... Now when the even was come, he sat down with the twelve... and as they were eating, Jesus took bread, and blessed it, and broke it, and gave it to the disciples, and said, take eat; this is my body. And he took the cup, and gave thanks, and gave it to them, saying, Drink ye all of it... So transpired the last supper, of Jesus and his disciples. And though he knew the one among them had betrayed him, he raised not his voice in wrath; but in prayer to God. The power of his faith has changed the entire history of the world. The message in his teachings, ever though torn and distorted, remains everlasting. Not alone as a symbol of the miracle of his birth nor of his resurrection—but purely as the greatest expression of faith ever to be known. That faith, hope and heartfelt good will toward all must forever be an inspiration to mankind; and eventually lead the weak to become strong, the evil to become virtuous, the tortured to know peace. Today, Easter Sunday, we can only echo the song which he left ever in our heart and soul. Praised be his name...
