

Ski Jumpers Thrill Huge Crowd at Crater Lake Snow Carnival

HVAM WINS FIRST PLACE IN CLASS A JUMPING CONTEST

Soft Snow Curtails Distance — Amoth First in B Division — Skjersaa Wins Feature Race of Six Miles

Development of southern Oregon as a winter sports center of the Pacific coast is seen in the success of the second annual Crater Lake winter sports carnival yesterday at Government Camp, where over 3000 people witnessed a thrilling program of ski jumping and racing. Entrants in the different events represented Washington, California and Oregon, presenting the first program of its kind ever held in this section.

Hjalmar Hvam, of the Cascade Ski club and winner of national titles, placed first in the class A jumping contest, scoring 224.8 points, judged on distance and form. Arnt Oftstad of the Spokane Ski club was second with 219 points, while John Elvrum, present holder of the national amateur title, took third place with 215.8, closely followed by Robert Hvam, Olaf Skjersaa of Spokane and O. Gustafsson of the Cascade Ski club.

Soft Snow Cuts Leaps
Although the Crater Lake ski hill has possibilities of long leaps, distances yesterday were not great due to soft snow conditions. Oftstad made the longest jump of the day with 111 feet. Hvam next longest with 108, while Elvrum made 107.

One Amoth of the Bend Skyliners was awarded first place in the B division with 212.2 points, followed by Larry Evanson, Mt. Shasta Snowmen with 195.8 and J. E. Carlberg, Mt. Shasta, 184.9. The B contestants used a different take-off than entrants in the A division and made shorter jumps.

The jump as considered on a steep slope, received the approval of the contestants and of Fred McNeil, president of the Northwest Ski association and the Cascade Ski club. McNeil declared the jump can be developed into one of the best in the northwest and was particularly impressed by the flat at the base of the jump. He predicted that a great future awaits winter sports at Crater Lake and sees the day when jumpers from distant parts will enter national championship tournaments there. McNeil made a number of suggestions in regard to improvements that can be made in the development of the hill. The interest shown by southern Oregon and northern California snow sports fans in the event was an interesting revelation to him.

Skjersaa Wins Race

The feature race of the day, a six-mile class A race, was won by Nels Skjersaa of the Bend Skyliners, who covered the course in 40 minutes and 50 seconds. Second place went to Arvid Iverson of Bend in 41 minutes, 43 seconds, while John Ring of Spokane took third in 42 minutes, 20 seconds. Pete Hedberg of the Crater Lake Ski club, who won the 32-mile race from Port Klamath to Crater Lake and return, was favored to take the six-mile event, but finished fourth in 44 minutes, 7 seconds. O. K. Puckett, also a winner in the 32-mile race, finished fifth in 44 minutes, 18 seconds. Puckett, who had a national championship in 1932 by one minute.

A Klamath Falls boy, Frank Drew, took first in the class B grind of four miles, in 25 minutes, 22 seconds. T. A. Berglund of the Cascade Ski club finished second in 29 minutes, 40 seconds. Berglund is one of the most consistent winners on the coast. Deibert Denton, formerly of Medford, earned third place honors for the Crater Lake Ski club. His time was 31 minutes, 19 seconds.

Women Race One Mile

Gurli Gustafsson of the Cascade club came over the finish line in nine minutes in the women's race of one mile, followed by Vinnie and Ida. Berntson of Port Klamath. Wilbur Pennington of Port Klamath defeated a large field in the high schools boys' race, covering a mile in 12 minutes. A grade school race was taken by W. Evans of Klamath in 7 minutes, 18 seconds.

Northern California was well represented at yesterday's program by the Mount Shasta Snowmen, headed by John W. Schuler, president. This club has always taken an active interest in southern Oregon snow sports and its cooperation has played an important part in the success of past snow events in the Crater Lake area. Probably one of the youngest ski-jumpers in the country, Gerald Wetzel, 11 years old, was with the group and was anxious to take part in the C class jump, which was not held. Wetzel is regarded as having a great future.

The Mt. Shasta group include Sigurd Ulland, professional ski jumper of national note. He did not jump yesterday, however. Other members of the party included Robert Hvam, Jamie Carlberg, Erving Carlberg, Leslie Weris, William Glenn, Marjesta Gunlock, Larry Evanson, Pirk Lambert, Gerald Wetzel, Pete Peterson and Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Durst.

Caveman Jumps

Grants Pass was represented yesterday by a Caveman ski jumper. A jumper, togged in the traditional skins, made a long leap so attired probably the first Caveman jump on record. Quite a number of spectators were present from Josephine county. Prizes for the winners in the different events were awarded at a banquet in Port Klamath last night by Alfred Castel, president of the Crater Lake Ski club, and Glen Fabrick, president of the Rogue Snowmen. These two clubs and the Bend Skyliners, cooperating with the chambers of commerce of Medford and Klamath county, made the ski carnival possible, leading the way to similar events in the future.

WRESTLING BILL ANNOUNCED FOR NEXT THURSDAY

Charlie Hansen, big and rough wrestler from Seattle, will have a playmate just as big and twice as rough when he meets Bob Stone of Chicago here next Thursday in a one-hour match as half of the double-main-event announced yesterday by Promoter Mack Lillard. Les Wolfe, the popular Texan, will face the veteran Al Karasick of Portland, in the other half of the card.

Hansen has pinned all comers in his previous encounters here and has been so ruthless in his tactics that local fans will welcome the word that he has been matched with someone that can give him a run for his money. The Seattle bionic crusher tips the scales around 210 and Stone is only slightly under that weight.

In matching Karasick and Wolfe, the local promoter will present a pair of past masters in the ungulate art. Wolfe uses a rolling leg scissors to reduce opponents to helplessness while Karasick, known as the "Russian Lion," has a bag full of weapons, chief of which is a devastating reverse headlock.

This week's show will again open with a pair of "kid" wrestlers, according to Lillard who also announced that the opening gong would sound at 8:30.

GALLANT SIR IS CALIENTE WINNER

AGUA CALIENTE, Mexico, March 19.—(AP)—Gallant Sir held the honor of becoming the first two-time winner of the Agua Caliente handicap today, but the plaudits went to the temperamental stallion's young stable mate, Riskulus.

The big black son of Sir Galahad III staged a strong stretch run in the week's leading money classic here yesterday to come home in front of Riskulus by a head in two minutes, 2 1/4 seconds.

The pair completely outclassed the field, with Pari-Mutuel, the public's second choice to the entry, finishing third, five lengths in the ruck. Victory gave Gallant Sir $29,000, boosting his total earnings to $114,800. He paid $2.80 to win, and $3.20 for place and show in the pari-mutuels. Riskulus' share of the stake was $2,500, paying the same show and place prize.

BRITISH GOLFERS MUDDLED BY NEW SCORING SYSTEM

LONDON.—(UP)—The new method of standard scratch scoring introduced in 1933, has put British golf in a complete muddle.

The effect of the new method was to eliminate "bogey," put all players on a par basis, and make five holes into fours. This, of course, necessitated reformation in most of the British courses, while many players, who have been rated at scratch, now receive one or two strokes, and some players who have owed strokes find they are now at scratch.

The result has been a loud protest. Handicapping here has been based on bogey, and bogey is only second best. Take a hole of 450 yards. The bogey is five and anyone worth considering as a player can get a five. To a real scratch player it is a four hole—it is par four.

In the United States a player describes his form by saying he can shoot two above par, or six, or nine above par. He always is aiming at perfection—the par figure for each hole. In this country golfers aim at bogey, and often there is a difference, varying from two to five strokes, between the par and the bogey totals of a course.

COMING PRIMARY WILL SEE LARGE CROWD AT POLLS

SALEM, Ore. (UP)—Political activity of the last few days indicates one of the largest votes ever cast in a primary election will be recorded May 18.

Voters will signify their choice for candidates seeking more than 100 state and federal offices. Five proposed constitutional amendments and measures will be accepted or rejected.

At present there are approximately 480,000 registered voters in Oregon, according to David O'Hara, legal advisor to the secretary of state. Of this number probably 440,000 are qualified.

At the last general election 377,923 votes were cast. The special election of last July which saw the sales tax defeated by a majority of four to one brought 227,852 voters to the polls.

Voting figures for the last general election show 134,512 votes were cast in Multnomah county, more than one third of the state's total.

Lane county cast the second largest number, 53,004. Marion county with 22,604 was third and Clackamas fourth with 19,031.

These votes show the necessity of successful candidates to carry substantial majorities in the Willamette valley. Supporters of Carl Abrams, republican candidate for secretary of state, count this factor as one of the strongest in favor of their candidate, who lives at Salem and is well known throughout the valley from Eugene to Portland.

Lightest vote cast in 1932 was that of Jefferson county, 794.
