State police arrested Chandler here, and he was fined $5 in justice court here for operating the car without a license. Unable to pay the fine or buy a license, Chandler's sentence was suspended. When he got to Grants Pass, another state police officer arrested him, and he was ordered to purchase a license for his car not later than April 10.

AWARDS MADE IN COURT OF HONOR FOR BOY SCOUTS

Monthly court of honor of the Boy Scouts was held last night at the Jackson county court house auditorium. Seven Scouts received nine awards.

The newly organized board of review met prior to the court of honor and reviewed the Scouts in their work. L. D. Jones is the chairman of this committee, which consists of Dr. C. H. Paske, Dr. F. G. Bunch, S. M. Bullis, A. O. Eden and the Eagle Scouts, Raynor Guy, Bob Browne and Gerald Latham.

Scouts are examined in their advancement by the troop officers and other examiners. Often there are several examiners for the same subject. This necessitates a committee to check the advancement work in order that high standards are maintained.

Col. W. H. Paine acted as judge of the court of honor. The following awards were made:

Second Class Merit Badges: Troop No. 8, Medford; Earl Wieselock, first aid to animals, pathfinding; Troop No. 16, Medford, Willis V. Pratt, woodcarving, and Irwin Doty, personal health.

First Class Merit Badges: Troop No. 3, Medford, Bob Browne, first aid to animals; Troop No. 8, Medford, Bob Jones, scholarship and safety.

John Barrymore in Rialto Drama

John Barrymore has one of the strongest roles of his career in "Counsellor at Law," opening a three-day engagement at the Rialto theatre today.

Taken from the stage play of the same name by Elmer Rice, it brings to the screen a story which had a sensational run of two years on Broadway.

The story concerns a criminal in the life of an eminent lawyer in New York city. All three thrill-packed days in the attorney's office.

The pasts of varied characters are revealed. These characters, which include a murderer, a senator, and a chorus girl, have come to lay their troubles before the great counsellor. And, skillfully interwoven with their actions, is the story of the lawyer himself who, at the height of his career, faces dishonor and estrangement of his wife.

The outcome of these conflicts is the dramatic climax of the screen.

In the supporting cast are such well known players as Bebe Daniels and Doris Kenyon.

DEATH STALKING CHILDREN WHILE REMEDY SOUGHT

The children's plight has aroused sympathy throughout the county. A newspaper chain engaged a New York specialist to fly to Wilkes-Barre to give aid, but Dr. H. Alex Smith of the general hospital at Wilkes-Barre said the New Yorker was not given permission to examine the patient.

Scientists are working far into the night, measuring, filtering, scanning the results of exhaustive tests, to save the lives of the children. They still have hopes of checking the disease.

In some cases of leucocytemia, transfusions and X-ray treatments help. But, according to Dr. William Martens of Peckskill, Rona's disease is apparently not that type.

Willie Mae goes to a hospital every day for X-ray treatment. Her parents still have hope. The doctors say the overproduction of white corpuscles is continuing.

COUNTY BOURBONS SHY A CANDIDATE FOR SENATE RACE

For the first time in 30 years Democrats have shown enough life to file for precinct committee. Every precinct in the county will be represented this year.

Nick Brophy, widely known farmer, who considered running for county commissioner on the Republican ticket has relinquished the idea. L. O. Easter is the only Democrat seeking the place. It was reported an Ashland Democrat would file this afternoon.

Rapp a Candidate.

On the Republican side of the fence Fred Rapp, farmer of Nealon, filed Saturday against R. E. Nealon, incumbent of Sams Valley.

For the county judgeship, Henry Conger, Jacksonville district farmer, and Electa A. Fehl, wife of the imprisoned E. H. Fehl, have filed in opposition to County Judge Earl B. Vandy, appointed last August to fill the vacancy. H. D. (Johnny) Reed of Gold Hill, is the Democratic nominee.

The voters continue apathetic towards candidates, but interest is growing daily in the school relief sales tax measure. Women voters are active in support of the sales tax bill, and it promises to be the main issue in the campaign. Voters have started asking candidates how they stand on this measure.
