Hansen's knee and go down under another body press.

Les Weiss was pressed into service to referee the Frisbie-Grimes match, when Grimes objected to Anderson, on the grounds that the Swede and Frisbie were pals, and he was afraid he wouldn't get a square deal. The Australian later resented Weiss' warning for roughness and carried the matter to the mat with a wrist lock. Weiss wiggled loose and was tugging away at a hammerlock when Frisbie took the pugnaeous Grimes off his hands. The match was an even-up affair, with both men crawling out of some tight spots. At one point Frisbie caught Grimes with a rolling scissors but couldn't quite make the kill. Grimes retallated with a Boston crab that made Ray crawl for the ropes. Like Hansen, Grimes has plenty of tricks in his repertoire, and brought out some of them in an effort to get a fall, but Frisbie came right back with some of his own brand of roughness and on one occasion had the colorful Australian draped over the ropes, as limp as Monday's wash.

Les Wolfe, popular Texan, issued a challenge to the winner of the Hansen-Brooks match of any other heavyweight. Grimes also issued a challenge to Hansen. He climbed into the ring at the end of the final match and took exception to Hansen's tactics. He averred that Charles was no gentleman and indicated that he (Grimes) would like nothing better than to give Mr. Hansen a lesson in mat etiquette—such as gouging, kneeling, biting, slugging and the proper way to apply a strangle hold.

CARNERA - BAER TITLE GO IN THE BAG FOR JUNE 14

By Herbert W. Baker (Associated Press Sports Writer)
NEW YORK, March 16.—(AP)—Unless a last-minute hitch develops, Primo Carnera will defend his heavyweight championship against Max Baer here June 14.

Setting up a new 11-time record for pugilistic conferences, representatives of Carnera, Baer and Madison Square Garden finally have reached an agreement on terms for the match which will be held in the Garden's outdoor bowl on Long Island.

Arnold Hoffman, representing the challenger, put his signature to the contract late last night. Louis Sorelo, Primo's manager, will follow suit shortly, the Garden announced.

Roughly the conditions of the agreement were understood to be:

1. Hoffman dropped his demand that Jack Dempsey be made co-promoter of the match.

2. In return, the Garden agreed to give Baer more than the customary challenger's share of 12 1/2 per cent of the receipts, probably 20 per cent out of that. Baer will be able to "cut in" Dempsey himself.

3. Baer agreed to the Garden's demand that in the event he whips Carnera, he defend the title once under the Garden's promotion.

4. The Garden, however, agreed that Baer will be allowed to select the date for a title defense and to have a hand in naming his opponent. This would give the Californian a chance to fight twice this summer and then return to Dempsey's promotional banner. It was Dempsey who promoted Baer's bout with Max Schmeling last summer when Baer knocked out the Teuton in ten rounds.

Household Hints

Beautiful silverware is the dream of every homemaker and the plainest and most inexpensive knives, forks and spoons are attractive when they are well polished. Here is a quick way to keep them gleaming.

Just take an aluminum pan, partly fill it with boiling water. Put in two or three tablespoons of White King Granulated Soap. Drop the silverware in the suds—let it stay for a few minutes and presto! stain and tarnish vanish. Rinse in hot water, dry with a soft cloth and then see how the silverware sparkles and gleams.

Greasy film has broken many an expensive dish!

Perhaps you didn't know it but this film is caused by using ordinary bar and package soaps which do not rinse away freely. White King Granulated Soap leaves absolutely no greasy residue on dishes as it contains only the purest vegetable oils. Dishes are washed sparkling clean and how they glisten!

Always put White King Granulated in the dishwasher dry, then add sufficient hot water to dissolve. When the tiny granules are completely dissolved, the required amount of water for temperature desired.

Artificial silk has come into its own as rayon, celanese, and other favored weaves. It is not only rich and lustrous in appearance, but has the added feature of wearing and washing exceptionally well. Artificial silk, however, cannot be washed "any old way."

The best method I have found to successfully wash artificial silk is to make a suds of one teaspoonful of White King Granulated Soap to a basin of water, use slightly more soap if water is extremely hard.

The water should be hot for making suds, then additional cool water added to cool to lukewarm. Squeeze suds through the fabric, then rinse thoroughly in water the same temperature as that used for washing. Roll in a towel to absorb drip, but do not wring or twist. Press at once. It is always a good idea to have a thin, dry cloth between fabric and iron.

NATION'S SERVICE LEGION'S SOLE AIM SAYS GEN. WHITE

PORTLAND, Ore., March 16.—(AP)—Service to the nation, the state and the community, was described by Major General George Ared White as "the sole great purpose and mission" of the American Legion, in an address he made here last night at the celebration of the 15th anniversary of the organization of the Legion.

General White, one of the four founders of the American Legion in Paris in 1919, officer in command of the national guard in this area, pointed out that "the men who served at Antietam, in the Wilderness, and at Gettysburg, saved our country from division and possible dissolution."

"Yet how small a service was that," he continued, "compared with the service they performed in the years that followed."

"The Grand Army of the Republic is forming now for its last muster. Inevitably, as human life goes, the American Legion, the ex-service men of today, will come one day to their own last muster, and when that day comes the record of the American Legion can be written in one word—the word 'service'."

General White blamed "unscrupulous politicians" for connecting the word "bonus" with the Legion, instead of the word "service." He denounced those who have "used" the Legion for their "own selfish ends," and who thus have brought criticism upon the ex-service men.

"As to the unpaid bonus," he continued, "let the reaction from that be what it should in the popular mind. Not American Legion—not city and county. But unscrupulous, double-dealing politicians. That is the force that has kept the issue alive all these long years, not those who have opposed it openly and honestly, but those who have fanned the fires with the breath of selfish insincerity."

351 PROUD DOGS BOAST LICENSES

Dog licenses issued to date by the county clerk total 351. A mild rush followed the warning notice of the city and county that dog licenses must be paid. Most of the licenses issued to date have been for dogs owned by city people. Fifty have been issued for Ashland dogs, about 200 for Medford dogs, and the balance for Jacksonville, Gold Hill, Eagle Point, Talent, and Phoenix.

The names of dogs are listed on the license and are of a wide variety. Paul Scherer has a dog named "Pelix." Mrs. Bert Anderson, one named "Philadelphia Boy." The name of "Rover"—a traditional name for dogs—appears but once so far, and it belongs to C. C. Furnas of this city.

It is estimated there are close to 2000 dogs in the county. Phone 542. We will haul away your refuse. City Sanitary Service.
